

Jennings Makes Defence Of Ranger Movement

By REN OLAN
NEW YORK (AP)—Bill Jennings, president of New York Rangers, presents a staunch defence of the National Hockey League club's youth movement and calls recent criticism of management's motives completely irresponsible.

The published criticism stems mainly from the trading of veteran Camille Henry to Chicago Black Hawks last month, less than a year after Andy Bathgate, another high scoring winger was dealt to Toronto Maple Leafs.

The Rangers have qualified for the Stanley Cup playoffs only once in the last seven seasons. Despite a fifth-place standing in the six-team circuit this season, they probably will finish only a few thousand short of last year's club attendance record. Home attendance through the first 30 games in Madison Square Garden in 1964-65 was 430,948—an average of 14,300.

ROD SEILING

"We're trying to build a contender with more youth, more size and more depth," says Jennings. "I personally made the decision that we had to trade several of our top stars after I realized that we were going no place. I had hoped that the Bathgate trade would do the trick, but when I felt it wouldn't we started working on the Henry deal."

SELLING PRAISED
For Bathgate, 32, and Don McKenzie, 30, another forward, the Rangers acquired defencemen Rod Seiling and Arnie Brown plus forwards Bob Nevin, Dick Duff and Bill Collins. Seiling, 20, Brown, 23, and Nevin, 26, are with the club now. Duff was traded to Montreal Canadiens for Billy Hicke, 26.

"There isn't a better prospect in the league right now than Seiling," boasted Emile Francis, the club's general manager. "An official of the Toronto club told me recently that they wouldn't have made the trade with us if they knew how good Seiling was going to turn out to be," disclosed Jennings, who took over the club presidency three years ago.

Bathgate, the Rangers' all-time scoring leader, has been a relative disappointment with the Maple Leafs this year, scoring 15 times in 46 games.

CLAIM 19 KILLED
RAWALPINDI (AP)—The Pakistan government said Friday 19 Indian troops were killed recently in clashes on the Kashmir cease fire line. A statement said the clashes took place Monday through Wednesday.

Henry, 32, was traded for forwards Doug Robinson, 24 and John Brenneman, 22, and defenceman Wayne Hillman, 26. Robinson had six goals and eight assists for 14 points in his first 14 games with New York. Henry had only two goals in 15 games for Chicago.

Francis, named general manager four months ago, cited the Rangers last previous youth movement in the early 1950s as one that led to Stanley Cup berths in 1956, 1957 and 1958.

"The Raangers brought up Bathgate, Henry, Harry Howell, Lou Fontinato and others," Francis recalled. "That youth movement paid off."

OLD PORT CIGARILLOS

A TREAT TO SMOKE—BY THE PEOPLE WHO MAKE OLD PORT CIGARS!

Some people think the Volkswagen 1500 is a big car. Some think it's a small car. And some think it's a compact.

Why?

It's a big car because it can carry seven children, a mother and eight smiles. Or it can hold five grown-ups sitting down.

It's a small car because it's three feet shorter than most station wagons.

And it's a compact because we don't waste a single inch of space.

How? Well, we start by hiding the engine away, deep down in the back. So you have a 5½-foot flat loading area.

And up under the front hood we put a trunk. Just like in our famous beetle-shaped sedan.

And then we added all the other advantages of our more familiar looking Volkswagens. Like better traction in mud and snow because our engine is in the rear with its weight over the drive wheels.

And lots of nothing. No radiator. No water to boil over. No hose to leak. No rust. No water pump. No anti-freeze.

And no big gas bills. The VW 1500 usually gets about 35 miles on a gallon.

Which is outstanding for a big car. Good for a small car. And excellent for a compact.

And that's about the size of it.
