NATAL DAY.

The Oddfellows of Summerside celebrated their 77th anniversary yesterday, assisted by a delegation of members of the Charlottetown brethren. At a quarter past two o'clock the procession headed by the Summerside band, left their hall on Water Street and proceeded to the Presbyterian church where the Rev. Mr. Dill delivered a very appropriate discourse from the words, "Take my yoke upon you." At the conclusion of the service the procession reformed, and after parading some of the principal streets of the town, returned to their hall. In the evening the Charlottetown Dramatic Club presented the drama, "Shamrock and Rose" to a large audience in the Market Hall. Between the acts Prof. Vinnicombe's orchestra rendered some very choice selections. After the entertainment all those who had a desire to tip the light fantastic wended their way to the social, held in the Oddfellows Hall, which was very prettily decorated for the occasion. Dancing was continued to an early hour, the music being furnished by Prof. Vinnicombe's orchestra. The special return to Charlottetown about 5 o'clock this morning.

ELECTRIC CARS ON SUNDAY.

The Members of the Legislature waited Upon Yesterday.

Yesterday afternoon a delegation from the different churches of the city addressed the members of the Provincial Legislature on the subject-matter of the clause in the Electric Company's bill respecting the running of cars on Sundays.

There was large attendance of spectators, and the proceedings were evidently of much interest to those present.

Rev. Mr. Gordon was the first speaker, and explained the object of the delegation. He said they were there to enter their solemn protest against the clause in the bill relating to the running of cars on Sunday, and to ask the Legislature to take such action in respect to the matter as would be in keeping with the moral sense of the community.

He asked the Leader of the Government if there was another charter in Canada with a similar clause in it to the one now before the House.

Rev. Mr. Sutherland said there was a vast difference between sanctioning and permitting.

Rev. Mr. Sutherland asked what the difference was?

Rev. Mr. Sutherland said it was lending the authority and endorsement of the Legislature and expressly yielding to what may be the inevitable.

Rev. Mr. Sutherland thought the definition a very good one.

Rev. Mr. Sutherland believed they spoke in the name of a large percentage not only of the people of Charlottetown, but of the country at large, and earnestly begged in the name of the churches either to eliminate the Sunday clause from the bill, or allow the bill to stand over for one year.

Either course would meet with the approval of the churches.

Rev. Mr. Simpson thought it was wrong to allow any one company or corporation privileges that were not accorded to other companies or corporations or to individuals. A sign or a glass of beer cannot now be sold on Sunday without breaking the law, yet this company is permitted to run its cars to make money on that day. He did not think that was justice.

Rev. Mr. Sutherland asked if the rev. gentleman would like to see livery stable keepers lined for hiring horses on Sundays?

Rev. Mr. Simpson said he would not. He sometimes had to hire horses on Sunday himself. But the law was there all the same.

Rev. Mr. Corey believed the insertion of the clause allowing cars to run on Sunday was against the sentiment of the Baptist constituency in this city and throughout the province. He believed that if he did not take a stand against the running of the cars on that day he would be charged with being recreant to his duty. He therefore supported the delegation.

Rev. Mr. Kirby said he felt that he voiced the opinion of his congregation in asking that the Sunday cars clause be eliminated from the bill. One violation of the law did not make another right. He regretted that there were so many violations of the Sabbath, and thought that nothing should be done that would have a tendency to add to these violations. Suppose we did not follow other cities in this matter, if it's along moral lines so much the better. Keep out of everything that will have a tendency to encourage violations of Sunday.
