

Images '88: A focus on Canadian Pride

When a city is selected and granted charter to host an Olympic Games, the country in which that city lies also rejoices in the enthusiasm the games bring.

Calgary is host to the XV Olympic Winter Games in February 1988, yet all Canadians will participate in a touring extravaganza unmatched in recent history.

The running spirit of the Olympic Torch Relay across Canada will bring with it a sense of national unity unsurpassed in spirit and personal pride.

The Gauntlet, the student newspaper of the University of Calgary, in association with The Gem, would like to extend to all Canadian students the opportunity to share in the spirit of the Olympic Torch relay.

Images '88: A Focus on Canadian Pride allows you this opportunity. For the contest, individuals may submit either a photo-essay consisting of at least three photos (black and white preferably) and a written essay of between 200-400 words OR an essay of between 1000-1500 words, detailing the significance of the relay to Canadians.

Submissions should be delivered to The Gem office. The Gem will select the ten best entries, publishing whichever one our judges deem best. All ten best submissions will then be forwarded to The Gauntlet who will choose the submissions from each province which best reflect the pride of Canada.

Prizes shall be awarded for the top five submissions from each province. The top prize consists of a commemorative Torch Relay jacket produced by Sun Ice Canada. Approximate value $190.00.

A complete list of secondary prizes and the complete contest rules and regulations will be available from The Gem office, Rm. 01 Utility building.

All contest entries must be received by The Gem by December 15th 1987. Entries may also be left at the SU office in the Barn.
