DR. AND MRS. JOHN McKIGGAN

Carol MacLean Is Wed In A Ceremony At Trinity United

On Saturday June 23rd at Trinity United Church in Summerside, Virginia Carol MacLean became the bride of Dr. John James McKiggan. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allison MacLean of Summerside and Dr. McKiggan is the son of Mrs. McKiggan of Halifax and the late Dr. John McKiggan of Cape Breton.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Cecil R. Webber. Mrs. Eric Sheen was organist and Mrs. Derek Hughes director for the junior girls choir which sang "The Lord's My Shepherd" before the ceremony and "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register.

The church was decorated with all white floral arrangements of shasta daisies, glads and emerald. Guest pews were marked with white bows and lily of the valley.

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore an original model gown of peau de laine, styled with delicately scalloped scoop neckline. The bodice featured a lavish applique of re-embroidered Alencon lace which appeared again on the short scalloped sleeves. The skirt fullness fell from unpressed pleats at each hip and extended into a full back with chapel train. Self bows were placed on the waistline and repeated up a cluster of pleats on lower right skirt. Her headdress was a silk rose on a pearl cap with a cloud of hand rolled French tulle illusion. She wore a strand of pearls, gift of the groom and carried an all white bouquet of gardenias, stephanotis, lily of the valley, and ivy.

Attending the bride were, as matron of honor, Mrs. William Schwartz, sister of the groom; maid of honor, Miss Judy MacLean, sister of the bride and as bride maid Miss Elizabeth Anderson, cousin of the bride. The ringbearer was Billie Schwartz, nephew of the groom. The bride's attendants were similarly gowned in white Swiss embroidered organdie over heavenly blue peau de sol made in redingote style with simple bodice and bouffant skirts. They wore headdresses and cummerbunds of heavenly blue peau de soie. Their cascade bouquets were of blue and white shasta daisies.

The groom was attended by Dr. Donald Nicholson of Halifax Ushers were Dr. Robert Young and Dr. Brian Chandler of Halifax and Mr. David Rodd and Mr. Kent MacLean, cousins of the bride.

Mrs. MacLean chose for her daughter's wedding a draped sheath gown of rosel silk shantug with white flower hat. She wore a white miniature carnations.

Mrs. McKiggan was gowned in a cocoa beige silk chiffon with lace berths. She wore a large picture hat of French roses in blending tones, a corsage of Orange Delight roses, and a mink stole.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The toast to the bride was proposed by Dr. C.M. Bethune of Halifax, to which the groom responded approximately. Miss Sandra Rodd was in charge of the guest book.

Serving at the reception were Mrs. Edwin Lewis, cousin of the bride, Miss Margorie Ireland, and Miss Mary Anne Lidstone of Summerside; Miss Barbara Clark of Shubenacadie and Miss Maureen Forbes of Bridgetown, N.S.

For travelling the bride wore a moonlight blue Italian wool suit with a Breton sailor of straw and fagoting matching her rose Beige accessories. Her corsage was of gardenias.

The bride is a graduate of Summerside High School and attended Mount Allison University. Dr. McKiggan is a graduate of Dalhousie university and Medical School.

Dr. and Mrs. McKiggan will be taking up residence in Boston where Dr. McKiggan will continue his post-graduate studies in internal medicine at Boston City Hospital.

Out of province guests included Mrs. John McKiggan, Mrs. William Schwartz and Master Billie Schwartz, Dr. C.M. Bethune, Dr. and Mrs. Donald Nicholson, Dr. Robert Young, Dr. Brian Chandler, Dr. and Mrs. Micheal Lyndon, all of Halifax, Dr. J.A. Rodd, Ottawa; Dr. Alden MacCulley, Amherst; N.S., Dr. Stanley Noonan, Port Elgin, N.B. Miss Barbara Clark, Shubenacadie, N.S. Miss Maureen Forbes Bridgetown, N.S. Dr. James Carson, Bedford, N.S.

P.E.I. Art Society Holds Meeting

The P.E.I. Art Society met at Prince of Wales College on June 26th with fourteen members present. The president, Miss Eleanor Lowe, conducted the meeting.

A highlight of the evening was an interesting report by Mr. Barry Bugden on an executive meeting of the Maritime Art Association held recently in Fredericton, N.B. This included information on a Canada Council Gran to finance lectures and the purchase of slides of the works of various Canadian artists.

The P.E.I. Society is requested to hold an exhibition of paintings in Montgomery Hall during the convention of the Canadian Teachers federation and members were asked to have their paintings there by Saturday, July 14th.

A vote of thanks was extended to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morris for holding the studio tea and to Mrs. Guy Fichaud for her capable assistance in this project.

Miss Lowe, as P.E.I. delegate to the MAA Convention in Saint John, gave a comprehensive report on this activity. Mrs. Donald Gass as MAA vice-president for P.E.I. also attended the Saint John session, as did Mr. Barry Bugden.

The Maritime Art Assodiation presented P. E. I. with a purchase prize of a pastel por rait by Christian McKiel to be presented to the Premier of P.E.I. for the Province's ...

altogether good, and lovely they were.

"Come and help us catch these lambs!" James called from the pen in the lane which leads up to the fields, to Mack and Alex, this evening. The tap-tapping of a hammer in the barn, ceased.

"Coming!" Mack replied.

A half-dozen ewes, mothers of pairs of younger lambs, pasturing near, had been shorn in an initial shearing this evening. And now before returning them to the open, their young must be docked, to leave a length of each tail behind them.

Who does the shearing? Both farmers. And it is interesting to watch them sheer away the fleece, the creamy underside being revealed in the process, until presently it is off, and then folded and corded as required now, and ready for market.

The lads had suspended for the time an absorbing piece of carpentry. Special days these are for the two, as they plan, and make, and do, together. Alex usually content to abide by any decision or suggestion of Mack's. A rabbit hutch was being built.

"Now don't go and waste those new boards!" we overheard James remind them at the outset. "And don't use up all those nails either! We'll be needing some shortly."

"Gran'daddy's a little fussy today, isn't he?" Mack commented, when we came by, to see that all was well with the two. He was sawing at the time. Alex a weight on the board. "He should understand that building's a building. And we can't do it without lumber and nails."

And we smiled. We remembered how in a former generation of the name, boards straight from the sawmill had a way of disappearing. Nails too vanished from a supply in the coach-house to further some young project of building. Were these wasted? Not at all. Given to shins and perfect our handymen of carpenters who work many a repair on these farms.

Sun today. And a promising smile spread on the fields of the farmlands.

Until tomorrow ---- Diary ---- Good-night.....

WOMEN'S ORGANIZATIONS

P.E.I. Women's Institutes Hold District Conventions

The annual Women's Institute district convention for Central Queens No. 1 was held recently in the Sherwood Hall. The meeting opend with O Canada followed by the Mary Stewart Collect.

The president, Mrs. Ralph Crabbe, Springvale, extended a cordial welcome to those attending and this was responded to by Mrs. Roland Horne, Brackley. Sixty-eight members repreesenting 12 districts attended the convention. The minutes of the last district convention were read by the secretary, Mrs. Kenneth Coles.

Interesting reports outlining the year's work were read by each Institute. These reports revealed that contributions had been made to various worthy causes and that much work had been done for the school, including the purchase of books for school libraries.

The guest speaker for the convention was Mrs. Gordon Mac-Millan of Cornwall, who is well-known for her keen interest in flower gardening. Mrs. MacMillan gave an interesting and informative talk on rural beautification, stressing that rural beautification is something that everyone can participate in and gain much from.

A demonstration on making and arranging winter bouquets was given by Mrs. James MacKay, Charlottetown. Mrs. MacKay had a number of her flower arrangements on display. She mentioned the many weeds which can be gathered in autumn and painted to match any color scheme. During a brief intermission refreshing soft drinks supplied by J and T. Morris were enjoyed. The intermission gave the delegates a chance to view the many articles on display which included a number of items for Holland and Denmark.

Miss Theresa MacLeod, provincial director of Women's Institutes, addressed the meeting stressing the need to follow the objectives of the organizations working together for our communities and the world.

Miss Mary Thompson, the newly-appointed provincial nutritionist, was also a guest at the convention.

A collection was taken and donated to the home economics scholarship fund. Miss Joan Maund accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Taylor entertained with a solo, this was followed by a skit presented by the group from Winsloe.

Mrs. Fred Osborne, president of Unitarian Services Committee in the province, thanked the Institutes for the support this organization had received from them, and pointed out that clothing is still a great need.

A sing-song led by Gail Carter, with N. Milton at the piano was enjoyed by the ladies.

The hostess institute in 1963 will be Brackley Point and the following district officers were elected: Mrs. David Seamn, president; Mrs. George Shaw, vice-president; Mrs. Stanley Murray, secretary.

Mrs. Lincoln Dewar, provincial president of the WI, brought greetings from the provincial executive and spoke briefly in regard to many phases of institute work. She encouraged interested institutes to enter the Tweedsmuir Competitions.

Correspondence included letters of appreciation from various persons and organizations.

The resolutions were presented by Mrs. Edwin Cook and Mrs. Victor Hudson expressed the courtesies.

Following adjournment of the meeting supper was served by the members of the Springvale Women's Institute.

LOWER MONTAGUE W.I.

Mrs. Raymond Poole was hostess to 15 members of the Lower Montague WI when the group held their regular monthly meeting recenly.

Roll call was answered by each member presenting a birthday card to be sent to the group's adopted daughter in Korea.

The president, Mrs. Cecil Hicken, chaired the meeting and the minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Bert Hanaveld. Reports were received from various committees. It was decided to donate $10 to the CNIB.

Plans for the annual school picnic, which was to be held the last week in June. Plans were finalized for the catering for two weddings.

A program was presented and refreshments were served by Mrs. Poole assisted by Mrs. Harvey Ross.

The July meeting will be held in the community hall when plans for the Lower Montague Regatta will be discussed.

ELLEN'S DIARY

Hedgerow Fern Grows, Wild Strawberries Ripen

There are baby juncos in the low cozy nest by the lane-side; three of them, hatched from the four tiny speckled eggs of the springtime. Granddaughter looked in on them this morning. And in the pasture nearby first daisies flowered. A wind of the fields stirred them gently, one spiced with the scent of spruce, and, we fancied, of sweet fern, growing along hedgerow and up woodland paths, where now too, the wild strawberries ripen.

The same you must kneel to gather. And sample at once to secure the essence of summer. And for added pleasure, if you listen you will hear the flute-like notes of the woodthrush, to bind the season in mind. The song, we think, bids one not to be too much trouble about the "many things" of living the ever busy days, but to take time off to enjoy now "the better part which shall not be taken away" ever, from memory the charm, and the beauty which otherwise passes.

How long it will be we reflect before the next lilac-blossoming, before we shall again see the mauve of lilac hedges or the delicate white of bloom in old gardens. Like the children, born to be a love, and a trust and a care of whom, we (Forgive us womenkind!) sometimes complain when they are young, and who so soon grow away from the tender years and our hands, so these early summer days wing past. And maybe, only in the afternight, we shall realize how

YOU HAVE A HAND IN THINGS CANADIAN
when you own Life Insurance

Surprising? Yes—but true. Like most people, you have probably thought of your life insurance as protection for your family —as a good way to save money regularly —as a valuable collateral if you need a loan for an emergency.

Actually, your life insurance dollars are more than an investment in your personal security and your family's. These dollars are also an investment in Canada. They stimulate growth and progress and help make this country a better place in which to live and work.

At this moment, 9 BILLION DOLLARS of life insurance savings are invested in important Canadian enterprises — through the purchase of bonds and stocks and through mortgages.

These hard-working dollars are helping to finance great projects all over this country such as pipelines, shopping centres, bridges and highways, homes, apartment and office buildings, schools, factories, industrial plants and power developments. These investments create employment opportunities, too.

The income from these investments benefits you directly by reducing the cost of life insurance to you and the 9 million other Canadian policyowners.
