

Famed Baseball Umpire Dies

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 16 — (AP)—Bill Klem, 77, one of the most famed of all baseball umpires, died today of a heart ailment. The "old arbiter," as he was widely known, told his lawyer a week ago, "this is my last game and I'm going to strike out this time."

Klem died in hospital, where he had been a patient since Aug. 11. At his bedside was his widow, Marie, his only immediate survivor.

Klem served as a National League umpire for 36 years, retiring from the diamond in 1941. He then became umpire-in-chief for the league, emerging occasionally to officiate at a charity or exhibition game.

He stood behind home plate for the last time in a pre-season game in the spring of 1944. He wanted to prove that "perfect eyesight isn't the major factor in calling 'em right."

It wasn't until after that game that he told anyone he had become blind in one eye.

Klem, who set a record by officiating in 18 World Series, entered baseball when it was a rough-and-tumble affair.

Many baseball men believe that Klem did as much as anyone in the game to raise umpiring to its present level. Klem himself often said that baseball became the popular sport it is today only after umpires stamped out rowdyism.

One of the most colorful umpires of his time, he often was

Says Referee Should Not Have Stopped Fight

By RELMAN MORIN
NEW YORK, Sept. 16 — (AP)—"The referee should not have stopped it," Randy Turpin said in his dressing room tonight after losing the world's middleweight crown to Sugar Ray Robinson by a technical knockout.

Turpin, smiling and calm when he came into his quarters, laughed out loud when a reporter asked him if he was out on his feet in the spectacular tenth round when Robinson floored him.

"I was perfectly keen," the British bulldog said. "There were only eight seconds to go in the round and I was covering up. The doctor will confirm that."

quoted as saying he never "called one wrong" in his life. He later amended that to say that when he called a play he knew he was right "in my heart."

Born in Rochester, N. Y., he played briefly for a baseball team in his home town. He soon switched to umpiring and officiated in Connecticut and New York State League before going to the American Association in 1904.

CHICAGO, Sept. 15 — (AP) — Catcher Wes Westrum of New York Giants today was fined $50 and suspended for three days as a result of his altercation with umpire Al Barlick in a game against Chicago Cubs here Saturday.

Takes Exception To Statement From Moncton

Dr. F. C. Dougan, President of the Islanders Hockey Club last night took exception to a statement issued by LeBaron Reid, President of the Moncton Hawks to the effect that "the Hawks have made no attempts to lure players away from any Maritime team with 'outlandish' salary offers."

"Did Mr. Reid contact the officials of the Islanders Club in any way before he got in contact with Johnny Horeck and offered him such a large contract that Horeck could not turn it down?" asked Dr. Dougan in reference to Mr. Reid's statement.

Mr. Reid issued his statement last week in reply to the charges of the Sydney Millionaires that a New Brunswick team was practicing "piracy" in order to obtain hockey players for the Maritime Major Hockey League.

Says Maritime League Schedule Not Definite

HALIFAX, Sept. 15 — (CP)—C. S. McAlden, secretary-treasurer of the Maritime Major Hockey League, said tonight that a schedule presented at a Sept. 9 meeting in Amherst is not final.

Commenting on criticism from Glace Bay Miners on the proposed schedule, Mr. McAlden said the idea was for the clubs to study the proposals and, "if possible, draft a still better one for all six clubs."

Any new ideas would be studied at the next meeting—Sept. 22—but if no new suggestions are made the present schedule will go into effect.

Miners complained that Charlottetown Islanders got "all the gravy" by receiving a larger number of Saturday night games.

Mr. McAlden said all clubs had special likes and dislikes and a compromise had to be made somewhere. Long travelling distances—some 500 miles from one end of the league to the other—also entered the picture.
