AGAINST PROHIBITION.

Dr Allison Cannot Recommend Methodists to Vote for it.

At the morning service in the Methodist church, Sackville, on Sunday the annual pastoral letter to the denomination drawn up by the ministerial committee of the conference at Charlottetown was read and spoken upon by Revs Stewart and Brecken and Rev David Allison, president of the Mt Allison colleges. The part assigned to Dr Allison was that designated "Church Enterprises" in the letter and included a reference to the Plebiscite vote on Prohibition. In this the hope was expressed that no Methodist votes would be polled for other than Prohibition. In the course of his address on the Plebiscite, Dr Allison said: "I do not care to say whose enterprise this plebiscite note is, but I do say it is not an enterprise of the Methodist church, and when I read that I am expected today to commend this congregation to vote for Prohibition, in justice to my own convictions and to what history has taught me I am bound to hesitate. Where on earth has prohibition succeeded? It has been tried in different places, but with uniform failure so far as checking the sale of liquor is concerned and I may well ask why it should be expected to succeed in Canada. I well remember the passage of the old New Brunswick law and the great celebration we had here in Sackville. There was a long procession and the crowd gathered in a field to listen to speeches full of jubilation because of the new law. Everybody said the long hoped for day had come, but towards the close of the speeches I remember the venerable Dr. Pickard saying that he cared not for the law, he would rejoice when it was enforced. I feel the same toward prohibition in Canada at the present time. Nobody loathes the liquor traffic more than do I, and nobody views with greater alarm the terrible work of the traffic, but without the moral determination on the part of the people to enforce the law, it would become but a useless statute on our law books, and that prohibition would not have the moral support of the people, I have only to refer you to the moral support given by the people to the Scott Act. What this country needs is not more prohibitive laws It needs an awakening of manhood that will cause men to rise above debauchery, and when that manhood is awakened, the sale of liquor will be easily curtailed. I do not fail to recognize the importance of removing temptation, but I fail to see that prohibition will remove it. It has not done so in Maine, and why should it do so in New Brunswick? Looking at the matter as I must look at it, I cannot recommend the great body of the Methodist church to vote for prohibition. I can endorse however the resolution passed at the Anglican Synod at Halifax, at their last meeting when they refused to endorse prohibition, but recommended their members to do all in their power to lessen the evils of intemperance. Personally I cannot vote for the saloon, and I could not vote for a measure which is calculated to deceive a portion of our people, and which would not further the cause of temperance one particle."

The outspoken sentiments of Dr. Allison have created considerable excitement in Sackville, and following as they do the expression of similar sentiments from Rev. Principal Grant of the Presbyterian College are calculated to cause serious thought —Press.

INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION AT ST. JOHN, N.B.

The prize list for the above Exhibition has been received. It is a handy volume of 106 pages besides the covers.

The list includes the names of the officers and directors of the St. John Exhibition Association, of which W. C Pitfield Esq., is President, W. H. Thorne and R. B. Emerson, Vice Presidents, Alex Macaulay, Treasurer, and Chas A. Everett Manager and Secretary.

The committees include, Executive, grounds, buildings and police, machinery hall, manufacturers exhibits, live stock, agricultural, horticultural and dairy, natural history, fisheries and fish appliances and press, all of which include energetic members of the association.

The exhibition dates are from the 13th to 23rd September, and the opening ceremony will take place at 3 o'clock, p. m. on the 13th. Live stock exhibits will be received until 10 o'clock a. m. on the 14th, but all others must be placed by 6 o'clock p. m. on the 12th Sept. The entries for all classes will be received until 29th August at a low rate for fees. From Aug. 30 to Sept 7, entries will require to pay an increased fee of about 30 per cent additional, and from Sept 8th to 12th, any entries made will be charged twice the amount of the original fee. This is done to encourage exhibitors to make their entries before the 29th of August. The admission fee for visitors to the exhibition has been placed at 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children; but exhibitors and attendants can buy a ticket good for 3 admissions each day while the show lasts for $1.00

The prizes for the several classes of live stock are handsome, for instance those for standard bred stallions, 4 years old and upwards, being $25, $15 and $10; carriage, thoroughbreds and Hackney stallions, each class, $20, $15 and $10; agricultural and draught stallions $15, $10, $5, for 1, 2, and third prizes respectively.

The prizes for cattle, amounting to $2305, include ten distinct classes for pure bred and three for grades; besides the New Brunswick Government is giving $5000 in prizes to exhibitors from that Province, part of which goes for live stock; and special prizes will be given by the Dominion Shorthorn Breeders and the Canadian Ayrshire Breeders Associations as sweepstakes.

There are 8 classes for sheep including all the best known breeds and any other pure breeds will also be given prizes if entries are made. The aggregate amount for sheep prizes is $776, and for pigs $616 Special prizes are offered by the International Ohio Improved Chester Record Association of U S A, for best boar and 3 sows over 6 months old, registered in that association.

In cheese and butter the prizes are very good viz: Cheese 3 (coloured) not less than 60 lbs made before 25th August 1898: 1st $20, 2nd $16, 3rd $14, 4th $12, 5th $10, 6th $8 and similar prizes for two packages butter not less than 28 lbs each suitable for export. Special prizes are offered by the Windsor Salt Co, (Limited) of Windsor Ontario who will give a gold medal, valued at $50 to the party exhibiting the cheese taking the highest prize in section 1, class 50, provided that it be salted with the Windsor Cheese Salt; and Messrs R and J Ransford, successors to the Canada Salt Association, Clinton, Ont., offer $25, in gold coin to the butter factory that scores the highest points for 2 packages of butter for export provided the butter is salted with Colemans Butter Salt. This will give Island dairy men a chance to show what they can do in competition with the Dairy men of the Maritime Provinces and the Provinces of Quebec and Ontario.

The prizes for Agricultural and Horticultural products are only fairly good; but the Exhibitors from New Brunswick have County prizes in addition that will handsomely reward the successful competitors from that province.

Space prevents a more detailed description of the prize list for the St. John Exhibition; but enough has been quoted to show that the International Exhibition Association have done their part to encourage a great exhibit.

Copies of the Prize List have been mailed to over 1500 persons on this Island and additional ones can be obtained by sending a postal card to the Secretary, Chas A Everett, St John, N B, or George F Owen, Cardigan, P. E. I.

In connection with the above Exhibition it is pleasing to learn that Supt. Sharp of the P E I R has arranged for tickets from any station on the P E I Railway to St John and return good for four days at the very low rate of $3.50.

Australian Butter Box.

It is a cheaper package than a tub.

It is easier to nail a box together than it is to soak a tub.

The only trouble about boxes is that, being made of whitewood, they are easily soiled in handling. Hands must be kept clean and dry to avoid finger marks.

So great is the demand for boxes at this time that many are unable to get them from the factories in sufficient quantities to fill contracts.

All butter packed in boxes should be lined with parchment paper. The operation is very simple, and the expense is less than a cent per package.

Butter packed in boxes should weigh at the factory a trifle more than 56 pounds to allow for shrinkage.—Creamery Journal.

AUGUST THE 11TH.—Don't forget that the greatest night's sport ever held in the city will be celebrated by electric light on the new grounds of the Athletic Association. All the fastest men in the provinces will take part. 3i

CONCERNING SWINE RAISIMG

What Herdsman Elliott has to Say on the Subject.

DEAR SIR,—In reply to your questions about our method of keeping pigs during the summer:

We feed almost altogether inside night and morning and the pigs are turned out during the day. When the weather is very hot we reverse this, keeping them in a cool shed during the day and turning them out at night. They have the use of three small paddocks containing about ¼ acre each, and although they get considerable grass during the growing season, it is not sufficient (for the number of pigs we have) to be called pasture.

We have tried no actual experiments, but from what I have seen, I would consider clover to be the best pasture; turn the pigs on when it is 5 to 6 inches high, but have them ringed first to prevent rooting.

About fifteen to twenty hogs to one acre would be a good average, depending on the condition of the crop and the amount of extra meal given.

I prefer to have the pigs all under one roof, and the pens for fattening sufficiently large to contain four or five pigs. Brood sows and young stock need plenty of exercise, a grass plot in summer and sheltered yards during the winter.

I like the Tamworth swine very well and think them easier fed than a great many Yorkshires. But I consider this more a matter of breeding than anything in the breeds. A great many Yorkshires are too lanky, narrow and long in the legs. This could be improved by selection in breeding without detracting much from the length or depth of side.

With regard to soiling vs pasture—We have no data along that line, but I think where hogs are raised extensively, that it would be better to give sufficient exercise (on a small grass plot in summer and yard in winter) to keep them growing, thrifty and good on their legs. The grass could be cut and put into them, just what they would eat clean.

The packers now are all asking for lean bacon, and it is to the farmers interest to supply what will command the highest price.

Yours very truly,
R. R ELLIOTT,
Herdsman C. E. F.
