

Cardinal Leger Concludes Busy Visit To Toronto

TORONTO, (CP) — Paul-Emile Cardinal Leger was given a civic welcome Monday at Toronto's city hall, one of the high spots in a crowded day which included a luncheon address to the Canadian Club.

Cardinal Leger also visited Roman Catholic educational centres and attended a reception for Catholic clergy at the home of James Cardinal McGuigan, Archbishop of Toronto.

Another reception Monday night brought to a close a busy two-day visit here. It was his first visit as a cardinal to the city.

He told the Canadian Club that the Iron Curtain "is not a visible thing and yet it is the most tragic reality of the 20th century."

A Visible Sign

It was "constituted by the hardening of the hearts of men and it falls between souls to separate men from one another. It is not a division between the East and the West; it does not really correspond to the political divisions of nations."

"It is like a theatre curtain which divides the spectators from the actors, not because it is opaque but simply because it is a visible sign of the differences of feeling which animates men."

On one side of the Iron Curtain "God is denied completely and on the other faith in God is no longer a living force. The idea of God is kept to avoid the horrors of concentration camps and to permit men to enjoy the goods of this earth in the framework of fictitious liberties which democracy promises individuals."

"Our young people seek pleasure and prefer the company of movie stars and beauty queens to the rough road which leads to the lofty summits of purity, honor and courage."

He criticized raids in dormitories of women's colleges and said these, with "juvenile delinquency, sexual perversion, the most abject of crimes, are the weapons we ourselves place in the hands of our enemies."

U. S. May Use Buddies of PoWs As Explainers

By JOHN RANDOLPH

PANMUNJOM, (AP) — The United States Army may use sergeants, corporals and even some old buddies as "explainers" when it begins its own "come home" talks with 22 Americans possibly early next month.

Since the United Nations command feels that all but a handful of these prisoners are confused, unhappy dupes of the Communists, the idea is to make the interviews as friendly and reassuring as possible.

None of this information is official yet, but it is believed that levelheaded NCOs particularly old friends, might have more influence than strange officers.

The United Nations repatriation group knows on good authority that the Reds have been priming the 22 to expect officers and to bait them.

RESEARCH JOB

The time of the UN explanations has not yet been fixed.

One reason for delaying the interviews is that with the small number of men to be interviewed, it will be possible—unless the prisoners duplicate the violence of the anti-Communists—to take considerable pains with each man.

This means doing a good research job on each one, talking to friends and families, getting letters, recorded messages on tape, and obtaining anything to relieve him of his fears.

A second reason is that the prisoners are going to have more time to think their problem out. Some may return of their own will, as happened in the case of U.S. Cpl. Edward S. Dickenson who came back Oct. 21.

A third reason is that the United Nations is watching with relish the predicament the Communists have got into at their own explanations—with repeated refusals averaging 97 per cent.

Russia Slams Door On Talk Of Conference

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Russia in effect slammed the door Wednesday on talk of a Big Four meeting as a possible follow-up to the Western Big Three talks at Bermuda.

That was the construction placed here upon the toughly-worded statement issued in Moscow commenting on a news dispatch originating in London Tuesday. The dispatch, by the French News Agency, said Prime Minister Malenkov had been approached on and had indicated agreement with, Prime Minister Churchill's proposal for a Big Four session.

The Soviet news agency Tass announced Wednesday that it was "authorized" to say that the London report "in no way conforms to reality" and that it appeared to be designed to divert attention from the "aims" of the forthcoming Bermuda conference.

American officials said that the significance of the statement was to be found as much in what it did not say as in what it did say. It did not give the slightest intimation that Malenkov would be interested in a meeting with Churchill, President Eisenhower and French Premier Laniel.

Experts on Soviet affairs believe there probably are some insuperable problems in the way of a Big Four meeting from Russia's point of view. Here are three possibilities:

1. Moscow may be under sustained pressure from Red China not to yield to Western bids for negotiation until Red China is included.

2. Malenkov's personal power position in the Kremlin may still be too uncertain to permit him to get very far away from Moscow.

3. There are weaknesses in the Soviet empire, as demonstrated by the Berlin riots last June. Thus the Soviet government may not want to negotiate with the West at this time since Western leaders certainly would press the question of a German settlement.

Paint Company Plans New Plants

TORONTO, (CP) — Plans to build a $500,000 plant and office in Montreal immediately were announced Saturday by Dwight P. Joyce, president of the Glidden Company in the United States and Canada. He did not say where the Montreal plant would be built but said he hopes to be manufacturing there in six months.

Projected plans, he said, include a plant in Western Canada and one in the Maritimes within two years. The company manufactures paints.

"Any young man looking for a career would be a chump to leave Canada and go to the United States," said Mr. Joyce. "Canada has a growth potential far greater than any section of the U. S."

Will Submit Colombo Plan Report To House

OTTAWA, (CP)—Fisheries Minister Sinclair has informed Pakistani officials that his Colombo Plan report will be submitted to the Canadian government in about six weeks.

This report will form the basis of Canada's contributions to Colombo Plan countries in south and southeast Asia in 1954. Canada has been contributing $25,000,000 a year. There have been reports she may increase this amount.

The office of the Pakistan high commissioner said Wednesday it has received a dispatch that Mr. Sinclair and his party now are in the Punjab, north of India, appraising projects which Canada may help finance.

He was shown hydro-electric schemes, a cement factory, a livestock farm and fishing projects in Punjab.

Mr. Sinclair was quoted as saying that "in the line of fish farming, we have nothing to compare." The minister headed the Canadian delegation to the Colombo Plan consultative committee which met in New Delhi last month.

U. S. Newsmen Have Trouble At U. N. Sessions

By J. M. ROBERTS Jr. Associated Press News Analyst Correspondents at the United Nations are waiting to see whether the Eisenhower administration's efforts to improve the handling of information for the U.S. press will have a counterpart in New York.

The American delegation to the UN has been getting a "bad press." American actions have been poorly explained or not explained at all. The reporters say it's because they can't find out anything.

Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., the chief delegate, early adopted the attitude that he would do all the talking for the delegation—and then got too busy to see correspondents.

Under the Truman administration, there were daily press briefings by the delegation press officers to keep correspondents abreast of the meaning of delegation actions. These briefings have deteriorated this year to a mere means of distributing a few handouts from Lodge.

Unaware of Developments Correspondents are convinced that part of this is due to Lodge's inexperience and part to the fact that he himself is often unaware of how things are developing at the state department.

Theatre Manager To Stand Trial

ROUYN, Que., (CP) — Roland Dumont, 37-year-old Rouyn theatre manager, Thursday committed for trial on a murder charge in connection with the shooting of farmer Albert Belsie.

Belsie, 52, died a week after being found on a lonely bush road near here Oct. 24.

Dumont will be tried at the next assizes. He was held criminally responsible for the shooting by a coroner's jury Oct. 28.

Lodge also has professed a great busy-ness when approached by correspondents, and some accuse him of taking time to grease only the wheels which squeak the loudest. They cite one case in which, to quiet querulous dispatches to the British press, he called in British correspondents for a briefing on subjects about which American correspondents had been pressing, but they were left out.

Wednesday Lodge was guest at a luncheon of the U.N. Correspondent's Association. It was one of those off-the-record affairs. But Lodge heard some of the complaints, despite his position as guest.

Jack Canuck

Two neighbours with a long line fence. Unharmed by weapons of defense. Their mutual aims have always stood for freedom and true brotherhood. While other neighbours man and arm To do each other bodily harm. These two are seeking to fulfill The policies of peace, goodwill.

Sam leans across the fence and chew Upon a straw and, smiling, views The younger man there in the sun And praises him for work well done.

As Jack now pauses in his task To chap with Sam, we hear him ask How things are going 'cross the line, And Sam's proud answer, "Oh, just fine."

Sam chuckles and, in mistful tone, Muses, "My boy, how you 'ave grown! Though young you have reached man's estate And now are numbered with the great."

Johnnie now shrugs a time or two And smiles, "Well, Sam, I think of you As a kind Uncle whose labour Has been that of true neighbour."

The world looks long in deep amazement On these two brothers who can raise Their proud flag staffs close — side by side.

Long may they stand thus unified, A living lesson to impart The truth: there is no counterpart For living for the common good When hearts are bound in brotherhood.

—S. Barlow Bird.
