Who is the real Mother of this Child?

The woman who gave it life... or the woman who gave it love?

THE BLUE VEIL: This is the poignantly-told story of a woman's dedication. The death of her own child imbues Louise Mason (Jane Wyman) with a selfless desire to bring love to the children of others and, as governess in many families, she devotes herself with a totality that leaves no room for personal life. Her reward at the climax of this moving RKO-Radio picture will warm the heart of every mother, and, perhaps, bring a tear or two.

..FUNERAL SERVICES— The funeral services of the late Mary Kennedy were held from the Murray Harbour North Presbyterian Church Wednesday afternoon at 2 p.m. following a short service at the Montague Funeral Parlor. Mrs. Kennedy, in her 98th year, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Fraser, Montague, on Monday morning after a short illness. A large number attended the service to pay their last respects to the grand old lady who spent the greater part of her life in Murray Harbour North. Rev. F. N. Young of Montague Presbyterian Church conducted the service, assisted by Dr. A. D. MacKenzie of Trinity Church, Montague, who spoke words of comfort to the bereaved, basing his remarks on 14th chapter of Revelation, 13th verse, "That they may rest from their labours, and their works do follow them." Mr. Willard MacLean, Peter's Road, rendered the solo, "Beyond The Sunset." Other hymns sung were "What A Friend We Have In Jesus" and "A Guide With Me." Pall-bearers were: Harry Miller, William Dunn, Laurie MacLure, Newton Hicken, Edward Millar, Willard MacLure. Interment was in the Murray Harbour North cemetery.

..Quebec and Ontario Quebec reports indicate meadows and pastures have come through the winter in good condition. Sunny, dry weather in many districts has favored seasonal field work. A substantial acreage has already been sown in the area around Montreal. In other areas, cold weather and snow-covered fields have prevented field operations.

In Ontario seeding of spring grains has been carried on under almost ideal conditions in most southern parts, with many counties reporting seeding completed. Winter wheat, hay and pastures appear to have suffered little loss from winter killing. These crops as well as early-seeded spring grains obtained a good start under the unusually warm weather during the latter part of April.

Almost all parts of the province now report the need of rain and warmer weather. Fruit trees suffered little winter damage and, with the exception of apple and pear, are now in full bloom in the Niagara Peninsula.

..British Columbia In British Columbia below-average rainfall with reduced temperatures is reported in the Fraser Valley and on Vancouver Island. Planting of early potatoes is almost completed. Seeding of grain is under way. Grass growth is somewhat slow. The season is normal in the Southern Okanagan Valley with heavy blossom reports on fruit trees. With favorable weather, a heavy crop of tree fruits is anticipated. Some winter damage to pastures, hay lands and fall wheat is reported. Rain and warm weather is required.

Georgetown Man Catches Unusual Lobster

Mr. Fred Allen, well known veteran lobster fisherman of Georgetown caught an unusual lobster yesterday while hauling his traps on Boughton Island. The unique blue coloring of the fish gives it an unusual beautiful appearance. From a light sky blue underneath it changes through a variety of bluish shades over the back, to the deepest and clearest blue color. In daylight the combination and gradual even changes of coloring makes it a thing of beauty. The fish is about eight inches long from tip to tip. Old time fishermen who have viewed it state that in years of fishing lobsters they have never before seen such an oddly colored and beautiful lobster.

 patching and Mayor Stewart reminded the Council that if the people had "to drive over these streets even one more year they would be up in arms." He felt that even though the price was a bit higher than expected the city had no choice but to proceed.

One Dissenting Vote

When the motion to award the contract was put the only dissenting vote was cast by Councillor Gormley. Two of the councillors, M. A. Farmer and G. R. Keefe, were not present. Councillor Storey stated that the job was expected to take four months to complete and that at the end of every week the city would know how much it had cost to that date. He said the work could be stopped when the 14,000 ton mark was reached or could be continued if desired to complete the program.

The advisability of widening Grafton Street, Longworth Avenue and Fitzroy was debated. It was felt that when the Trans Canada Highway went through and the new bridge across the Hillsborough River was built that Grafton street might become a "dead end." However, it was agreed that the future of Longworth Avenue was already known and widening of it will be under discussion at the next monthly meeting. The successful tender submitted estimates for the eight items required as follows: base excavating $2.20 per cubic yard; manholes and catch basins $25 each; water connection $15 each, shale for sub base $4.00 per cubic yard; pit run gravel for sub base $4.65 per cubic yard; tact coat 60 cents per gallon; asphaltic concrete base $3.25 per square yard; hot mix chip seal $16.85 per ton.

Demand All Prisoners

The proposal was submitted to the top Red negotiators April 28 for consideration in secret sessions. On May 2 the Reds said they would agree to the Allied proposals on Russia and airfields, but demanded the return of all military prisoners. Ridgway stripped the secrecy from the negotiations. He said the Allied proposal would have to be accepted as a whole. The Communist rejection was firm—but not final. North Korean Gen. Nam Il, chief Red delegate, fumed: "Our side has made every effort on its part. The next step in the armistice negotiations is entirely up to your side." Wednesday's session lasted 42 minutes. Vice-Admiral C. Turner Joy, senior allied delegate, afterwards told reporters it had become "abundantly clear that "no useful purpose could be served by continuing the news blackout.

Agriculture Federation Meeting At Montague

The Federation of Agriculture went on record as favoring a program of artificial insemination for increasing the horse population on P. E. I. at a special meeting of the Federation held at Yeo's Theatre, Montague, last evening. Wilfred MacDonald, Brudenell, was chairman.

The question of the declining horse population was brought forward by one of the members, who explained that there were very few foals on farms today, whereas twenty years ago almost every farm had at least one. He attributed this to lack of good sires, and stated that a program of artificial insemination should be considered as a possible means of increasing the horse population in the province. Prior to the meeting a film was shown on the marketing of dairy products, and the advertising campaign which is being carried on to publicize and sell the products.

Purpose of Meeting

The main purpose of the meeting, he said, was the consideration of the setting up of twenty-six regional branches as outlined at the meeting held last fall; also that farmers might be given the opportunity of bringing their problems before the federation officials, and they in turn explaining policies to the farmers. Mr. Dewar emphasized the need for full attendance at meetings and the full support of all members.

He went on to point out some of the benefits which the farmers have received, such as freight assistance on feed grains and support prices on farm products. The Dominion Government, he said, granted a subsidy of $11.60 on feed grains from the Head of the Lakes to the Maritimes thus giving the farmers cheaper feed. This worked to the advantage of both the Western grain grower and the Maritimes consumer of the Maritimes. Support prices, he said, were established on butter, eggs, pork and beef. The support price, although not high, was designed to help the farmer maintain a normal production in this particular field. This price, although floored on too grades, was subject to the usual differentials. On beef it was applicable to the choice and good grades, and, he said, it was desirable to have it made applicable to the medium grade into which a large majority of island beef falls.

With respect to the Potato Marketing Board, he said that at present the marketing legislation was being brought before the court of appeal at Ottawa. The outcome of

Lobster Fishery Sparks Activity In Souris Area

Souris and Eastern King's County is a busy section of the Province at the present time. Early season lobster fishing in the area has been good and the town's two large packing factories are humming with activity.

About seventy people are employed at each plant, the majority of them women. Both factories are spotlessly clean, and those members of the staffs engaged in the actual canning and handling of the fish wear tidy white smocks. Off-shore many boats are engaged in harvesting the annual catch, and in one way or another about three hundred people are employed.

Contributing to the bustle on the waterfront is the employment of more than a score of men, engaged by the Canada Dock and Dredging Company to carry out extensive work on the railway wharf.

This company has a Dominion Government contract running into several hundred thousand dollars, and the present working force will be increased as the work progresses. The project will require, at least a full summer's work.

Very few people male or female are idle in the Souris district, and the outlook for the year is promising. Lumbering on a considerable scale is being carried on in adjacent districts. Most of this is for building purposes and is being sold to contractors and woodworking plants.

YORK, England (CP)—A hebridean loom more than 200 years old was used here to show the conditions faced by spinners and weavers before the industrial revolution. The loom with its ancient shears, carding and combing tools has already been exhibited in Canada.

LONDON (CP)—A newspaper photographer looking for the "smartest hat in mayfair" as part of a feature article, selected the close-fitting white straw worn by Mrs. Wallace Hadrill of Montreal, here on holiday. The bonnet is of a new type straw which looks like pique.
