Tug Saves Small Fishing Craft

NEW GLASGOW, (CP)—The tug Brigadoun put a line aboard the drifting fishing boat My Boys today to save the 50-foot craft from being wrecked on the south side of Northumberland Strait.

High winds and pounding seas had driven her dangerously close to shore. The little Trenton, N.S., craft with two men aboard called for help when the gale threatened to drive her aground near Merigomish, 15 miles northeast of here. The anchor would not hold.

A salvage tug put out from nearby Pictou to try to save her. It was a race between the tug and the weather, shipping men said.

The names of the two aboard were not known immediately. Seas in the strait were running high after two days of strong northerly winds. ROCAF search and rescue officers said they had difficulty finding a tugboat skipper who would take the risk of a rescue attempt.

The My Boys reportedly left Trenton early this morning. First word of her plight came from a Merigomish telephone operator who called RCMP in New Glasgow.

The incident occurred on the 100th anniversary of the sinking of the mail steamer Fairy Queen, lost off Pictou Island with seven deaths. She was inward bound from Prince Edward Island at the time and foundered in a heavy storm.

Couple Arrested

Missouri law provides a maximum penalty of death in the gas chamber for both murder and kidnapping. In the case of kidnapping a jury may fix the death sentence whether the victim has been injured or not.

Ed Sheuffie, U. S. district attorney here, filed charges against Hall and Mrs. Heady. He said it was a means of holding them until it is determined whether the federal kidnapping law applied to their case.

Hall was released on parole from the Missouri penitentiary last April 24 after serving more than a year on a robbery charge. Marsh, marked by a tattoo on his right forearm, was sentenced June 29, 1950, to two years in the Missouri prison for molesting a child. He was discharged Oct. 2, 1951, by a governor's commutation of the sentence.

Mrs. Heady has been arrested a number of times.

Planned For Two Years

Hall said he had been planning the Greenleaf kidnapping for two years. He claimed he had been acquainted with the family years ago when he attended the same school with Paul Greenleaf, an adopted son associated with the father in the motor car business. Paul Greenleaf said Wednesday he did not recall Hall as a school mate.

Hall said he met Mrs. Heady about three months ago in a St. Joseph tavern. He worked up an acquaintance with her and told her he had a son who was in the custody of a former wife. "I said his name was Bobby Greenleaf and persuaded her to go to Kansas City with me and get him out of school so I could see the boy," Hall told St. Louis police.

He asserted that when the woman got the boy from the French Institute of Notre Dame de Sion she knew nothing of the kidnapping plans.

The woman went to the school in a cab which she had wait for her. She told a nun the child's mother was ill.

Hall said he took the woman and boy to a shopping district,

FUNERAL SERVICE—The funeral of Mrs. William Bradley was held yesterday morning from her late residence, 128 King Street, to St. Dunstan's Basilica where Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rev. Francis Corcoran who also conducted services at the grave. The pall bearers were: Reginald Cronin, John Flynn, John MacInnis, Harry Toombs, William Connolly and Earl Burke. Interment was in the Roman Catholic Cemetery. City employees attended the funeral in a body.

Leaving Today To Attend Two Conferences

Mrs. Thomas Kane leaves this morning to represent St. Dunstan's University at two national conferences to be held at McGill University, Montreal from Oct. 9 to 16. During the first three days the assembly of the World University Service of Canada (W.U.S.C.) will sit while the National Federation of Canadian University Students (N.F.C.U.S.) will discuss its business from Oct. 12th to 16th.

The agenda of the W.U.S.C. will centre mainly around deciding on Canada's contribution to the general plan of this world organization whose aim is to better the lot of students everywhere. Also future policy as to the holding of further Indian handicraft sales will be decided upon as it is hoped another sale similar to that of last spring will be held again in Canadian universities this fall.

It is doubtful whether the proceedings of the N.F.C.U.S. conference will attract as much public attention as last fall when the Russian-Canadian student exchange was brought up.

Two matters of vital concern to the organization and to Canadian university students are scheduled for settlement, that is whether a full time paid national president will be had from now on, and the proposed raising of membership fees for each student from twenty cents to one dollar.

St. Dunstan's this year is a full-fledged member of N.F.C.U.S. and Mass was celebrated by Rev. Clarence Roche, who also conducted the service at the grave. Present in the sanctuary were: Rev. R. J. MacDonald, Rev. Harold Croxan and Rev. Eric Rogin. Rev. Bernard Gillis, D.D., assisted the choir.

The P. E. Island Regiment (17th Recce) Band under Bandmaster Thomas MacFarlane rendered appropriate music during the funeral C. U. S. program suitable to St. Dunstan's.

There Mrs. Heady left him. He there met Marsh, his accomplice.

Turned Over To Accomplish "I told the man working with me to look after the boy and take care of him until I showed up," Hall said.

Hall said that when he and the woman arrived at her St. Joseph home he went to the basement where he found Bobby's bullet-pierced body.

Hall said he was shocked over the slaying of the boy but he decided to go ahead with plans for obtaining a $600,000 ransom already demanded in a letter he had mailed to Greenleaf the day of the kidnapping.

He said he had been in contact with the family four or five times by telephone and twice by mail.

Police picked up Mrs. Heady at a St. Louis apartment the couple had shared after arriving Monday. He said he and the woman had an argument and he had left the apartment after giving her $2,000.

Hall said he had no intention of killing.

Laymen Addressed By Dean Ripley

Very Rev. C. E. Ripley, of St. James Cathedral and Dean of Toronto, was guest speaker at the first Fall supper meeting of St. Peter's Laymen's Association held in St. Peter's Hall last evening presided over by Mr. A. E. Breddon.

Dean Ripley, who was introduced by his son-in-law, Rev. Canon G. E. Moffat, rector of St. Peter's Cathedral, expressed his pleasure on visiting the Island for the first time and meeting with so cordial and spontaneous a welcome.

"It is interesting to note," said the Dean, "that the Diocese of Nova Scotia of which this Island is a part, once extended its ecclesiastical boundaries as far as York which is now Toronto. We therefore justly look upon Nova Scotia as the cradle of the Church of England in Canada."

He dwelt briefly on the division and expansion necessary to conform to provincial boundaries and the increase in population throughout Canada. "Now there are 28 Dioceses in Canada while four vessels ply the sea and rivers on the Pacific Coast. Many churches flourish on the borders of Alaska, the church is at work with the Eskimos and Indians in the Arctic regions in spreading the gospel," he said. The Dean also spoke of the Canadian Missions in mid-Japan, Hohan and Pakistan describing them as "children of the diocese which originated in Nova Scotia."

He described the spread of the Mission fields from Eastern Canada and the further expansion organized in England and carried on through Hudson Bay and the Red River areas. The Foster Mother in England expended lavishly in wealth, material, and men into Canada through the three avenues to spread the Gospel.

"The service of an efficient Christian ministry is not sufficient to carry on the work which must be done even at our very doors," the Dean continued. "Christian laymen must accept their responsibility and act on the individual cell system to combat the inroads of Communists who are using that method to the great disadvantage of the Christian Church."

"The Apostolic spirit now animating Christian Laymen has resulted in a tremendous increase in church membership in the United States during the past year or two and we cannot do better in Canada than pass on the Christ given instruction 'Go, make disciples in all nations'."

The gifted speaker was thanked by the chairman for his authoritative and instructive talk. Rev. Canon J. T. Ibbot, rector of St. Paul's spoke briefly thanking St. Peter's Laymen's Association for the kind invitation extended to the men of St. Paul's to be present on such a rare and desirable occasion.

Mr. A. H. Duvar, vice-president of St. Paul's Laymen's Association introduced the guests including Rev. Canon Ibbot, Frank Cox, Cecil Palmer, C. E. Barbour, George Whiteside, H. E. Large, H. A. Messervy, E. W. MacKinnon, J. M. Murley, George Ives, Dr. R. H. Barrett and Mr. House.

The supper was provided by the ladies of St. Peter's Women's Auxiliary, convened by Mrs. J. A. Brady and Mrs. A. G. MacMillan.

Editor Dies Shortly After Newspaper Ceased

NEW GLASGOW, N.S.—Jennie A. Fraser, 78, died Sunday, only a week after the weekly newspaper she had helped edit. Miss Fraser's father, James A. Fraser, was editor of the Eastern Chronicle and when he died his son Don and daughter Jennie took over.

When Don Fraser died in 1946, Miss Fraser edited the Chronicle until it was taken over by James Cameron. Last week Mr. Cameron announced that the Chronicle, Canada's second oldest weekly, was ceasing publication.
