

Britain Hopes Jets Will Steady Mid-East Crisis

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
By flying some of the newest RAF jets into Jordan, Britain is attempting to exert a steady influence at that eastern end of the volcanic area of Arab-Israeli tension. There is an election in Jordan Sunday which could shake further an already unsteady government.

On Jordan's west is Israel, which has carried out several severe raids on Jordan border strongpoints during the last few weeks. On Jordan's east is Iraq, which has troops on the border ready to move in if Jordan does help against Israel.

Britain is under treaty obligation to aid Jordan if attacked, and it is under that treaty that the RAF jets are being flown in. Israel sees the Iraqi troop dispositions as a threat to Jordan's independence and has hinted counter-action if Iraqi soldiers enter Jordan.

U.S. ELECTION
Two weeks from Tuesday, the United States elects a president. And after weeks of campaigning, there are a couple of questions before the voters that have considerable emotional impact.

Adlai Stevenson, the Democrat who is challenging President Eisenhower, the Republican, says that if he is elected he will try for an immediate end of H-bomb tests by the nuclear nations. Further, he would seek to end the military draft at home by substituting a highly-paid professional defence force.

Eisenhower, the soldier, says such steps would put the U.S. on "the road of surrender." He told the voters the issue was "hard sense and experience" on the one side against "le-in-the-sky promises" by his opponent.

CANADIANS ABROAD
Three Canadians in peril far from their homeland all but returned from the dead.

The 27-foot ketch Orenda set out from Nova Scotia Sept. 1 on an Atlantic crossing with Bert Smith 31, Toronto, and Alan Battersby, 29, aboard. Three weeks later the liner America sighted the craft, saw no sign of life aboard and reported it an apparent derelict.

This week the Liberian ship Mariblanca sighted the ketch and investigated more thoroughly. Aboard they found two starved, exhausted sailors. The Canadians refused to abandon their voyage but gratefully took on needed food supplies. With luck, the pair should reach British waters in a few days.

In Algeria, more than a month ago, a Canadian nun, Sister Francis Solano of St. Georges-de-Beauce, Que., was kidnapped by Algerian Arab rebels. Seized with her was a French nun.

For weeks there was no word of them. Then, on Thursday, Sister Francis was released and found in a state of prostration by the French patrols. Nearby was the body of her French companion, Sister Marie, her body riddled with machine-gun bullets.

PACIFIC PLANE
The passengers understandably felt "very nervous, inwardly." Their airliner, war out over the Pacific, had circled in the night blackness for nearly five hours waiting to make an emergency descent at sea.

Crippled by mechanical difficulties, the pilot decided to keep the plane close to a weather observation ship rather than attempt to reach San Francisco.

When the Pan-American Stratocruiser was finally ditched, it broke up and sank. A coast guard cutter saved all 31 persons aboard. There were only five minor injuries.

ATOMIC AGE
The Queen said: "It may well prove to have been among the greatest of our contributions to human welfare that we led the way in demonstrating the peaceful uses of this new source of power."

Her Majesty pulled the lever that set in motion the world's first atomic power plant connected with a regular electricity network.

That night many British housewives cooked supper with electricity generated by uranium fuel rods at Calder Hall in Cumberland — without knowing it, of course, because electric power is just that, no matter what the method of producing it.

Uranium Boom Town Took It All In A Matter-Of-Fact Way

By BONNIE PURDY
Canadian Press Correspondent
BLIND RIVER, Ont. (CP)—WANTED: One efficient legend killer.

This community is squirming uneasily in the grip of a tall tale which threatens to scar its pride. Residents fear it may acquire a vivid reputation as a ringtailed, ripsnorting town, delighting in shady pursuits.

The trouble is Blind River, swelling astride highway 17, midway between Sudbury and Sault Ste. Marie, is a boom town—despite its 100 year history as a lumbering centre.

URANIUM RUSH
Three years ago a $1,000,000,000 rock pantry of uranium was uncovered in the timberbarre country north and east of here. The rush was on.

It was, however, a strange, almost orderly rush, with little of the fire-in-the-brain frenzy of the California and Yukon gold strikes. It turned Blind River into a boom town with a population swollen to almost 5,000 from about 3,000 within a year.

Its citizens say international publicity born of the fabulous uranium strike has left outsiders with a distorted portrait of the town. Too many picture it as a roaring camp with sinsoaked streets.

Residents wryly recall the story of the madly tourist who complained: "I have been here two days and I haven't seen a single one of those quaint, bad people I've read about, I'm going home."

TAVERNS BUSY
They admit there's a brisk trade in the town's four taverns but there are also six well-supported churches and three packed schools with a fourth on the drawing board.

Blind River parades a startling number of offenders through town hall in the thrice-weekly court sessions—198 arrests on drunk and criminal charges in a typical month. But the town has assumed the unofficial status of a county seat and many court cases originate in outlying areas. Also most offences are of the minor peace breaching variety.

Police Chief W. S. Shimmis confirms that Blind River is not the tainted town of the legend. He reports that some miners employed in the uranium camps, swarming in on Saturday night seeking diversion, wind up as court cases. On the other hand, local residents are responsible for less than four per cent of the town's offences and juvenile delinquency is virtually unknown here.

HE OTHER SIDE
Stack that, say the citizens, against the busy service clubs, curling clubs, the public health association and the film council. Measure it against the dozen bustling women's groups, the well stocked, well frequented library and the enthusiastic following for a state of amateur hockey teams.

Residents argue the legend which depicts Blind River as overrun by swaggering, staggering miners ignores the influence of the town's oldest and biggest industry, lumbering. Its one remaining saw mill, built in the late 1920s, is still the biggest in North America east

Aviation Hero Incurably Ill

PAWTUCKET, R.I. AP—John T. Godfrey, 34-year-old Second World War aviation hero, said Wednesday doctors have told him he suffers from an incurable disease which will kill him within the next few years.

Godfrey said he has been stricken by amyotrophic lateral sclerosis, an ailment similar to muscular dystrophy, which damages the motor pathways and cells of the central nervous system.

Godfrey, credited with shooting down 37 German aircraft before he was shot down and captured, told the Pawtucket Times by telephone that a doctor has told him he has "one to two years left."

of the Rocky Mountains. More residents are employed in the mill, bush or general lumber trades than in the mines.

And, say the citizens, a balanced picture of Blind River should include projected housing subdivisions here and the brand new city in the making 20 miles northeast of here at Elliot Lake, designed to house the 2,200 men to be employed at district mines and planned as a model of modern urban development.

Fortune W. I. Anniversary Recalls 20 Years' Activity

During the summer of 1936 Mrs. George Jackson attended an Institute of Conventions in her home district of Annapolis and while there she talked with the supervisor on the way in which a district went about organizing an Institute states the 20th anniversary report of Fortune W.I. It was found that a canvass would have to be made in order to get the women of the district interested and when 10 or more were ready to attend the supervisor would come to organize and give instructions on how to conduct the meetings.

Mrs. Jackson visited the homes and on September 11, 1936, Miss Louise Hazard met with those interested at the Orange Hall. The first officers elected were: President, Mrs. Ernest Aitken; and Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Leon Johnson.

FIRST MEETING
The first regular meeting was held on Sept. 22, 1936 with 10 members and 2 visitors present. Before the end of 1936 we had 23 members; in 1941 — 21; 1946 — 13; 1951 — 23; and in 1956 — 18 members.

We chose the school as our special community project.

Our first meetings were held at the Orange Hall, then we met at the home of Mrs. Earl Johnston until the Junior Room at the school was furnished as an Institute Room. When this was opened as a second classroom we began holding our meetings at the various homes.

We decided that to answer the would be rather dull. As we look over the record book we find it was answered in various ways, anything from "a cent for each pound of our weight" to "A Country belonging to the United Nations."

During the past twenty years we raised money in various ways including — whist parties and dances, (and in this connection we must observe an entry in the minute book which goes to show how times are changing.

In October 1937 it was decided to pay 50 cents to have the first started and the hall cleaned for the whists.

We made patchwork aprons, (money was sewed under each patch), sale of Xmas cards, pantry sales, lottery of donated articles, blankets and a nursery mat hooked by the members, gentleman's night card parties (the husbands were invited to come along to pay for the tickets), concerts, picnics, dessert parties, auction parties, canteen at the Hall dances.

FOR SCHOOL
Articles purchased for the school included, stoves, fountains, globe, dictionary, blinds, pencils, sharpeners, maps, tea kettle, basin, towels, soap, library books, hectographs, blackboards, book cases, science cabinet, teacher's desks, radio batteries, doors, insulation for ceiling, painting exterior and interior helping to provide treats at Christmas and school closings.

In addition the members gave of their time and effort in cleaning the school. They visited the school, visited the sick, sent fruit and get-well cards to the sick, collected in the district for the Red Cross, welcomed each new baby with a small gift, gave farewell gifts to members moving away, sold institute cook books.

WAR YEARS
During the war years the members knitted socks, made quilts, children's clothing, afghans.

We donated money to the Canadian Legion, M.C.A. War Fund, Save the children Fund, Ambulance Fund, Giving Again V-cards, War Saving Certificates, War Service Fund, and also sent gifts of cigarettes to our servicemen.

We donate to the T.B. League, the Orphanage, Salvation Army, Cancer Fund, Iron Lung Fund. A wheel chair was purchased for a crippled girl in the district.

The Institute sponsored Swimming, sewing classes, distribution of God Liver Capsules, and a Red Cross First Aid Course.

In February 1943, the members decided to aid in the movement for establishment of a hospital in Eastern Kings. In 1944 a dance and a chicken supper were held for the Hospital. Each year we contribute money, canned fruit and vegetables.

In July 1947, and in June 1949, we entertained the district convention delegates.

We have an adopted Institute in England.

Each year delegates attend the convention and bring back the news of their trip to other members. Many helpful hints are passed among the members, recipes are exchanged and new ideas brought in.

Interesting and informative literature sent out from the head office is read and discussed at the meetings. A pleasant social hour with sandwiches, sweets and the provided by a committee appointed to help the hostess brings our meetings to a close.

We hope that we have lived up to our motto — For Home and Country. We should all think seriously of the words contained in our Creed and Ode. As a guide to better living they are second only to the ten commandments.

In times like these when there is, dissension within countries, between and among countries, when envy and jealousy seem to be uppermost in the minds of most of our national leaders it is up to us to carry on in our efforts to help our young people to grow up to understand what friendship and mean.

Montague Legion Auxiliary Meets

The regular monthly meeting of the Laides Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion, Montague, was held at the home of Mrs. B.N. Stewart, Tuesday evening with the vice-president, Mrs. L.W. Gillis, in the chair.

The meeting opened in the usual manner by observing a one-minute silence. Roll call was answered by 14 members. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Miss Florrie Beaton and were approved as read. Routine business was transacted, including the reports of committees and the reading of accounts.

An invitation from the Ladies Auxiliary in Georgetown to attend a Halloween party on October 29th was unanimously accepted. It was decided to send Christmas gifts to service personnel overseas again this year and Mrs. John Clair and Mrs. Ellie Lewellyn were appointed on a committee to attend to this matter.

Arrangements were finalized for serving a buffet lunch to servicemen and their families following the Armistice service on November 11th. A Committee comprising Mrs. Thomas Clair, Mrs. Gillis, Mrs. Jessie Shaw, Miss Florrie Beaton and Mrs. Archie Hillecy was appointed to supervise the luncheon arrangements.

At the close of the meeting a delicious lunch was served. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Neil Hooley, Mrs. Atwood MacDonald, Miss Mary Hemphill and Mrs. William Dewar.
