AIR FORCE, TEXAS TIE

LSU, Iowa & Oklahoma Score Bowl Victories

Associated Press Sports Writer

Louisiana State's national college football champions won a 7-0 squeaker over Clemson, favored Iowa and Oklahoma scored impressive victories, and the underdog Air Force Academy and Texas Christian battled to a scoreless tie in the New Year's Day bowl classics Thursday.

LSU, the only major college all-winning team and favored by 15 points, beat Clemson in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans on a 10-yard pass from all - America Billy Cannon to Mickey Mangham. A fumble on a bad pass from center gave LSU the ball on the Clemson 11 to set up the touchdown.

Iowa's Big Ten kingpins and second-ranked team of the nation sent a horde of fleet backs loose for a 38-12 trouncing of California in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena. The Hawkeyes had been favored by 17 points. Mercury-footed Bob Jeter featured Iowa's devastating attack with a record Rose Bowl run of 81 yards from scrimmage.

SHOCKED SYRACUSE

Oklahoma's rangy Sooners shocked Syracuse with three explosive, long - gaining touchdown plays for a 21-6 triumph in the Orange Bowl at Miami. The Sooners were favored by 13 points.

TCU, and the unbeaten - once tied Air Force Falcons fought to a stalemate in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas in a hard fought contest marked by 13 fumbles, interceptions, and five field goal attempts — three by the air force. TU was an eight point choice. These four major bowl contests were telecast coast to coast and were witnessed by a "live" audience of 331,082.

In the Prairie View Bowl at Houston, Prairie View's national Negro college champions walloped Langston of Oklahoma 34-8, after trailing 8-6 at the half.

BAD PASS

A bad pass from center Paul Snyder on a punting situation—fourth down and eight to go in the third quarter—led to a fumble, recovered by LSU tackle Duane Leopard on the Clemson 12. Three plays later Cannon tossed the game winning touchdown to Mangham in the end zone.

Clemson's big, hard - charging line gave the 82,000 fans at the Sugar Bowl a thrill with their tough opposition to the "team of the year."

First string LSU quarterback Warren Rabb fractured his right hand and had to leave the game in the second quarter.

Oklahoma brought the 75,281 Orange Bowl fans to their feet with two lightning touchdown thrusts in the first period and another in the third quarter.

A 42 - yard touchdown run by Prentice Gautt, first Negro ever to play for Oklahoma, and a 79-yard pass play from Brewster Hobby to Ross Coyle — longest aerial gainer in Orange Bowl annals—earned the Sooners' their first two touchdowns. The third score came on a flashing 40-yard punt return by Hobby.

Syracuse drove 69 yards for its touchdown, climaxed by Mark Weber's 15-yard dash.

Iowa's speed demons struck like lightning before a packed house of 98,297 in the Rose Bowl. Jeter broke another Rose Bowl record, set by Stanford's Bobby Grayson against Columbia in 1934, by rolling for 104 yards from scrimmage. Grayson's mark was 151. The previous record run from scrimmage was the 71 - yarder of Northwestern's Frank Ashenbrenner in 1949 against California.

Jeter was ably assisted in the massacre by all-America Randy Duncan, who passed for one TD and ran for another, and by Willie Fleming. Don Horn and a terrific line.

Fleming streaked 37 and 7 yards for two touchdowns, Horn smashed over from four yards out, and Duncan went over from the one. The other touchdown came on a 7-yard pass from Duncan to end Jeff Langston.

Quarterback Joe Kapp led the Bears to their two touchdowns. The first came after the second half kickoff when Iowa led 20-0 and the second in the closing minutes against the Hawkeyes' third and fourth stringers. Halfback Jack Hart scored both Cal touchdowns, the first from a yard out to end a 74-yard drive, and the second on a 17 - yard pass from Kapp.

In the scoreless Cotton Bowl contest before 75,504 fans, the air force's George Pupich missed field goal tries from the 12, 23 and 42-yard lines. TCU's hard-running Jack Spikes, voted the outstanding back of the game, failed on three-pointers from the 35 and 29-yard marks.

Pari-Mutual Bets Beat '57 Record

OTTAWA (CP)—Recession or no, pari-mutual betting at Canadian running race tracks reached a record $116,299,663 in 1958, it was reported today — $14,426,418 up on the previous record hit in 1957.

There were more racing associations, more races, more racing days and purses paid owners of winning horses rose by $500,000. However, Alberta and Saskatchewan tracks showed declines.

The betting statistics for the year were released by the agriculture department, charged with supervision of pari-mutual betting in all provinces except Quebec. Statistics for the harness-racing year will be compiled later.

The Ontario Jockey Club's 14-day meeting at Old and New Woodbine, Toronto, topped the money-wagered list at $6,579,477 and the one-day meet at Estevan, Sask., where $1,404 crossed the board, trailed the betting field.

Ontario was a run-away leader in wagering with $83,498,483, followed by British Columbia at $12,960,458, Alberta $11,214,088, Manitoba—which had no racing in 1957—at $6,769,368 and Saskatchewan $1,857,266.

There were 37 racing associations compared with 34 last year. Thoroughbred races totalled 3,242 as against 2,854 and days of racing 420 against 366.

Of the $116,299,663 wagered in 1958, racing associations retained $11,202,814.42 as legal percentages. Provincial governments collected $7,895,668.44 in tax and the associations paid out $5,163,035 in purse money, compared with $4,662,090 in 1957.

SPORTS FRONT

By PIUS CALLAGHAN

FRANKIE ROPER'S Navy Tars finally caught up with Parkdale Royals. They climbed all over the pace setters, catching them on the short end of a 14-5 score.

The fact that Navy trimmed the Royals was no great surprise. In their last two games with Parkdale, Navy had looked every bit as good as the Sandy Frizzell-managed boys. The tide was on the turn and nobody knew that better than the sailors. They figured it was their turn Tuesday night and they surely figured correctly.

Anyone who had any doubt about the Navy's ability to compete in this league must surely be satisfied after that game Tuesday. The Tars were skating like mad all night, they were backchecking galore and their defence and goalie were in top condition. You couldn't ask for much more.

ROYALS HAD only eight men dressed when the game started. Sports Arena employee, Carl 'Snowball' McCallum, donned a Royal uniform while the game was in progress and gave help to the undermanned Parkdale gang. They were minus John Bellevance, capable defenceman who is home on holidays, Allie Carver and Skippy Carver. What will happen if a few Royals decide to take sick at the same time we don't know. We do know they haven't enough men on their team but probably they can't muster any more.

However, we must say that Royals tried hard in that game on Tuesday and were better in the third session than they had been all night. We had expected the fight would have gone right out of the shorthanded team by the third period but we were dead wrong. This was the period when the Buck Whitlock coached outfit made its best showing.

APPS ARSENAULT continued to be a big goalgetter, firing five discs behind an overworked Bobby Dillion. Apps is proving to be one of the top scorers in the loop and his aim is improving with every game.

We feel we must mention the game turned in by Dick Carroll on the Tars' attacking line. We never saw Dick come through with a better performance. He had three goals and five assists to show for his night's work and he backchecked with a vengeance all evening. Angie is accepted as the hockey player in the Carroll family. There never has been any argument on that score but right now Dick is showing signs of making Angie work to hold that place of honor in the household.

It was Dick's ability to set his teammates up five times that impressed us. He was really passing that puck Tuesday night and usually it was going where Dick intended it to go.

OUR SPEED MERCHANT, Alan 'Smelt' Gillis gave another of his skating displays and Royals' players must have wondered where 'Smelt' was coming from half of the time. This Gillis never lets up and he breaks up many dangerous enemy attacks. He got a pair of goals himself the other night and assisted on two others in addition to his job of spoiling Royals' chances.

Jimmy Duffy who is fast developing into one of the finest defencemen in the league is not going to have things all to himself in the way of glory around the Duffy house. Jimmy has a brother Richard performing with the Tars and Tuesday Richard went on a third period rampage that was good for three goals. All were smart tallies and made young Duffy look mighty good.

WE'LL LEAVE the happenings of that Juniors-Aces game in Summerside to our correspondent in that vicinity. He saw what happened and we didn't. However, from what we can hear it was a disgraceful exhibition and one that should call for immediate league action.

We'll have more to say about this matter in a future column.

THE DAVIS CUP has gone back to the United States and it was a 22-year-old from Peru who made it possible. "All" Alex Almedo did was beat Anderson in the opening singles, team with Ham Richardson to grab the dramatic doubles match and finish the job with a four-set triumph over Wimbleton and U.S. champion Ashley Cooper.

Almedo qualified to play with the U.S. team because he has been five years in the United States as a student.

What a handy guy to have around.

ERNIE JOHNSON, released in early December by the Milwaukee Braves, has signed a contract with the Baltimore Orioles for 1959.

Ernie, 34, appeared in 15 games as a relief pitcher for the National League champions and sported a 3-1 record. In his eight seasons with the Braves in Milwaukee and Boston, he had a 36-22 record.

Last July 26 the Braves assigned Johnson to their Wichita farm club and at the end of the season he sought his outright release. He was not drafted by a major league club at the Washington meetings and he was released soon afterwards.

Ernie, who is 6 foot 4 inches in height is a native of Brattleboro, Vermont but now resides in Milwaukee.

Mal Anderson Turns Pro

BRISBANE (AP)—Mal Anderson of Australia Thursday night signed a professional tennis contract guaranteeing him $22,500 a year for the next two years.

Promoter Jack Kramer and Anderson made the announcement simultaneously after the Davis Cup dinner honoring the United States players who defeated Australia 3-2 in the challenge round.

At the same time Kramer said he expects soon to sign Ashley Cooper, the other member of the Australian Davis Cup tandem, to a three-year contract calling for a minimum of $100,000.

"Cooper was very disappointed at losing to Alex Olmedo in the singles yesterday," Kramer said. "He came to us and said he expected we were no longer interested because of his showing.

"We told him positively we were still interested."

Anderson joins the professional troupe on the basis of 15 per cent of the gate in all matches in which he competes.

Cooper, top amateur in the world on his record of winning the Australian, Wimbledon and United States titles, is to get 20 per cent.

"Pancho Gonzales, the champ, and Cooper, the new top amateur, are the only ones now getting 20 per cent," Kramer said. "All of the others, including Lew Hoad, Ken Rosewall, Tony Trabert and Pancho Segura, get 15."

All pros have the opportunity to win bonus money in 11 tournaments which total more than $150,000 in prize money.

Royals Travel To S'side Tonight

Parkdale Royals travel to Summerside this evening to play the Aces. A bus is scheduled to leave from Sports Arena at 7 o'clock and any hockey fans wishing to attend this game and seeking transportation should report to the Arena prior to this time.

Sum-Hi Defeats Ch'town YMCA

Summerside High School basketball team defeated a Swap team from Charlottetown YMCA at Civic Auditorium on Tuesday evening by score of 51-43. The Sum-Hi cheer leaders put on a nice display. Mike Scott led Summerside with 16 points, and Eddie Boates was second with 13.

Stan MacPherson was the big point-getter for the visitors, chalking up 21 points. Dave Lee had 11.

Line-ups: Summerside—W Smith 16, D. MacEachern 6, E. Boates 13, W. Bethel, D. Weale 2, D. McNeill 4, P. Schurman, E. Gemmell 2, R. Lidstone, total—51.

Charlottetown—A. Brady 1, J. Ives 4, J. Matheson 8, D. Lee 11, MacPherson 21, F. Burns, S. Ladner. Total—45 referees—Des. Roches and MacLean.

HUNTERS CORNER

Hunters' Doings In 1958 Reviewed By Columnist

When this column appears in print the year 1958 will have been relegated to the memory column and young 1959 will be sitting on his Throne. Old 1958 will go down on record as one that will be hard to duplicate. A Florida winter with an early spring and bumper crops kept our farmers in good humor until harvest time when continued rain slowed harvesting. It was a made to order Tourist summer. July, August and September will not be surpassed in the type of weather handed out for a long time to come. October as a whole did not favour the hunting fraternity as high winds and rain predominated.

October 13th, Thanksgiving, it was rain, snow and hail with high wind in the bargain; November 11th, Armistice Day, was a twin to Thanksgiving gale force winds with heavy snow fall following rain in the early a.m. My partner and I were out both days from dawn till dark in weather that wasn't fit for man or beast. October 27, 28, 29 and 30th were a succession of wind and rain. On the whole the 1958 hunting season was not up to par but nevertheless this columnist had some good moments although I never bagged less game. My shooting eye was in good form when the opportunity came but they were few and far between. October 1958 will go down in my book as being the best fall for Wilson's Snipe within memory. A wet fall favoured the birds and feeding conditions were excellent. Snipe were extremely plentiful and hog fat. In fact I don't believe I ever witnessed a heavier flight of snipe as during this past fall. Our local hatch was high and in late October we generally have a flight of migratory snipe anytime after the fifteenth. The late John Roop was of the opinion they came from Newfoundland and I am inclined to agree with him. The only other place they might come from would be Cape Breton Island and that is not snipe country. Newfoundland is a top snipe producing area.

ONE REGRET

One regret I have for 1958 is that I did not have a try for the sporty snipe. They have a peculiar sort of zig zag flight. Some hunters refer to it as a cork screw. It calls for snap shooting of the highest order, one is to connect with any degree of regularity. The Southport Farmer and I have enjoyed great sport with the snipe in bygone days and I had planned on having a snipe hunt on Saturday afternoon, October 25th. However, a sharp frost on the 22nd started the bulk of them moving southward and the hunt was called off.

Time is an important factor in hunting and when the two main fall holidays, Thanksgiving and A[illegible], are wiped off the slate by impossible weather conditions it sure cuts down on the hunting season take. My partner and I opened the duck season with a bang on October 1st and closed the goose season with a bigger bang and the season of 1958 is not rated as a failure, not by a long shot. I opened the duck season on October 1st with a soft sout' west wind whispering in the dawning and closed it as the cloak of night dropped on December 9th when a bitter nor'wester penetrated my clothing and ice cakes creaked and snapped on the incoming tide.

Incidents of the 1958 hunting season stand out in bold relief, a big drake black clearly etched against the breaking dawn crumpling into a tight dark ball, and water splashing high over the greenery of the flags with its impact, a big cock pheasant lying breast down in a swampy glade, the slanting rays of an October sun reflecting its multi-coloured hues, windswept north shore dunes - evening shadows lengthening and the waters of the Gulf taking on the hue of night - Gypsey quartering faultlessly on the trail of an elusive covey — a swarm of brown, wind blown Huns erupting skyward each member on its own — the tinny crackle of gale scattered shots — one bird falling to my gun — a beautiful, full plumaged cock. I didn't realize at the time it would be the last time I would see Gypsey do her stuff as only she could. She died shortly before Christmas from an infection in her stomach and intestines despite top veterinary attention.

THIS I'LL REMEMBER

One thing is certain I'll never forget my Sunday morning chat with Joe in his cow stable and the flock of geese that swung over his yard a little better than barn high nor' when my eyes singled out a chunky, grey breasted goose in the flock of the strange undefinable intuition that whispered I was going to carve that goose before the season was over. I told my shooting partner that I had a definite hunch we were going to tie into that flock before too long. Two mornings later when I lifted a short, broad hog fat grey breasted goose from Joe's neighbors snowy stubble the thought flashed through my mind: "We've met before". That is the goose I reserved for my own table.

The year 1958 had its ups and downs in the sport of hunting but if 1959 is no worse we have little to kick about. With this thought in mind I wish all readers of this Column a Happy New Year even if it is a day late.

League May Be Disbanded

WASHINGTON (AP) — Calvin Griffith, president of Washington Senators of the American League said Wednesday night that because of the Cuban rebellion he may ask for temporary disbandment of the Cuban winter league.

"We have too many valuable American and Cuban players who could get hurt," Griffith said "and I am going to ask George Trautman to look into the matter."

Trautman, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues (the minors) has jurisdiction over the winter leagues.

Griffith added:

"If Trautman thinks the players are in danger, he could prevent the Cuban winter league from continuing until some sort of peace is established."

Griffith listed those members of the team now in Cuba as Pete Ramos, Camilio Pascual, Julio Becquer, Jim Constable, John Romanosky, Joe Valdivielso, Bob Allison and Albie Pearson.

"They represent a tremendous investment for us," Griffith said, "and I'm getting uneasy."
