Bruins Leave Cellar

BOSTON Bruins have finally vacated the cellar of the National Hockey League. And strange though the change in premises is that they owe it all to the league-leading Chicago Black Hawks.

Thursday night, while a howling blizzard was howling outside, Boston Bruins delighted their home fans by winning a spectacular 2-1 decision over Billy Reay's aching outfit. It was undoubtedly a battle of Goliath and David with the popular Dave Subbing the villain Goliath.

Red Wings Next? NOW Bruins trail fourth place Detroit Red Wings by only one point, with Red Wings having that game in hand. Right now, the Detroiters are on the rise in the Canadian market. It is expected this season will Detroit and New York battle for fifth and six positions.

Bothersome Clubs WHEN Leafs and Chicago provided that much thriller last Saturday night, just about everybody agreed that these two clubs are easily the pick of the league. Both following Saturday's action with Sunday victories, Leafs easily handled Red Wings in Detroit and Hawks blanked the Canadiens in Chicago.

Footbal Sunday NEW York Giants and Chicago Bears should emerge as conference champions Sunday afternoon and qualify for the NFL championship December 22.

weekend of President Kennedy's assassination.

Boston finishes his season to-day at Kansas City, needing only a victory or a tie to wrap up its first Eastern championship. The teams played a 24-34 rout at Boston.

Buffalo and New York, two teams with a chance at the Eastern crown if Boston falls, meet today at New York's Polo Grounds. Cookie Gilchrist of the Bills is zooming in on another 1,000-yard season and the Jets are without their No. 1 passer, Dick Wood, who is lost for the season with knee trouble.

Referees Red Granville and Bob Shiff handled out 21 minor penalties, the Junior getting eleven of them. Charlie Macdonald got a 10 minute misconduct with two minutes to go in the game.
