COAL LADIES.—The three-masted schooner, A. E. McIntyre, of St. John's, N. B., Sonner, with master, from New York, arrived this morning with a cargo of hard coal for C. Lyons & Co.

LYONS MONSIEUR.—The steamer Thames arrived from Montreal yesterday afternoon with a general freight. She will leave this afternoon for Sydney and St. John's. Her cargo will be made up mainly of potatoes.

CHILD REX OVER.—A child of Mr. James Kelly, Spinnery Street, was run over by a passing team on Saturday, but fortunately was not seriously injured. The accident occurred on the street near Mr. Kelly's residence.

ANOTHER ROBBERY.—The meat shop of E. J. Ball, on Upper Queen Street, was burglarized on Saturday or Sunday night. Several hams were stolen. An entrance was effected through the faulting over the rear door.

THE BOVAVISTA.—The steamed up Bovavista, Capt. D. C. Fraser, arrived on Sunday evening about half-past six from Montreal en route to Sydney and St. John's. She had a general cargo for this port and a number of passengers for St. John's. She left this afternoon with a cargo of cattle, sheep, horses, potatoes and oats, shipped by sundry farmers. William Sellers will be a passenger to St. John's.

THE MAGIC HEALER.—THE EXAMINER has this forenoon favored with a very much enlarged box of Mrs. Rose's "Magic Healer." She is, undoubtedly, interested in black and gold, and presenting a very attractive appearance. This Salve has now become a household necessity, and is the best ointment ever used in a family. We recommend it to our readers, and trust it will not only be appreciated by the public, but largely remunerative to the manufacturer of the celebrated "Magic Healer."

JUDGMENT.—The Court of Appeal in Equity met this morning, when judgment was given in the case of Mayhew vs. Stone. The Chief Justice and Mr. Justice Fitzgerald were of opinion that the judgment of the Master of the Rolls should be reversed, and a written opinion to that effect was read by the Chief Justice. The Master of the Rolls dissented, and read a written judgment supporting the opinion that the first instance, and was of opinion that the appeal should be dismissed with costs. The appeal was allowed with costs.

AT IT AGAIN.—The season for bicycle racing making and breaking has again arrived. Mr. W. P. Doull started the ball rolling on Thursday by a run to Cape Traverse. He intended going by train, but being unable to get away at train time he started about three quarters of an hour later and made almost as good time as he could have done by train; notwithstanding the roughness of the spring road and the fact that it was raining, he ran after dark, and that he did a twelve hour day's work before starting. Next?

A DROP IN WINE.—There was considerable excitement on Water Street on Sunday afternoon, when five casks and several cases of light wines were spilled in front of the bonded warehouse. The wine was the greater portion of a consignment received here some nine or ten years ago, and which the persons to whom it was consigned declined to take out of bond. It had become practically valueless and was destroyed by the customs officials with the consent of the consignees. As the wine merrily leaked along the gutter in the direction of Queen Street some of the boys who hang about the corners "scooped" it up in various kinds of vessels and eagerly drank it down.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DROWNING.—The five-year-old son of Mr. John Coombs, Queen's Printer, had a narrow escape from drowning about half-past five o'clock on Saturday afternoon. It seems that Master Coombs and a younger child—a son of Captain McMillan—were playing about the wharf just below Clarkin Bros' office, and the former in some way fell over into the water between the Steam Navigation wharf and the wharf leased to M. P. Hogan. Mr. James Doyle, book keeper for Clarkin Bros., while standing outside the office door, heard the child's cry, and looking in the direction from which the cry came, saw Master Coombs in the water. He called out to Mr. Patrick Clarkin, who was in the office at the time, that a child was drowning. Mr. Clarkin ran with all speed to the side of the wharf and jumping into a boat picked the little fellow up just as he was about sinking, and took him to his father's home nearby. Dr. Kelly was promptly called. He found the little fellow in an unconscious condition, and it was not until after upwards of half an hour's work with restoratives that the child was considered out of danger. Yesterday he was about as usual, seemingly none the worse. Were it not for the prompt action of Messrs. Clarkin and Doyle, and the invaluable assistance rendered by Dr. Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Coombs would doubtless be mourning the loss of a bright and promising child.

NEW FACTORIES.—THE EXAMINER is informed that there were received to-day at Hillsborough factory 5,000 lbs of milk, and at Hillsborough factory all but $600 lbs.

EASTERN ITEMS.

Last week was one of unusual activity among the farmers and fishermen. The former have about finished the spring work—crops looking splendidly—while the latter are in good spirits over the spring's catch of lobsters. The little unpleasantness that lately arose between the fishermen of two rival firms has quite subsided. The lion and the lamb are again lying down together, and so there is peace once more along our northern shores.

While two local travelers were attending to their lines off Kingsboro the other morning their anchor fouled with something below, from which they could not clear it. On getting more lifting power, they succeeded in bringing to the surface an anchor of about nine hundred weight, which had evidently lain at the bottom for a great number of years. They also hooked up at the same spot part of an old rubber boot. Some think a vessel may have been wrecked here some time in the distant past. The last craft that was wrecked at this particular section of the coast was the brig Henrietta, nearly forty years ago. Her hull lies embedded in the sand not far from the shore. After loading their anchor the two men were seen prospecting around her remains and securing the few pieces of wood and strips of copper sheathing.

Last Thursday evening, just before sunset, the woods along Munn's Road were lit with the sharp report of a rifle fired by John Robertson, who, though in his 40s as yet, is already famous for having killed more otters, minks, foxes and bears than any other man in the land. This time his aim failed, and a stone dead on the hillside, a few moments after the echo died away, laid the remains of one of the largest bears ever killed in that part of the country. Success to the champion bear killer of King's.

"And if thou haply seest Some rare, noteworthy object in thy travels, Make me partaker of thy happiness," wrote the great poet. And along these lines admirers of rural scenery keep reminding us that a drive through the country just now is simply charming, and that some points are especially noteworthy and attractive. No one visiting our eastern localities at this season of the year would wish to leave Novis out of the programme, for is it not at Novis where beads of enterprise are to be met with, besides a beach and a hundred thousand dollar brickmaker?

Private dwellings are springing up on every hand in that wide awake village. Merchants are improving the appearance of their places of business. New plate glass windows have been placed in the store now occupied by Mr. Charles H. Sterns. This store when lighted up at night presents a very fine appearance. Alongside of it is the dwelling and store of Capt. A. B. McEwen, who, probably as often as ever, has had a plate glass put in his store too, and his house painted inside and outside by painters who are second to none. Mr. W. L. Stearns has also invested in a heavy plate glass window, and improved the appearance of his store very much. On the spot formerly occupied by Hooper's Drug Store which has been moved across the street, Matthew & McEwen are about to erect a large addition to their present premises. Men are busily engaged at the cellar and the firm expect to complete the new wing early in the season. The new English Church building, with vestry attached, is progressing rapidly. Mr. James McEachern, the contractor, has a number of extra hands employed closing it in, and it is thought that in the course of a month or two more the church will be ready for Divine services. When completed, it will be one of the handsomest churches on the Island. Rev. Mr. Woodard deserves much credit for the way he has forwarded the undertaking. Five churches in a village give evidence of a people who care well for the spiritual welfare of its inhabitants.

THE PLAYERS seem much pleased with this practice days are Monday and Thursday afternoon. It is hoped our Island cricketers will give a good account of themselves in foreign matches this season.

CHEESE FACTORY IN OPERATION.—The Stanley Bridge cheese factory commenced operations to-day, and 4,567 lbs. of milk were forwarded. Mr. Josiah Howatt, of French River, sent in 450 lbs. of milk, some mistake of the driver's, all the cans were not delivered, but in a few days they will be able to compete with other factories which have had several years' experience.

CRICKET.

The first of the Saturday afternoon matches was greeted with favorable weather when in the afternoon the wind died down, leaving the atmospheric conditions perfectly satisfactory from a cricketer's standpoint. The game was participated in by about an equal number of Cabots and Phoenix men. The sides were chosen by Mr. Carvell, captain of the Cabots, and Captain E. W. L. Moore, playing twelve on a side. Play commenced at 3 p.m. stumps being drawn at 7. Mr. Carvell winning the toss, elected to bat first, thereby securing, as the event proved, two innings for his side to one of his opponents.

For Capt. Moore's side Mr. Carter played a steady and very effective bat and a most discouraging one for the bowling. While his score was small, his careful defence was invaluable to his side. Mr. Howatt, not out for ten runs, made the highest score and the only double figures on his side, though Messrs. Flood, Trainor and Capt. Moore were within an ace of crossing the double line.

For Mr. Carvell's side, the Captain himself led in the first innings and got double figures in the second, being ably seconded by Mr. John Nicholson and J. McCallan, both gaining double figures. Mr. Nicholson's 15 being especially gratifying to his Cabot friends. Among the noticeable features of the game may be mentioned Dr. Jenkins and Mr. Callaghan's four hits, and that veteran's (Mr. Murray) misfortune in not scoring in either innings. Mr. Murray is generally considered good for twenty or thirty at least in any match. We have but the analysis of the bowling of Mr. Murray, of whose 14 overs 7 were maidens, and who secured five wickets for 20 runs. Appended is the score:
