

BUSINESS SOCIETY

NEWS

Well here it is Nov. 5th and the Business Soc. has yet to publish a column. What is the problem? Could it be they have nobody to write to? No.....the society has close to 250 members this year. Everyone will remember those memberships being aviable for the first few weeks. Hmmmmm! Maybe they had nothing for their members to do and therefore nothing to write about....No..... thats not true, they went golfing and tried Deep Sea Fishing. There was also a couple of Pubs (Marty Reno & Fred+Floss) where they gave away a feer beer. Why theres even been talk about going Skimg....Hey!.... Maybe they just can't s spell, and are afraid of being embarrassed. But.. thats not so bad, after all they're only human... ..well ... except..maybe that furry one with the Gorilla like reach.(right Doug)

Actually they can spell and all those mistakes on their posters were just part of a clever marketing scheme which allowed the Society to find the posters effective reach by recording the number of comments made about them. Ask N.M.

Well if its not their spelling, what is it??? Its just that there was no incentive to write...At least up until 2 weeks ago. You see 2 weeks ago the engineers went to far, they.....they..... ..they insulted a BUSINESS STUDENT. Look I'm just as shocked as the rest of you. I mean, how such pusillanimous lowlife could become so presumptious.....After all, they were allowed to write that little coloumn and take little shots at other societies, without any reply. It was thought their coloumn might amuse some people, but after such arrogance no one can now find much use for a engineer.....well, thats not quite true....as can be seen in this interesting analogy.....

... "Protozoans from the phylum Protozoa (almost as low as engineers) have proven to be an intricate part of society. You see; a few million years after death they form oil! Now Hold On engineers, don't you all run out and try and turn yourselves into oil. You see it took those complex and advanced protozoans a few million years to do it. It again, would be arrogant of you to presume someone could find a use for you in such a short time.

Now don't get discouraged; here something a little easier than turning into oil. We don't want you to vegetate for the next million years so here is something to occupy that time.

FOR THE BRIGHTEST OF ENGINEERS ONLY
(sorry snord)

ENGINEERS FUN WITH ARITHMETIC

GUESS YOUR AGE
CAN YOU GUESS YOUR AGE?

_____ answer here

1. Put your age down on a piece of paper
2. Add one
3. Subtract one
4. The answer will be your age

This is a good one to boggle friends with

GO FOR IT

CAN YOU FIND YOUR WAY THROUGH

THIS PERPLEXING MAZE