

Public Reaction Is Seen Important

OTTAWA (CP)—RCMP Commissioner C. W. Harvin says the question of public confidence is the most important single issue facing today's police administrators and that "we will continue to lose our battle against increasing crime until such time as we have earned and enjoy the support and confidence of the public."

At one time the RCMP had a policy of refusing information to the press and this was responsible for some growing criticism and resentment. Now news was given freely to the press. North American police forces generally are also "faced with the problem of growing resentment, hostility and criticism accompanied of course by a fall-off of public support and confidence."

The commissioner's remarks were made Monday at Hamburg, West Germany, to an International Press Institute seminar on "responsible crime reporting." A text of his address was issued by RCMP headquarters here Tuesday.

The commissioner says many authorities have tried to isolate reasons for mounting opposition to law enforcement but "more and more, the police seem to be regarded as a body somehow separate from the public and bent on imposing disciplines and restrictions of their own making."

FIRE KILLS SINGER

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Texas Ruby, a former Grand Ole Opry performer known as the original Yodeling Cowgirl, died in a fire Friday night. It was the sixth accidental death in weeks involving persons identified with the Opry.

Animal Cancers Are Seen Threat

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cancers in animals, including dogs, may constitute a more or less overlooked hazard of transmission to man, Dr. Michael B. Shimkin of the National Cancer Institute said here in noting the growing research interest in the possibility that some forms of human cancer may be attributable to viruses.

In an article in Public Health Reports, a publication of the U.S. public health service, Shimkin said:

"Tumors in animals are of interest today not only because they may demonstrate environmental factors shared by man, but because some animal species may be vectors (carriers) and transmitters of viruses that may cause neoplasms (malignancies) in man."

He said cancers occur among cattle, fowl, cats, dogs, fish, frogs, reptiles and among wild animals kept in zoological parks.

"Declaring that dogs develop a large number and variety of tumors the scientist said: "Dogs are the animals with which many Americans have the closest contact and in our culture they seem to be considered as three-year-old children with fur."

"Until now, the possibility neoplastic significance of contact with dogs has not been considered, but the possibility is one that deserves reappraisal with modern methods."

He said it is thoroughly established that viruses are the cause of some cancers in chickens, mice, rats and rabbits and "less firmly established situations are seen in frogs, squirrels, deer and cats."

U.S. public health service, Shimkin said:

"Tumors in animals are of interest today not only because they may demonstrate environmental factors shared by man, but because some animal species may be vectors (carriers) and transmitters of viruses that may cause neoplasms (malignancies) in man."

He said cancers occur among cattle, fowl, cats, dogs, fish, frogs, reptiles and among wild animals kept in zoological parks.

"Declaring that dogs develop a large number and variety of tumors the scientist said: "Dogs are the animals with which many Americans have the closest contact and in our culture they seem to be considered as three-year-old children with fur."

"Until now, the possibility neoplastic significance of contact with dogs has not been considered, but the possibility is one that deserves reappraisal with modern methods."

He said it is thoroughly established that viruses are the cause of some cancers in chickens, mice, rats and rabbits and "less firmly established situations are seen in frogs, squirrels, deer and cats."

He called U.S. war preparations, declaring they were at "such a pace that the danger of nuclear war is sharpened daily."

Tsarapkin said West German "revenge seekers" and "followers of Hitler" had returned to leading positions and were trying to dominate NATO.

THE WINNER of the silver tray and a $100 Canada savings bond as the provincial teenaged baking champion, Miss Marilyn Norris, (right) Charlottetown, is shown receiving her awards from Mrs. Helen Herring, honorary judge of the baking contest held Saturday. There were 10 girls competing and Miss Norris will be the Island representative in the national contest in Toronto later this month.

Marilyn Norris Wins Island Baking Contest

Marilyn Norris, 16-year-old Queen Charlotte High School student was judged Prince Edward Island home baking champion of 1963 at the Five Roses Young Canada Bake-off Saturday.

Miss Norris, who plans a career in physical education, was selected by a panel of judges over nine other girls who took part in the provincial finals. She will now go to Toronto April 27 for the national championships where she will compete against winners from the nine other provinces.

The two recipes which she baked, and which won her the provincial championship, were for banana cake and easy breakfast rolls. The former is her "favorite recipe" which she submitted to bake-off headquarters for preliminary judging on its originality and general appeal. The other recipe was selected by the judges and announced to the competitors only a few hours before the bake-off began.

Honorary judge and special guest at the bake-off was Mrs. Helen Herring, well known radio and television personality. At a reception and banquet following the bake-off, Mrs. Herring presented the winner with an array of prizes including a silver tray for permanent possession, a $100 Canada Savings Bond, and luggage for the trip to Toronto.

The nine other girls, who all received a $25 cash award, were: Roma Bagnall, Hunter River; Fern Baker, Lakeville; Darlene Herring, Murray Harbour; Margaret Match, Jon Marie Rush, Charlottetown; Sheila Sangster, West Royalty; Trava Sharp, Summerside; Marjorie Sheppard, Charlottetown; Kathleen Stuart, Montague.

The bake-off, held in the Charlottetown store of the T. Eaton Co. of Canada Limited, is the first ever held in Canada to encourage the art and skills of baking among teenagers.

His education grant of $1,500 or a $1,000 Canada Savings bond will be awarded to the winner of the national bake-off in Toronto. She will also receive a silver rose bowl for permanent possession. The placing second and third will receive $300 and $100 Canada savings bonds. There will also be other awards.

35 Vote In Advance At Souris

SOURIS—Some 35 voters took advantage of the advanced poll for next week's federal election to cast their ballots in Souris.

The poll will also be open today in St. James United Church Hall, Charlottetown, and in the first day of the advanced poll in the last election.

A total of 65 voted last year in both days of the advanced poll in Souris.

Barn, Lobster Gear Lost In Souris Fire

SOURIS—Fire completely destroyed a barn owned by Garfield Carter, Souris, early Saturday morning. Origin of the flames was unknown.

Lost in the blaze in addition to the barn itself were 150 lobster traps, power tools and other gear. The traps were owned jointly by Mr. Carter and his brother Thomas. About 10 were saved.

The barn also contained some 200 lbs. of lobster bait.

The Souris fire department responded to the alarm at 3 a.m. Saturday and prevented the flames from spreading.

Deputy PM Caouette Aim

ROUYN QUE (CP)—Real Caouette, deputy Social Credit leader, said here "deputy prime minister is the only post he would accept in a Social Credit cabinet."

In a statement issued in Rouyn, where he is campaigning for the April 8 federal election, Mr. Caouette said 60 members of a Social Credit cabinet would be named "before we of Quebec have our word to say."

He was commenting on an earlier statement by Robert Thompson, Social Credit leader, who said in Winnipeg he has a skeleton cabinet in mind if his party should emerge from the election with the most seats in the House of Commons.

Mr. Thompson declined to name any potential ministers.

Harry Johnstone, Montague, Dies

MONTAGUE—The death of Harry C. Johnstone, well known Montague business man, occurred at the Kings County Memorial Hospital early Sunday morning, in his 59th year.

He was born at Montague, son of the late Captain W. A. Johnstone and his wife, Lucy Ann Croighton Johnstone. For many years, he was associated with his father in the grocery business which he carried on following the death of Capt. Johnstone.

He was a faithful member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and held the office of elder, and was keenly interested in church and community activities. As a past master and active secretary of St. Andrew's Masonic Lodge, No. 13, past high priest of the Prince Edward Island Chapter, and a member of the presbytery, he was well known throughout the Maritime Provinces.

He is survived by one sister, Miss Muriel Johnstone, New York City, and one brother, Cecil W., Somerville, Mass., both of whom were at home during their brother's illness.

The funeral will be held from St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Montague, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made in the Lower Montague cemetery.

Meanwhile Rev. Conrad Latour, vice-rector of the Rouyn Classical College, said he approved attacks on Social Credit doctrine in the student paper two full pages are devoted to criticisms of Mr. Caouette's program. Social Credit doctrine was denounced as "false and therefore dangerous to society."

In a speech in Rouyn Monday night Mr. Caouette was critical of "insects who believe in Santa Claus" but he did not make any direct reference to the student paper's attacks.

The editorial says the paper respects "the highly humanitarian views of certain Social Credit people" but "we, the members of the editorial staff, having almost all been born in this region that is called—unfortunately with justification—the stronghold of Social Credit and, consequently, having witnessed the gradual and progressive development of Social Credit 'thought' we believe we are sufficiently informed about the matter to take a stand as we have done."

Reds Attack Yank Policy

GENEVA (AP)—In a slashing attack on United States defence policy, the Soviet Union has charged that "the button which can trigger nuclear war has now become a point of attraction to more eager finger."

Soviet delegate Semyon Tsarapkin referred to West German in a speech to the 17-nation conference denouncing the Atlantic alliance plan for a multi-national nuclear defence force.

"If the West German followers of Hitler obtain these arms and unleash war, they will not

EASTERN BRIEFS

ON HOLIDAY

Mrs. L.A. Johnston, Montague is enjoying a holiday with her son, Dr. Malcolm Johnston and Mrs. Johnston, Rochester, N.Y.

SPENT FRIDAY

Mr. and Mrs. J.A. Lawson, Charlottetown spent Friday in Montague.

SPENT WEEKEND

Mrs. Carrie Drake of Cornwall spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Douglas MacLaren, Montague.

IN HOSPITAL

Mrs. Ada Green who was taken suddenly ill at her home in Montague, Thursday is a patient in the Kings County Memorial Hospital.

WAS GUEST

W. L. Griffin, Rockingham, N.S., was a guest this week of Mr. and Mrs. R.W. Beck, Montague.

ON STAFF

Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Wight have taken up residence in Montague. Mrs. Wight is on the staff of the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, Montague.

TO RESIDE HERE

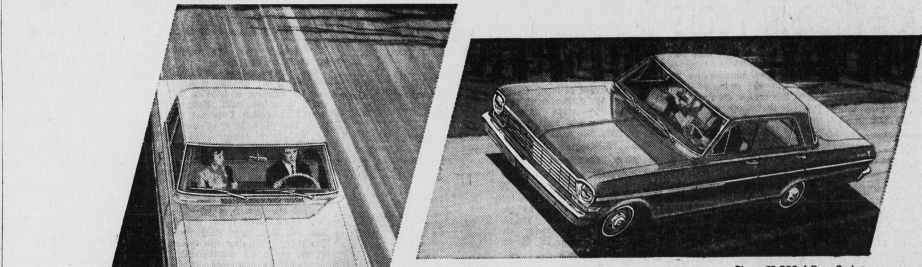

Richard Wallace of Carolina has returned to Glen William. Last fall Mr. Wallace bought the Matheson property in Glen William and is now taking up permanent residence there.

IN NURSING HOME

Murdock MacPhee of Hopefield who has been a patient in the Kings County Memorial Hospital is now a guest at the Campbell Nursing Home, Lower Montague.

VISITS BROTHER

Cecil Johnstone, returned Wednesday to his home in Somerville, Mass. Mr. Johnstone visited his brother, Harry C. Johnstone who is a patient in the Kings County Memorial Hospital.

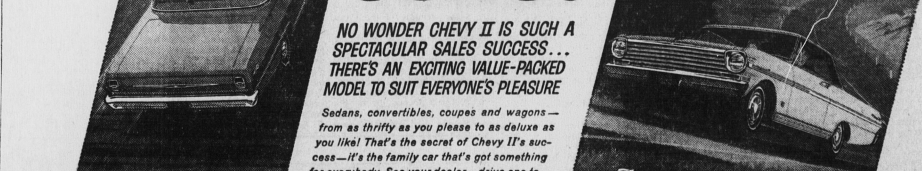

Chevy II 300 4-Door Sedan

Chevy II 100 2-Door Sedan

Chevy II 100 4-Door Station Wagon

Chevy II Nova 400 Sport Coupe

Chevy II Nova 400 Convertible

GO to your Chevrolet dealer's... see why CHEVY II is a CHEVY too!

Be sure to see Bonanza on the CBC-TV network each Sunday. Check your local listing for channel and time.

See your local authorized Chevrolet dealer

ISLAND CHEV. - OLDS. LTD.

Fitzroy Street

on WED. APR. 3rd at 8.30 P.M.

DIAL 894-6577

CFCY-TV
Mon. April 1st
at 6 p.m.

Mrs. Margaret Macdonald

CFCY - RADIO
TUES. APR. 2nd
at 6:50 p.m.

Special joint meeting Kings and Queens Counties, at Morell Community Hall at 8:30 p.m., Monday, April 1st. Speakers, the Hon. J. Angus MacLean, Health Minister, Mrs. Margaret Macdonald.

P.E.I. Conservative Assn.