TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO THE EXAMINER.

The Fisheries Treaty.

LONDON, Aug. 25.

The Standard says: Cleveland may have desired to bring home to the people the wrong which the Senate inflicted upon three countries, but it is more probable that the message was intended as a party move to ensure his re-election. By shifting the conflict, however, from sea to land, removes it from the arena of passion, where an act of indescretion might easily precipitate a catastrophe. This is the least unsatisfactory feature in the business, and strengthens the conviction that President Cleveland will not abandon the idea of bringing the dispute to a peaceful end.

The Daily News says things are bad enough, but not so bad as to justify the faintest breathing of a rumor of war. Lord Salisbury mainly is responsible for the result, in having sent Chamberlain to America.

The Same Old Story.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Aug. 26.

About noon on Saturday, Leona Scheck, the thirteen year old daughter of a widow residing in a house on the corner of City Road and Victoria Street, was dangerously if not fatally wounded by a revolver shot. The little girl lived with her mother on the same flat as W. T. Fraser. As she was passing the door of Mrs. Fraser's apartments the latter called her and asked her to come in as she had something to show her. On the girl entering, Mrs. Fraser drew forth a revolver, and remarking, "Look out, I am going to shoot you," fired the revolver. The child fell, and to Mr. and Mrs. Fraser's horror they realized the revolver which they had believed to be empty was loaded. Mr. Fraser said he loaned his revolver to a friend and it was returned on Saturday; and as he gave it to his friend empty he presumed it was returned empty, and had not the remotest idea that it was loaded.
