

The Daily Examiner

AUGUST 7, 1885.

The New Minister of the Interior.

The promotion of the Hon. Thomas White is hailed with pleasure by all parts of the country. Mr. White, it is admitted on all hands, has fairly earned the honor of a seat in the Privy Council of Canada. He has been actively interested in the public affairs for many years; and there is no man in the Dominion, more familiar with the questions of the day and better prepared to grapple with the problems of the future. His advancement has been more tardy than many of his friends and admirers thought advisable in the interests of the country. But the confidence reposed in him is made evident by the fact that he has at once been placed in charge of a portfolio which, at this juncture, is one of the most important in the gift of the Premier. The Department of the Interior has control of the administration of a quarter of North American Continent. The Great Northwest is now, as a result of the rebellion, in a state of confusion. It will be the duty of the new Minister of the Interior, to reorganize the administration of that part of the country and to reduce the country to order. The task is herculean; but, we have no doubt, Mr. White will begin it with courage and prudence and carry it out with ability and tact. A gentleman who has conducted one of the best managed and most successful newspapers in Canada, will not, we feel sure, be found wanting in the qualities required for the administration of a Department of the Government. It is now admitted by everyone acquainted with public affairs, that the Hon. McKenzie Bowell, Minister of Customs, lately of the Belleville Intelligencer, is one of the ablest and most careful administrators in the Cabinet of Sir John McDonald. We are much mistaken if his brother journalist, the Hon. Thomas White, Minister of the Interior, lately of the Montreal Gazette, does not prove at least equally able and successful in the management of the important Department to which he has been called. We congratulate the country: we congratulate Mr. White.

Lord Randolph.

First—Churchill is a young man, and that is in his favor. The pulse of the times generally beats at the minimum at which life is sustained, and the contrast between this overcelebrated Secretary of State for India and many of his Cabinet conferees is so great that it has even become an element of alarm.

Second—He has apparently very little reverence for traditional methods, which naturally makes some people shake their conservative heads. He goes round the room sweeping away the sacred cobwebs of ancient usage and humming "God Save the Queen" while, until the frantic cries of the ancient and honorable and partially petriined members of his party make the welkin ring.

Third—He, for party purposes, if not from conviction, believes in justice for Ireland. He is willing to make a coalition with the Parnellites, and to acknowledge that there is such a place as Ireland on the map of the world. It may be strange, but it is true, and there Churchill has his feet on very solid ground.

Fourth—He is popular. The people know that he is hot-tempered, sometimes obstinate, or even perverse. Still, he is a live man, and he believes in live measures. Englishmen like earnestness, daring, shrewdness, go-ahead-iveness, and they evidently propose to give his lordship an opportunity to show his mettle.

Cholera is marching on. From Spain it has spread to France, and is now terrorizing Marseilles. Every precaution possible should now be taken to prevent its obtaining a foothold on this continent.

The Halifax Chronicle says: "Sir John Macdonald is intensely popular in P. E. Island just now." This is a fact. No public man is more popular here than Sir John. The Chronicle is "right for once."

Among those who listened to Canon Farrar's eulogy of Gen. Grant in Westminster Abbey on Tuesday, were Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone, the Earl of Iddlesleigh, Earl Granbrook, Prime Minister Salisbury, the Duke of Cambridge, the Marquis of Lorne, General Lord Wolseley, Senor Martinez, the Chilean Ambassador to England, and Chief Justice Waite. Queen Victoria was represented at the service by her equerry. The Prince of Wales, the Duke of Connaught, and the Duke of Edinburgh, were also represented by equeries. The British army was represented by sixteen staff officers. Flags upon the royal residences at Windsor and Osborne, and upon the royal yachts Osborne and Victoria and Albert were lowered and remained down during the memorial service in Westminster Abbey.

The discontented section of the Tories, led by the Whig section of the late Cabinet, are making overtures for a coalition. Sir Wm. Harcourt, Mr. Foster and the Duke of Argyll are exchanging views with the Duke of Richmond, Sir Richard A. Cross and other anti-Churchill members. By coalition it is intended to obtain in the new parliament a majority sufficient to control the Radicals and Parnellites.

The Persian Envoy has handed to the Czar an autograph letter from the Shah with a magnificent gift for the Czarina.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

"You will agree with me, Sir, that a discerning public will judge Mr. Davies not by the number of charges that are hurled against him, but by the men from whom the attacks come, and the motives which prompt them."—Extract from letter signed "Candor," in Patriot.

Sir,—The above affords a good clue to the methods by which Mr. L. H. Davies hopes to keep his chin over the political waters at the next election. Never mind how grave or how numerous the charges against him. His offences may be "rank." They may "smell to Heaven." What of that? By imputing improper motives to his assailants, he hopes to retain his position. This trick has been often played by corrupt and designing men; but I am greatly mistaken if L. H. Davies can practice it successfully on the present occasion. The charges against Mr. Davies are not going to be disposed of in this fashion. No babyish appeals for sympathy, nor any amount of abuse heaped on the heads of those who speak the truth, can shield L. H. Davies from the condemnation he has so richly earned.

Protesting that we had a claim for a portion of the Fishery Award, distinct from Canada, Mr. Louis H. Davies, while Premier and Attorney General of this Island, acted as a counsel for the Dominion, for which services, covering only a month or two of easy work, he demanded and received the sum of $15,000!! He received over $100 for every hour he devoted to the Halifax Commission, but he drew his full salary as Attorney General at the same time, although others were paid by the Government for doing his work!!! Surely this is enough to consign a public man to political death!

But this is not all. By letters to the press previous to the last election, by an explicit declaration in his election card, and by speeches all over this County, he censured our late representatives for not submitting our distinct claim to a vote in the Commons, and solemnly promised that if elected he would bring our claim before the Commons, and test it by a vote. This promise has been systematically violated. No vote on our claim has been yet taken in the House. Although our unfaithful representative could make 48 speeches on the Franchise Bill, he said not one word on the Fishery Award!

The charges against him in this matter are clear and explicit. He betrayed the Island before the Halifax Commission, although paid to protect our interests, and he has openly violated the solemn promises by which he gained his election.

I am, yours, IMPARTIALITY.

Crapaud Notes.

The farmers are having beautiful weather to secure their hay crops, and a good many in this section have already got all under cover. The harvest will soon be in and the prospects of a bountiful harvest at the present time is good.

The fire which occurred here last winter, has not discouraged our citizens, as we can hear the sound of the hammer from early morn until the setting of the sun. O. B. Wadman and Miss Howatt are erecting two fine dwellings here this summer, which, we are sure, when completed, will be a credit to the contractors, Mr. John Creamer and Mr. Best.

Mr. Shaw who was so unfortunate as to be burnt out last winter, has his new store ready for the fall trade. Mr. Peter Newson is also erecting a fine harness shop on the old site, which, when completed, will be a great addition to the place.

The Orange Hall and Methodist Church are also undergoing repairs under the supervision of Messrs. Wadman, French and McKinnon.

The merchants, mechanics, and all parties engaged in business in this place do not complain of hard times. On the contrary they say that business is good. The only trouble is not enough of goods.

Our old friend, Mr. John Saunders, of the firm of Saunders & Campbell, Charlottetown, has paid us another visit. The farmers and traders here are always glad to see Mr. Saunders, as he pays good prices and leaves plenty of greenbacks. This trip he has purchased two hundred sheep and lambs and thirty head of cattle, amounting to the snug little sum of one thousand dollars. Why not welcome!

Crapaud, Aug. 5, 1885. Com.

Sir Leonard Tilley.

Says the Quebec Chronicle: From all accounts that reach us, the conclusion is irresistible that Sir Leonard Tilley is a very sick man. A recent telegram from St. Andrew's, New Brunswick, says that Sir Leonard's physicians have issued positive orders that he shall neither see callers nor engage in correspondence for some time to come, perfect seclusion and cessation from business of any kind being imperative. He is even forbidden to receive telegrams. The despatch further states that repose from all exciting or disturbing influences is the best medicine he can have; and his physicians' orders are being carried out to the very letter. The mistake the Finance Minister made was in rushing home so soon after accomplishing his loan in London. He ought to have taken a few weeks' rest, and remained under the eye of Sir Andrew Clark, who performed the operation on him, for a time. He felt better just before the steamer sailed for Quebec, but the motion of the vessel, and the jolting of the cars during the long ride which he subsequently took, on landing at Rimouski, put him back a great deal. At Ottawa he frightened his intimate friends by his appearance, and it is really a question whether he did right in leaving the capital for St. Andrew's, as soon as he did. Sir Leonard, we know, is an extremely active man, and remaining in quietness is very irksome to him; still he ought to have been governed by the advice of friends, and moved only when he was able. We hope that with rest—complete rest—he will get better and be able to resume his old place at the Council Board.

The Halifax Cotton-Factory held its annual meeting a few days ago. By statements from an authoritative source it is learned that there has been a loss of $3,000 on the year's operations. There is due $80,000 to the Bank of Nova Scotia, and made up and raw stock about equal that. The building and machinery are thus left to represent the capital.

Cholera at Marseilles.

REAPPEARANCE OF THE PLAGUE—FOREIGN CONSULS AND CLEARANCE OF VESSELS.

MARSEILLES, August 3, 1885.—Eight deaths from cholera occurred this morning. Over forty cases have been taken to the hospitals. The Pharo is quite ready to receive patients. Still there is some hope that prompt action may check the disease. Nevertheless, it would be idle to deny that the chances are that Marseilles will see the beginning of another epidemic. The heat is intense. Not a breath of air stirs the sails of the vessels in the harbor. Not a leaf rustles in the shady avenues of the Cours Beizunce. Many a fervent prayer is uttered for a change in the weather. Several more cases of sudden or foudroyant cholera have occurred. People, apparently well and strong, have been struck down in a few hours. Nothing has yet been done to disinfect the filthy houses tenanted by filthier lodgers, which, even in the heart of the city, form a constant menace to public health. Foreign Consuls have decided to give only unclean bills of health for the present to vessels leaving this port.

SILVER JUBILEE OF BISHOP McINTYRE.—Excursion Return Tickets, at one first-class fare, will be issued from Tignish and all intermediate stations west of Summerside, and all stations east of there at which express trains stop, to Charlottetown, and from Souris, Georgetown, and all intermediate stations to Charlottetown, by afternoon trains on August 11th inst.; also from Summerside, Souris, Georgetown, and all intermediate stations to Charlottetown, by forenoon trains on August 12th, all tickets being good to return up to and including 13th August, inst., to parties attending the Silver Jubilee of His Lordship, the Bishop of Charlottetown.

THE Truro Sun of Wednesday says: The Hon. A. W. McLellan, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, and Mrs. McLellan, reached Great Village yesterday. They will be in Truro this evening. Mr. McLellan will leave to-morrow night for Halifax, en route to Sable Island, per S. S. Newfield, and thence to Lunenburg and other places along the southern coast of the province, where he has to inspect lights, foghorns and other public works under his supervision. He will return shortly to this county.

AN Ottawa despatch reports that the Department of Customs has issued an order prohibiting the importation of American reprints of the Pall Mall Gazette articles upon London's vice. A distinction is drawn between the original Pall Mall Gazette issues and these reprints. The latter the department regards as published for immoral purposes, and to render to purient tastes.

THE need of a reformatory says the Chronicle is deplored by the police of Halifax more and more from day to-day. The City Marshal's Report for the last civic year showed that 38 criminals under 12 years of age, and 76 aged between 12 and 16 had been arrested.

WILL be received at my office until WEDNESDAY, August 12th, at 6 o'clock, p. m., for printing Programmes, Handbills, Tickets, &c., for the P. E. Island Exhibition, 1885. Samples of work shown at my office: A. McNEILL, Secretary. August 7, '85.—3i
