The offering was received and dedicated by the singing of the offertory hymn. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the Secretary, Rhena Llewellyn, and were approved as read. There were nine members present. Joanne Waterworth and Marjorie Gillis were appointed on the worship committee for the next meeting and plans were discussed for having a Halloween party. The meeting closed with the Friendship Circle and Taps.

Mr. MacDonald explained the conditions which gave rise to the setting up of the Potato Board in 1949, and of the Selling Agency in 1953. He said that in view of the price slump in the spring of 1953, representations had been made to Ottawa, where he was informed that the Government would give support if there was operation under a pool system to conform with the co-operative marketing act. The system was set up, and in due time an agreement was signed with Ottawa. The selling agency, he said, marketed eight and a half million bushels of potatoes last year which would show that it had performed a notable accomplishment despite the fact that marketing conditions were most unfavorable. This year the Board had drawn up a tentative policy, when a meeting was held in Summerside and another at the forum, opposition developed, and the government saw fit to call another plebiscite, and during this period the plan is being held in abeyance.

Mr. MacDonald went on to outline the Board's policies for this year, and also reviewed the promotional work accomplished during the past few years.

Mr. MacDonald went on to outline the Board's policies for this year, and also reviewed the promotional work accomplished during the past few years.

Mr. Bruce Judson of Alexandria asked if several markets had been lost. Mr. MacDonald stated that the Island had supplied the Southern States with 95% of its seed last year. Other markets were being established in Cuba and South America, and also that several European markets were being explored.

Mr. Joseph MacIsaac, Vernon River, asked if the rumor was true that the Board would make only an initial payment of 60%. Mr. MacDonald stated that this would depend on whether or not the operation was under an agreement. If there was no agreement, then it would necessarily be a banking proposition, and if arrangements could be made.

Mr. Brendan Curran of Alberry Plains asked if it was true that should the Board try to maintain too high a price, that Maine and New Brunswick would undersell. Mr. MacDonald stated that the Province had always faced this competition, but he said, the worst situation existed within the Province where the dealers competed with one another, cutting prices and depressing the market. The Board, he said, with control over the product, could retain a uniform price thus giving the best possible returns to the farmer.

SHRINKAGE DISCUSSED
Mr. Leo Praught of Cherry Valley asked if potatoes were paid for which had not been received, and who paid the loss. Mr. MacDonald stated that there was a difference of 117,000 bushels, the loss for which the government would pay. He stated that at the beginning of the season heavy pressure came on the new organization. He said further that normal shrinkage of 5% would account for 75,000 bushels, but regarding the remainder the matter was still under investigation. He noted undue shrinkage at Morrell (21%), Northam (24%) and Charlottetown (22%), where these warehouses were under the contract of the dealers, while at Georgetown where the Board had full control the shrinkage was only 17%. He said that the dealers did not follow the regulations, and large quantities of potatoes were lying in cars on the track and others in the Charlottetown shed of which the Board had not received notification. Some potatoes had to wait 5 weeks for shipment, and as a result the Board had to take over these potatoes and pay the producer. "We trusted the dealers to keep records," he said, "but we do not know what happened. If we can find out someone will be held responsible." This year, he said, potatoes will be stored only in warehouses where the Board has control, or in those where the dealer will be held responsible for every bag that goes in and out.

Mr. Lloyd Martin asked what it had cost to operate the agency. Mr. MacDonald said that it had cost $140,000.00, half of which had gone for interest charges. All other charges amounted to about one cent per bushel.

Mr. Gus Callaghan of Vernon River asked what position would the Board have if there was no agency. "It would be an ineffective organization," Mr. MacDonald replied, "for without control over the product so as to stop the dealers from price cutting, it could not maintain a uniform price."

On a question from the chairman regarding whether the trade would rather buy from the dealers or the agency, Mr. MacDonald replied that he considered the latter the case, since it had been his experience that buyers were reluctant to buy from the dealers here at one price only to find when they arrived at their market, a small shipment had arrived selling Island potatoes at a lower price. He said they preferred to buy from the agency which held to a uniform price. Mr. MacDonald also spoke against the practice of selling futures which he considered poor business for the producer in the long run.

Other speakers included Herman Gill, Golin Naddy and John MacMillan, who spoke briefly. The meeting concluded with a vote of thanks being extended Mr. MacDonald.

Local Canadian Legion Branch Monthly Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Charlottetown Branch Canadian Legion B. E. S. L. was held in the Clover Club last evening and was called to order by the President, Stan Bryant.

The meeting opened with one verse of O' Canada, after which a period of silence was held in memory of fallen comrades.

Comrade Joe Hughes reported for the poppy committee. He said that the campaign was progressing favorably and that the street sale of poppies would start on Friday, November 5th. His report was seconded by Com. Clow and adopted.

Comrade Mortimer for the sick and visiting committee reported seventy-nine veterans in hospital. These had been visited and given cigarettes twice during the month. He also announced to the meeting that he had contacted the Red Cross who had now affiliated themselves with the sick and visiting committee and would visit sick veterans in hospital on the first and third week of every month, while he himself would visit them on the second and fourth week, thus veteran sick will now be visited and receive treats weekly. Comrade Phil Palmer warmly congratulated Com. Mortimer on this arrangement.

Comrade Bowland reported for the Clover Club committee. His report was very favorably received and was adopted by the meeting.

Comrade Rush reported for the canteen committee and his report was adopted without question.

The Finance report which was considered to be very satisfactory, was given by Com. Jack Leightner. Com. P. Smith, speaking for the publicity committee said he had reported all the Branch activities to the press and that he hoped the coming campaign for blood donations would be well patronized by all veterans.

He then spoke re the coming blood donor campaign which is being sponsored this time by the Charlottetown Branch of Canadian Legion. Com. Brown spoke very enthusiastically in favor of this action by the executive.

The meeting was notified that "The one hundred and fifth" association had planned a reunion here in Charlottetown next summer (Centennial year) and would like to know if they could have interested in V. L. A. enrollment for a course which will be given free by V. L. A. to interesting veterans. Com. Vern MacDonald then explained the finer and more technical points re V. L. A. construction, specifications, regulations, etc. Com. Brown then told the meeting something re the veterans housing plan under which he built his home after World War I. He moved a vote of thanks to the two V. L. A. Staff members, for the very interesting and instructive talks given. This was very heartily seconded by Com. Phil Palmer.
