

MARITIME PREMIERS HOLD DISCUSSION

Teachers' Meeting

A meeting of the executive of the Prince Edward Island Teachers' Federation was held in the Federation Office, Charlottetown, on Saturday. All the members were present.

Receipts for fees were ordered to be sent to the three Federation members at the A-M Johnson School. Bills, presented for various functions for the Easter Convention, were ordered to be paid. There was a considerable discussion on the holding of future workshops, and a suggested agenda was planned to be sent to the President of the Board of Governors meeting to be held on Saturday, May 26, was arranged.

It was decided that the Teachers' Aid should carry on as formerly, but as well the general secretary was asked to explore the possibility of having outlines prepared by the teachers on social studies, literature, etc. Two resolutions, one re the use of the College during Convention Week; the other, from the Charlottetown Rural Study Group re the holding of a credit-giving Summer School, are to be sent to those concerned. Considerable correspondence was read and disposed of.

THE WEEK AT S. D. U.

Here at Saint Dunstan's, the topic currently in the air seems to be the forthcoming annual Students' Union elections, and slowly but with the proverbial sureness, the political wheels are gathering momentum. Here and there around the campus, the usual small cliques are gathering around the mythical cracker barrels and striving with all their might to outwit and unwind one another as they expound with all the rhetorical cleverness that they have gleaned from the year's speech classes on so-and-so's capabilities for such-and-such an office. The funny thing is that with a set of exams just over, you wouldn't think there would be so much hot air around the place.

Since the election date has been set for this coming Monday, April 16, and since on that day the students will have to make known their choice for the positions of president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer on the Students' Union Executive, we feel that we can expect an intensive program of speechifying between now and then. It would seem that some of the fellows are going to have to haul the lights of their qualifications out from beneath their taciturn bushels, or have someone else do it, if these elections are going to be in any way successful. It would almost seem that each prospective candidate is afraid of winning by acclamation, and is therefore a bit timid about dipping his toe into the stream, but unless quite a few make the plunge pretty quickly, it's going to be difficult for the student body to make a choice. We won't attempt to predict the outcome of this political race, but just sit tight and trust in the ability of the Saints to choose what is best for themselves.

A MIRACLE

Last Wednesday, April 11, the fifth general meeting of the student body was held in the Assembly Hall and, Mirabile Dictu, there was a voting quorum present. The assembled students first heard Thomas V. Grant give a report on the regional conference of the Canadian Federation of Catholic College Students which he attended at Mount Saint Vincent's College in Halifax last April 7th and 8th. In his report, Mr. Grant outlined the resolutions that were passed in this conference, and they consisted principally of items that are to be referred to the national conference of the C.F.C.C.S. when it next convenes. Mr. Grant mentioned a proposal brought forth at this conference that the Maritime colleges next year effect a temporary student exchange for a period of about a week in order that the exchange students might be able to bring back to their home colleges some of the views, ideas, interests, and the like that prevail in the other institutions of higher learning in the Maritimes. If this proposal is adopted, Mr. Grant stated, each of the colleges participating in the program will be assessed an amount somewhere in the vicinity of five dollars to cover the registration and general office expenses involved. It would seem that a program of this nature would not only provide excellent experience for the students chosen to take part in it, but it would also help greatly to integrate the thinking of the various institutions on major issues and common problems. We feel that the Students' Union, the student body in general, and the faculty too would back any concrete venture along these lines that might be forthcoming from C.F.C.C.S. Since there was a voting quorum present at this meeting, the necessary legislation was passed to amend the constitution of the Students' Union to allow for the admission of the Sigma Delta Upsilon Sorority and the campus branch of the C.F.C.C.S. to the Union with all the privileges accorded to the other campus societies. Since we have already transcribed the particulars of this move in past issues of "The Week", and that almost ad nauseam, we can now quietly relegate this topic to the crowded pigeon-hole marked "Finished Business." ATHLETIC AWARDS The next item on the agenda for the evening was the presentation of the athletic "D's" to the several qualifying students by the president of the A.A.A., Russell McInnis. In the lineup for the hockey letters were: Jerry Burns, and Ray Gonet; and in basketball: Aub Farmer, John Kelly, and Mike Swift. For excellence in the track competition held before the snows came to engulf us, Eddie MacDonald merited his letter for setting a new high jump record, while Gene Lake took one home for having massed a total of seventeen points in the meet. In football, Louie MacDonald merited his second athletic "D" and so earned the right to wear a bronze pin. Before distributing the spoils, Mr. McInnis gave a brief rundown of the regulations that govern the awarding of the athletic letters, and on looking back at these, it was easy to see that those who stroled to the front of the room to receive the official recognition of their athletic excellence had really earned their reward, and we congratulate them. There followed a brief discourse by the president on the coming annual elections. Mr. Wedge outlined the rules for the elections and called upon the students to lend their support by submitting their nominations for the various positions as soon as possible. The remainder of the meeting was spent in a discussion of the possibilities of introducing Canadian football to the campus next fall. Mr. Russell McInnis was called upon to give a brief report on the current situation, and he explained why Saint Dunstan's found themselves out in the cold so to speak and almost forced to introduce Canadian football to the campus. He presented a condensed picture of the financial implications of a move of this sort, both as to the high initial outlay to purchase the basic equipment, and the increase that would necessarily come to traveling expenses whenever the team would be called upon to play away. He pointed out that there would also have to be an increase in lo-

ed white with green trimmings. A big plastic sign will announce the location during the day and night. Getting to the background of the young druggists Mr. MacLellan is a native of Indian River, the son of Mrs. Joseph MacLellan and the late Joseph MacLellan. He matriculated from his home school after which he attended Saint Dunstan's University for three years where he was an outstanding student and athlete. He served his druggist's apprenticeship with the Enman Drug Co. Ltd., Summerside, and studied at the Maritime College of Pharmacy. He was Maritime representative for the Charles Pfizer Drug Co., the world's largest producers of antibiotics and spent three years as dispenser with the E. Clinton Brown Drug Store in Saint John, one of the most ethical drug stores in New Brunswick. Mr. MacLellan is also a qualified fitter of trusses and abdominal belts having taken a course in this line of work in Ottawa. He also took the Kodak camera course at Rochester, New York. He is married to the former Viola Beamish of Rothesay, New Brunswick. They have one child. Mr. MacDonald, is very well known in Island pharmaceutical circles, being President of the Prince Edward Island Pharmaceutical Association.

The new young druggists have adopted the slogan "Where two skills meet" meaning the skill of the physician in prescribing meets with the skill of the pharmacist in dispensing the prescription.

Mr. MacDonald and Mr. MacLellan bring a background of ability, experience and popularity in to their new business which augurs well for their future success. Both are Registered Pharmacists having studied at the Maritime College of Pharmacy which is affiliated with Dalhousie University.

In deciding to implement their four point service program, they will be carrying out a policy that has proven most satisfactory to drug store customers. To conduct their prescription service they have a modern gleaming white dispenser through two large front windows and artificial lighting being supplied by the new slim line fluorescent lighting system.

The lower three quarters of the walls are covered with natural plywood above which the walls are painted green and the ceiling white. They will handle the popular brands of cosmetics and drug store needs and Miss Maureen Bell will help customers to purchase their requirements.

An important feature of the new drug store will be the motorized delivery service with regular delivery throughout the City and special immediate delivery if the customer requests it.

The final point of their Big-Four program is the mail order service. Mail orders will be filled immediately upon arrival and returned to the Post office in time to catch the return mail.

As an added attraction this week Messrs. MacLellan and MacDonald are sponsoring a number of opening week specials. These include free samples of creams, lotions and various products, merchandise awards which will be given out daily and a draw on Friday night for a beautiful dresser set
