Scientific Miscellany.

A CHAPTER IN WORLD LIFE.—In an ingenious romance entitled "The Last Days of the Earth," M. Camille Flammarion, the French astronomer, draws a picture of a time about 2,200,000 years after Christ. The earth had then been inhabited about 22,000,000 years. The primordial age had taken not less than 10,000,000 years to go through its several phases; the primary age had occupied more than 6,000,000 years, the secondary age, 2,300,000 years, the tertiary age, 500,000 years, the primitive human age, the time of national divisions, of barbarism, and of militarism, had filled about 300,000 years; and the sixth age, that of intellectual humanity, had reigned for nearly 2,000,000 years. During that long succession of ages the earth had grown older and the sun colder, the water had slowly penetrated the earth's crust, contracting the sea to a fourth of its area in early human times. All except warm valleys and the equatorial regions was frozen. Humanity, become a unified race, had attained forms of exquisite beauty, and no longer worked materially, depending on a network of electricity to produce all that was needed. Paris, London, Rome, Vienna and New York were buried beneath the ice, and the centre of civilzation was removed to the brilliant city of Suntown in equatorial Africa. The last limits of a luxurious and voluptuous civilization were reached, wives no longer became mothers, and the soil itself had become barren. The end was approaching. At last the sole survivors, a pair of young lovers, entered their aerial boat, and floated away to the ruins of the Great Pyramid, where they behold the snow settle upon Suntown and closed their eyes in death. The snow continued to fall. The earth continued to revolve upon its axis, and to float through space; the sun continued to shine, but with a reddish and barren light, and stars to scintillate in the immensity of the heavens.

GLACIATION OR CREMATION.—An English astronomer, Mr. E. L. Garbett, objects to Flammarion's imagery, and declares that the calculations are made absurd by the fact that in 22,000,000 years the earth would plunge into 80 or 90 comets which would be picked up as new permanent atmospheres. Late spectroscopic discoveries, moreover, indicate that several of these comets of the next 2,200,000 years will be hydro-carbon, "exactly realizing St. Peter's prediction that the heavens being on fire shall pass away with a great noise, the earth also, and the works therein being burned up."

CAUSES OF CANCER.—An investigation of cancer has convinced Mr. Herbert Snow, an English writer, that the disease is chiefly of nervous origin, though it is often induced by direct mechanical injury or irritation. He finds litttle evidence of hereditary influence. The disease is increasing at an accelerating rate, the aggregate mortality in England and Wales having risen from 8,117 in 1864 to 17,506 in 1888, or from 385 to 610 per million persons. A similar growth is found in Scotland and Ireland, and Dr. Fordyce Baker has shown that the number of deaths per million in New York rose from 400 in 1875 to 530 in 1885. No greater liability to local injury exists than formerly, while, on the other hand, the cares of life are becoming greater, and one cannot avoid being struck by the large number of victims who speak of antecedent trouble, worry or mental anxiety. Moreover, it is to be noted that the female, the more nervous and emotional sex, is the principal sufferer from cancer, and that the organs most affected are those especially influenced by the emotions.

NOT UNIVERSALLY KNOWN.—A blush is defined by Dr. T. C. Minor as "a temporary erythema and calorific effulgence of the physiognomy, aetiologized by the perceptiveness of the censorium when in a predicament of unequilibrity from a sense of shame, anger or other cause, eventuating in a paresis of the vaso-motor capillaries, whereby, being divested of their elasticity, they are suffused with radiant, aerated, compound nutritive circulating liquid, emanating from an intimidated præcordia.

LUMINOUS BACTERIA.—A French authority states that there are five species of light-giving microbes. Of these, two species are the common luminous bacteria of phosphorescent fish—the Photobacterium Pflugeri and the Phosphorescens, the former being the most luminous microbe known. The luminous bacteria of the Baltic include two varieties of one species (P. Fischeri), distinguishable only by the fact that one liquefies gelatine and the other does not. The others are allied species—the P. indicum of West Indian seas and the P. luminosum of the North Sea.

Liquid chlorine is now supplied as an article of commerce by a chemical establishment on the Rhine.

WASTE OF LIFE IN FRANCE.—Among the suggested causes of the stationary condition of the population of France is the great mortality from smallpox and typhoid fever. Dr. Brouardel has pointed out that while Germany loses only 110 persons a year from smallpox, France loses 14,000, and that the deaths by typhoid fever amount to 40,000. This emphasizes the necessity of making vaccination and revaccination obligatory, and of providing a supply of pure water for the towns. Such remedies, Dr. Brouardel affirms, would save to the country from 25,000 to 30,000 lives annually, and these mostly of young persons of marriageable age.

MEDICINE IN THIBET.—The medical authorities of Thibet, according to M. Ptitsyn, recognize 101 fundamental diseases, which are treated with 429 elementary drugs. Only two of the diseases (paralysis and a kind of influence of the planets) and three of the drugs (the bones of a dragon, the horns and the skin of a unicorn) are attributed to a mythical origin. The drugs are chiefly herbs, seeds, fruits, roots, flowers, and partly mineral matters. Samples of 202 of them have been brought to St. Petersburg for analysis.

The great prevalence of locusts in Cyprus in modern times is believed by Sir Robert Biddulph to be due to the destruction of the forests. The resulting barrenness of the soil has favored locust life, and, as the wood-growth is not likely to be restored, the crowding out of the pest depends upon the increase of the population and cultivation.

The idea that the action of light on fugitive dyes will eventually teach us something concerning the character and size of molecules has been advanced by Capt. W. de W. Abney.

Recent German tests have shown that the loss in weight of steel rails from wear and rusting is in about an inverse proportion to the tensile strength of the metal.

Late statistics credit Prussia with 91 persons over 100 years old, and show that of over 7,000 persons of more han 100 who died between 1864 and 1888 not less than 155 were more than 109.

The Fishery Bulletin.

HALIFAX, May 29.—The herring fishery, to-day, is reported as follows: In Quebec, good at Perce, fair at Grand River; in New Brunswick, good at Shippegan, poor at Escuminac, and none at Carraquet; in P. E. Island, fish are reported schooling off North Cape and a few were taken at Malpeque and Georgetown; in Cape Breton, good at Mabou, poor at North Sydney, Louisburg, Arichat; in Nova Scotia there are no reports of any taken excepting a fair catch at Digby.

The lobster fishing was fair at Carraquet, N. B., good at Shippegan and very good at Escuminac. It was good at Malpeque, P. E. Island, and Mahone, C. B., fair at Louisburg and Arichat and good at St. Peters. Good hauls were taken at Isaac's Harbor, N. S., fair at Spry Bay and Liverpool; were good at Pubnico and Digby.

Codfish were taken to-day for the first this season at Perce and Grand River and a few were caught during the week at Carraquet, N. B. On the Cape Breton coast a few were taken at Cheticamp, North Sydney and Louisburg. In Nova Scotia, fair catches were made at Isaac's Harbor, Spry Bay, Liverpool, Port Latour, Digby, and a Brooklyn vessel reports the fish plentiful 18 miles off La Have.

Haddock fishing is good at Arichat, Whitehead, and fair at Digby.

Mackerel are reported striking in at Arichat, showing better size at Whitehead, and very plentiful at Isaac's Harbor, Pubnico and John's Island. A few are being taken at Spry Bay and Port Latour, and the catch is reported fair at Digby.

Boston Markets.

BOSTON, May 28.

EGGS.—The market has been steadily working upward, and at the close prices are ruling 2c. higher than a week ago. There is a good supply offering, however, and demand is not very active at the advance. Eastern extras are still in moderate supply. There were liberal receipts from P. E. Island by Monday's boat and sales were generally at 17c. At the close, good P. E. Island, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick stock is quotable at 18c. Sales are now made "loss off."

POTATOES.—Receipts of old stock have been larger than last week, and there has also been a marked increase in the arrivals of new southern. Demand for old stock has been rather light, and prices for most kinds have declined with a slow trade at the close at quotations. Chenangoes sell at a dollar a bushel in bags, 95 cents ex schooners.

Add to Your Vocabulary.

(From Harper's Bazar.)

A certain father constantly told his daughters, "Girls, get new words into your vocabularies!" It was plain his admonition was heeded. Seldom were girls met whose language was as varied and picturesque as theirs. They were never at a loss to express exactly what they intended. They used different phrases to describe different feelings and sensations, and the proper one appeared where it was needed. After talking to the average girl, to whom everything is "awfully sweet," or "simply dreadful," and whose terms for joy or grief, assent or denial, can be confidently predicted it was a pleasure as well as a relief to listen to these bright young people, whose conversation showed what may be accomplished with a little effort.

The English language made up as it is of words derived from the principal languages of the world, holds immense possibilities for the student. Those able to speak or write it easily, who have a ready command of a correct phraseology, possess a power quickly recognized and strongly felt. And it is a power which a sufficient amount of study can give to those willing to take the trouble to acquire it.

Everyone may not be able to write freely and with the most agreeable effect to the reader, although, with the requiste amount of pains, more could be done in this direction than most people suppose. But it is at least possible for young people—and some older people—to "get a few new words into their vocabularies." A book of synonyms is an easily acccessible help. It could teach a few adjectives besides those in every-day use, which are frequently worn threadbare. Indeed, some of these stock phrases have become meaningless. A family which established a fine for the use of any one of them, coupled with a reward for a clever application of a new word, might institute a reform which would spread, as do the ripples, until it covered a whole corner of society's millpond.

FOR OVER FIFTY YEARS Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by millions of mothers for their children while cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best-known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.
