Catholic Church At Seven Mile Bay Destroyed As Lightning Starts Fire

—St. Peter's Roman Catholic hurch at Seven Mile Bay, about ıree miles from Borden, was ompletely destroyed by fire hen struck by lightning about a. m. yesterday morning, dur- ig a severe electrical storm.

The fire was discovered by erwyn Huestis, about 19, son of fr. and Mrs. Steven Huestis, hose home is nearby. Following particularly heavy crash of hunder he had arisen to check heir farm buildings, and in his nvestigation of these and other earby buildings, he discovered hat the church was on fire.

He immediately summoned the arish priest, Rev. Reginald Mc- onald, from the parochial house ross the highway from the hurch, but so quickly did the ire progress that they, and ot- ers who soon gathered, were able to save only a few items a- mong which were the blessed sacrament and the holy vessels.

The lightning is thought to have struck the chimney which extended only to the ceiling of the church, and the fire began some- where in this upper part of the structure.

FANNED BY BREEZE

Fanned by a moderate breeze prevailing at the time the paroch- ial house, church hall, and a small garage were at first en- dangered by the fire which raged furiously through the large wood- en church, but the wind shifted slightly carrying the sparks and burning embers away from these buildings and towards the large horse-shed and other nearby homes.

The shed, which has a large shingled roof, required steady at- tention from firefighters who gathered, and, while their efforts are said to have prevented the loss of this building, it is consid- ered that the fire would certainly have spread had it not been that everything had been drenched by very heavy rain that fell during the electrical storm.

The loss of the church is part- ially covered by insurance.

When word of the fire reached Summerside the pumper truck of the Fire Department was sent to the scene, but on arrival was too late to be of active assistance but stood by for a time to assist in preventing the fire from spread- ing.

BUILT IN 1852

This church had been renovated and remodelled three times since its original construction 103 years ago, and it measured 100 x 45 feet.

In 1900 a dome was added and other changes were made, and in 1949 the interior was entirely redecorated by Arnold McGrath of Seven Mile Bay.

This church, which had a seating capacity of about 500, served a parish of 133 families comprising about 900 persons, in the districts of Albany, Searletown, Fernwood, Chelton, Bedeque, North Carleton, Carleton, Cape Traverse, Augustine Cove, and Tryon.

The resident priest in charge of the parish is Rev. Reginald Mc- Donald, with Rev. Preston Hamill as assistant priest.

Replacement cost of the church and fixtures was estimated at $100,000, by Father McDonald, who said that the loss was "only partially covered by insurance."

Father McDonald, previous to his pastorate at Seven Mile Bay, was parish priest at Indian River, and before that he served overseas with the Canadian Army for six years during World War II, and has also been located in pastorates at Rollo Bay and at Brae.

While plans for the immediate future were not definite, it is un- derstood that a new church will be constructed, and that in the meantime, services will be held in the church hall.

LUNCHEON MEETING

James MacLean, D.D.S., L.D.S., F.I.C.D., Dean of Dalhousie Dent- al School was guest speaker at the luncheon meeting in which he stressed the need of sound and wise suggestions to Government if and when required to deal with certain aspects of any Govern- ment health plan. "The subject must be approached with a view to serving the public", Dr. Mac- Lean said.

"Such a movement is in the offing and it behooves us to urge young boys of ability and char- acter to enter the profession and so be prepared to some extent to look after the requirements of such a set up". "We are not in- terested in numbers but rather in quality", Dr. MacLean said.

He then pointed out the need of training of personnel in all branches and emphasized that re- quirements for such a program as has been suggested, if effect- ive at an early date, would find the Dental Profession from coast to coast "caught short".

Head table guests in order of seating were: Dr. J. P. MacGuig- an, Dr. H. K. Brown, Dr. Geo. Dewis, Mrs. Helen Marsh, Dr. Carlos Weil, Dr. B. J. O'Mera (Chairman), Dr. Jas. MacLean, Dr. John Theriault, Dr. Don. Eaton, Dr. J. P. Coupland.

Seven Mile Bay Church Before Fire

Seen above is Seven Mile Bay Roman Catholic Church, about three miles from Borden, which was completely de- stroyed by fire when struck by lightning early yesterday. Altar, organ, and church bell were among the many fix- tures lost in the fire, however, among the few items saved were the Blessed Sacrament and the holy vessels. The church measured 100 x 45 feet, and had a seating capa- city of about 500 persons. Its replacement value, only par- tially covered by insurance, is estimated to be in the vicinity of $100,000.

4-H Clubs

Leaf" Calf Club; Gerard Trainor representing Baldwin's Road Poul- try Club and Kevin Blacquiere, winner of the contest for King, representing North Rustico "Stella Maris" Garden Club.

Judges at the preliminary con- test were Mr. R. C. Parent, Su- perintendent of the Charlottetown Experimental Farm; Mr. Frank Nicholson, C.BC Farm Newscaster, Halifax, and Mrs. Neil A. Mathe- son. Judges for the final event were Premier A. W. Matheson, Mayor D. Stewart and Mrs. M. J. Doyle, president of the Prince Edward Island Women's Institutes.

DIFFICULT TASK

Premier Matheson, who made the final announcement of the winners, said "Many a task that I have been called upon to per- form has been easier than that which I have been upon to do this afternoon." He described the presentations made by the boys and girls as outstanding, noting the difficulty of judging youth against young manhood and young womanhood. The Premier showed keen interest in the day's pro- ceedings which no doubt brought nostalgic memories of his own youth on the farm.

It was a wonderful day for the rural youth of the Province which was climaxed by a mamouth street parade of over 400 4-H Club members and members of the Junior Federation of Agri- culture. One could not help being impressed by the sincerity of the efforts of these future citizens of tomorrow as thep proudly told of their achievements during the past year.

"Their Majesties looked impres- sive as they were transported on a huge Department of Agriculture float through the streets of Char- lottetown at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The float was appro- priately drawn by a large farm tractor, driven by Mr. Bud Mac- Murtry, Agricultural Engineer for the Province. Dr. George Fisher, director of Veterinary Service for Prince Edward Island was parade marshall.

EXPERIMENTAL FARM TOUR

Club members not participating for the King and Queen honors were taken on a tour of the Ex- perimental Farm through courtesy of Mr. R. C. Parent. There they saw the flower plots, hedges and windbreaks. Many for the first time saw an apiary and heard the story of how honey is pro- cessed. The forenoon part of the tour ended with an inspection of the poultry house and killing plant.

In the afternoon the boys and girls had a chance to see the new greenhouse at the farm. A visit to the farm's dairy herd was of particular interest to calf club members. Next they were taken to the advanced registry station where it was explained how these tests are carried out. A tour of field plots and a visit to the Science Service Laboratory com- prised a very interesting and in- structive day. There were 48 of the Province's 130 4-H Clubs rep- resented in yesterday's activities. The co-operation of the Boy Scouts Band in providing music for the street parade was very much appreciated. "Learn to do by doing," which is the motto of 4-H Club members, was aptly demonstrated yesterday.

Sport Echoes From Prince County

We want to thank F/O Jack MacAndrew, of the sports depart- ment of R.C.A.F. Station in Sum- merside, for the fine picture his department presented us with. The picture includes John McNeill, sports columnist; Lowell Huestis, radio announcer; your humble and grateful "Sport Echoes" compiler; and last but not least, (which is the understatement of the year), "Mr. Hockey" himself, Foster Hewitt.

• • •

On the night of our interview with Foster Hewitt we were prom- ised pictures as souvenirs of the occasion. Our fondest hopes did not envisage a beautifully mount- ed, 13 by 11 inch photo. Needless to say, it will be the daddy of all our souvenirs.

• • •

"Mr. Hockey" is everything you'd expect a man in his position to be. Friendly, easy of approach, and a gifted conversationalist. His stories of his experiences, told be- fore the interview, some of them "off the record" were very inter- esting. Particularly the one about George Raft, the he-man hero of the movies, who was following Foster up the cat-walk to his death grip on one of the uprights, gondola. Suddenly Raft took a and refused to go further. They finally got him to the broadcasting booth, however.

• • •

Foster's debunking of the claims of the old-timers that old-time athletes were better than modern examples of athletics was par- ticularly interesting to us, old- timer ourselves, but pretty much a traitor to the cause. Foster pointed out that in track events, about the only branch of athletics that presents an accurate basis of comparison, the boys today are lowering the old records continual- ly.

• • •

He had some good advice to our young athletes too. He said a hoc- key player was always "on show". He was judged by his actions both on and off the ice. Clean-living was essential if one wanted to reach the height of popularity in the hockey game.

• • •

The men's softball league, which this year is the "big tent" in the year's "circus" of Summerside sporting activities, is creating considerable interest. So far the Crystal Dairy team and the R.C.A. F. Flyers are the only clubs un- beaten, the milkmen having won four and the Flyers two. But none of the other clubs are push-overs. The games have, with one ex- ception, been close, and the tail- end teams are quite capable of springing upsets at any time.

• • •

Edgar Taylor, smart second- baseman for Kinkora Silver Wings, is leading the hitters with a .533 average, but Neil Walker of the Crystal Dairy is breathing down his neck with a .579. Joe Bernard is hitting the water-melon at an even .500 clip. In the RBI depart- ment Joe Bernard has the lead with 10, Walker and Taylor are crowding him with 9 each. Of course, players of the other teams have played less games, and some of them will be in the RBI contention when games even up. Charlie Ballem leads the pitchers with 3 victories against no defeats.

• • •

Some Prince County highlights of the week: Michael's Scott's vic- tory in the interscholastic mile in Charlottetown, his first try at track competition; Alfred Groom's winning of the all-round trophy in the same meet; Donnie Cameron's surprise win over Kinkora in the first softball pitching assignment of his career. Wilfred Barlow's winning of the interscholastic half- mile, and his mad dash to the tape to clip Jack Kane and win the relay for Summerside after the Queen Square boys had apparent- ly established a safe lead. Don Rogers' winning of the interschol- astic quarter-mile, Windsor Arsen- ault winning the interscholastic bike race, and placing second in the ten-mile bike race on Dominion Day.
