EXITS INADEQUATE

SINGAPORE (Reuters) — The influx into the crash of a British which killed 33 persons here last March, ended Monday. Solicitor-General C. H. Butterfield after hearing 49 days of evidence said "There is no doubt that in this particular case the plane's safety emergency exits were inadequate, the airport's fire equipment was inadequate, but that the rescue equipment was adequate."

General Sir Neil

a graduate of Sandhurst and originally enlisted with the famous Black Watch in 1914 as a Second Lieutenant. Three years later he won his captaincy and his majority in 1934.

He became a Lieutenant Colonel in 1936 and was named a full colonel in 1939 at which time he was in command of the 2nd King's Own Regiment, Lancashire.

He became a General in 1943 and won full rank as a General in 1947. Among the units he has headed are the 51st Highland Division, the 52nd Lowland Division, Commander of the 12th Corps and Commander of the 8th Army, Libya. He was General Officer Commanding in Chief in Scotland, Scottish Command, Governor of Edinburgh Castle, Commander in Chief of the Far East Land Force, Member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff at Washington, D.C., U.S.A., and Aide de Camp General to his late Majesty King George 6th.

When the General retired from the service in 1951 he decided to come to Canada after hearing his wife, the former Miss C. Minnie, Kingston, Ont., tell him so much about it. He had never been to the island before and accompanied by his wife and two youngsters, Dugald, above, and Anne, he wanted to see this part of Canada.

General Ritchie is now the president of the Mercantile and Reinforcing Company of Canada, Toronto.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Mrs. Vincent Mallett, who departed this life at her home at Travellers Rest, August 15, 1952.

We do not know what pain she bore
We did not see her die
We only know she passed away
And never said good-bye.

Always remembered by Mary and Louise.

World Council of Churches Proposes Plans For Stronger Inter-Church Ties

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Delegates Monday took a look at the early machinery designed for developing unity of faith among widespread members of the World Council of Churches.

A plan of organization was proposed by Rev. Leslie Cooke, secretary of the Congregational Union of England and Wales, on behalf of the WCC's committee on structure.

Mr. Cooke told 1,000 delegates and consultants that no changes were recommended in the council's constitution adopted at Amsterdam in 1948.

Retention of the board of six presidents, none of whom may be re-elected for a second successive term, was proposed.

The assembly, the first held since the organizing session six years ago, will discuss the committee report today. A vote on adoption of the report will be taken Wednesday, clearing the way for election of officials who will serve until the third assembly.

Stressing that "unity of function" is a basic need for effectiveness of the council, Mr. Cooke outlined a plan for four main divisions—of studies, of ecumenical action, of inter-church aid and service to refugees, and of the present commission of the churches on international affairs.

A secretariat consisting of a general secretary and four associate general secretaries would head a staff with headquarters in Geneva.

Separate departments of finance, administration and information would be affirmed in the permanent organization. Various departments would function within the main division.

Centralization of the secretariat in Geneva, Mr. Cooke said, "will in the long run make possible the decentralization of the actual work through visitation of the churches by the secretariat" with less interruption of central office work.

The impending election of executives, including 90 members of the council's central committee, has stirred regional delegate discussion because it will mean revision, to some extent, of liaison between church groups and the council.

The start of the two-week assembly has given this suburb of Chicago a cosmopolitan air, especially in the vicinity of the Lake Michigan shoreline. Many visitors wear distinctive garb of other lands.

McGraw Hall, scene of the plenary sessions, is dominated by a backstage white wall banner of giant proportions. The hanging displays the Council's blue and white symbol, a cross in a ship beneath the single Greek word, ecumenical-universality.

Teachers Advised To Admit Mistakes To Their Pupils

TORONTO (CP)—School teachers were advised Monday to admit their mistakes to their pupils.

The advice came from Dr. W. D. Wall, director of the United Nations Educational, Social and Cultural Organization office in Paris, who spoke at a round table discussion on mental health and education at the fifth international congress on mental health now holding its biennial sessions in Toronto.

Dr. Wall said that by admitting errors, teachers and students create a mutual trust.

School life imposes certain strains on children, which is a "good thing." The children should learn to accept and bear strains.

"It is unhealthy for the teacher to stop the children from understanding going strain but from undergoing a strain that is unhealthy. This can be done by creating a situation in which they can be eased into it and are able to bear."

Monday's sessions were mainly devoted to the delivery of technical papers on mental health by some of the world's top psychiatrists, psychologists and social workers.

Professor H. C. Rumke, rector of the University of Utrecht, Holland, speaking to a plenary session on mental health, said the greatest problem of psychiatry today is psychiatry itself.

"Psychiatry is really in danger. Offshoots are detaching themselves from the mother science. The American is separating itself from the European, which is really more clinical."

CONFIDENT MOTHER
Reporting on discussions at a 9-day pre-conference symposium, Dr. Karl S. Bernhardt, professor of psychology at the University of Toronto, said the 34 delegates from 10 countries failed to agree that the relationship between the natural mother and her child cannot be fully replaced in the adoptive or foster situation. They did not know whether there is any relationship between breast feeding of a child and mental health.

"Even a superficial examination of the factors involved indicated that a casual relationship between breast feeding and mental health is not proven."

During a panel discussion, Dr. Elwyn A. Morey of Neelands, Australia, said the first basic need in child mental health "is a secure and confident mother."

Escaped Convict Is Re-captured

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—A penitentiary inmate who escaped Friday was snuffed out by the trained nose of a dogman, plucked and captured Monday by RCMP at Manuels, about 16 miles from here.

George Dwyer, 30, had served four years of a life sentence for manslaughter when he scaled the high prison walls with the help of a plank. He was captured in thick woods near Manuels, R. R. Bel'wood, by RCMP Const. Harold Burkholder of Toronto with the aid of the dog.

Dwyer first ran from his pursuers, then gave up and went back to his cell without a struggle.

What Makes A Sourdough?

VANCOUVER (CP) — What makes a sourdough a sourdough? Sight of the ice breaking up in the Yukon river is the only qualification, says Thomas A. Lamb, 72-year-old president of the International Sourdough Association which opened a reunion here Monday.

"You could be a sourdough at 10 years old," said the man who went into the north in 1903, five years after the start of the gold rush of '98.

Mr. Lamb mined at Sulphur Creek and although he came to know some of the almost-legendary characters of the area, he denies he shot Soapy Smith.

"I don't know, I only heard Smith was shot in order to start the cemetery at Skagway, Alaska," he said with a grin.

Prisoners Rescue Deputy Warden

KINGSTON, (CP)—Two prisoners rescued Deputy Warden S. C. Davidson from the burning shop at Kingston penitentiary Sunday, Warden Walter Johnstone says.

The warden said Monday he wasn't asking how the prisoners managed it but thought they must "somehow have got a key for the shop."

He said a frantic search for a key to free Davidson was going on as rioters filled the area and flames threatened to gut the shop. The two prisoners finally reached the shop and released Davidson.

Both the warden and Davidson were in the yard when the rioting began.

"What struck me most forcibly was that not a man made any effort to attack any guard," Davidson said. "There wasn't any resentment against the guards and no attempt was made to hold us."

Formosa Not in Defence Area

LONDON (Reuters) — A foreign office spokesman says Formosa is not within the area to be covered by the projected Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

He said Monday there was no truth to press reports that U.S. State Secretary Dulles had asked Britain to include Formosa in the region whose security would be guaranteed. The two countries have not been in consultation over the extension of this area to take in Chiang Kai-shek's island stronghold, he said.

Auto Industry Had Sharpest Decline In June

OTTAWA, (CP)—The automobile industry in June experienced its sharpest monthly reduction in vehicle deliveries in history.

The bureau of statistics said Monday that factory shipments of Canadian-made vehicles declined 40 per cent in June from last year's level. It was the fourth month in a row that deliveries had been down.

The bureau said that shipments have been dropping at a steadily increasing rate since the end of February. However, increases in deliveries in January and February held the half-year decrease to 14.5 per cent.

The June decline was described by the bureau as the "sharpest cut to date."

Dealer sales, which have been lower than last year each month since the start of 1954, were 17 per cent under 1953's record turn-over in both June and the half-year.

During June the industry shipped 32,229 new passenger cars and trucks to dealers, a drop of 15.67 per cent compared with the same period in 1953. In the first six months of the year deliveries totalled 243,347, a decline of 40.351.

U. S. IMPORTS DROP
Shipments of imported United States motor vehicles also were down 18 per cent in the half-year period, declining to 15,118 from 18,503. Sales of European vehicles totalled 12,338 in the half-year, one-fifth less than the 15,461 models sold in the same period last year.

Dealers sold 38,644 vehicles in June, a decline of 8.047 compared with last year, and 227,660 in the six months, a decrease of 47,769. The retail value of sales was 15 per cent lower in June and the six months, dropping to $100,118,000 from $118,008,000 in June, 1953, and to $387,782,000 from $688,342,000 in the half-year.

Rotarians Near District Governor

In a vigorous address before the full membership of the Rotary Club at their weekly luncheon in the Charlottetown Hotel yesterday, the District Governor, Mr. Alan MacDonald of Glouce Bay, stressed the world-wide contacts of the organization and its possibilities as a medium for better understanding among nations.

"I cannot forget the rare and rich experience of attendance at the meetings of Rotary International on two occasions," Mr. MacDonald said, "once in Paris, France and again during the summer at Seattle, Washington." "Later I met Rotary Governors from Bombay, London, Tokyo, Ceylon and scores of other places who were as one in heart and mind to return to their homes under the slogan Go Forth and Serve."

It is impossible that Rotary could be established in eighty-nine countries and geographical regions, tightly woven together by principles of proven worth and value, without exercising an influence for better understanding and fellowship."

Mr. MacDonald is one of 220 District Governors supervising the activities of the 830 Rotary Clubs throughout the world with a membership of 389,000.

Governor MacDonald who was introduced by Club President J. Harold Shaw expressed his pleasure at being on the island, recalling that his mother, who was born at Bloomfield, kept the family well schooled in the beauty and friendly spirit of her native Province. The president Frank Curtis thanked the Governor for his comprehensive summary of Rotary activities and on behalf of the club presented him with a scenic view of Green Gables which Governor MacDonald accepted with great pleasure, as a memento of the occasion.

An additional feature of the meeting was the presentation of a club banner, the gift of the Rotary Club of Brookline, Mass., by president Willis MacCaulay who was a visitor.

New members introduced by their sponsors and welcomed into the fellowship of the club were J. Leslie Doyle, manager of the C. N. Telegraphs, by Ralph Jones and J. A. Carruthers, optometrist, by Stan MacInnis.

The badge of office as President of the Stork Club which has been held by Dr. Owen Curtis was passed on and the usual ceremony and gift to Frank Curtis with all good wishes for the recent addition to his family.

His Honour Lieut. Governor T.W. L. Prowse, a past president of the Club, was seated at the head table with present club officials. Visiting Rotarians in attendance were: George H. Hunt, Toronto; Sam Clark, Napes, Ont.; Darrel McCreary, Amherst, N.S.; Cecil Martin, Brookline, Mass.; Dr. Cecil Martin, Montreal; Max MacOdrum, Jim McCanish, Owen Sound, Ont.; and Alan Stewart also of Owen Sound, Ont.

Club Assembly
Governor MacDonald presided over the Club Assembly at the Charlottetown Hotel in the evening and dealt with the activities of the various committees, following his address on special subjects and objectives.

Present and reporting were: President Dr. J. H. Shaw, vice president, F. W. Curtis, secretary, Fulton Pierce, treasurer, W. R. Cruikshank, past president, W. R. Reid and directors, A.A. Soales, G. C. Fisher, R. G. Parent.

Chairmen reporting were: At-large, W. H. Nevin, classification, N. W. Lowther, Fellowship, G. M. Avard, magazine, T. D. DeBlouis, membership, J. T. Tibbot, programme, F. W. MacKinnon, public information, E. D. Reid, Rotary information, E. C. Johnstone, music, R. Manning, vocational service, B. H. Milligan, crippled children, H. Curtis, rural-urban, R. R. Bell, youth, G. Track Driver Injured In Highway Accident

The driver of a truck from Brookfield was taken to hospital at Charlottetown last evening suffering from shock as a result of a collision between his truck and a parked Chevrolet car just west of Brookfield shortly after ten o'clock last night. He was later released from hospital and returned home.

The truck was proceeding towards the city when a parked Chevrolet on which a tire had just been changed loomed up in the line of travel. The collision threw the Chevrolet into one ditch and the truck took the other side of the highway, both vehicles being badly damaged. R.C.M.P. patrol units were on the scene of the accident promptly and took the necessary measures to provide aid to the shock sufferer and control traffic.

Sign Board For Old Cemetery

Today, in the old cemetery on Elm Avenue a nice sign board, with the following inscription, is being placed:

"This Cemetery Was Granted By The Crown To The Rector and Church Wardens of Charlotte Parish, On 13th October, 1826. It Had Previously Been Used for many Years As A Burying Ground. Closed 1st January - 1874."

The inscription is the work of Mr. Wallace Scantlebury, and was kindly donated by him, and for which the Committee in charge of the cemetery is very appreciative.

The committee are also indebted to W. B. Burke & Sons for providing frame and the labour for erection of the sign board.

The oldest monument still standing in the cemetery is in memory of the wife of a Sergeant Bell, who died in 1788.

Little Worse For Ordeal On Chimney Top

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (CP)—Little worse for his ordeal, Fred J. Esson prepared a report Monday about the chimney where he came close to death Saturday before rescue by an RCAF helicopter.

The 41-year-old Torontonian, a chimney inspector, was released from hospital Sunday after a night of recuperation from the strain of waiting more than six hours atop a 150-foot smoke stack after a ladder broke.

He planned to visit Moncton next and then continue to Nova Scotia on a business trip but he'll never climb another stack. "I'll let my crew do the climbing," he said.

New Yorker Is Up For Contempt

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Monday night cited Corliss Lamont, wealthy New Yorker, on contempt of Congress charges.

The 71-to-3 roll-call vote followed hours of debate in which Senator Joseph McCarthy denounced the son of the late Thomas W. Lamont, while Senator William Langer (Rep.-N.D.) defended Lamont as "an underdog" despite his riches.

The contempt citation was based on Lamont's testimony at a private hearing before McCarthy last Sept. 23 at which Lamont swore that "I am not and never have been a member of the Communist party" but refused to answer many of McCarthy's questions.

He planned to visit Moncton next and then continue to Nova Scotia on a business trip but he'll never climb another stack. "I'll let my crew do the climbing," he said.

Sign Board For Old Cemetery

Today, in the old cemetery on Elm Avenue a nice sign board, with the following inscription, is being placed:

"This Cemetery Was Granted By The Crown To The Rector and Church Wardens of Charlotte Parish, On 13th October, 1826. It Had Previously Been Used for many Years As A Burying Ground. Closed 1st January - 1874."

The inscription is the work of Mr. Wallace Scantlebury, and was kindly donated by him, and for which the Committee in charge of the cemetery is very appreciative.

The committee are also indebted to W. B. Burke & Sons for providing frame and the labour for erection of the sign board.

The oldest monument still standing in the cemetery is in memory of the wife of a Sergeant Bell, who died in 1788.

New Yorker Is Up For Contempt

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Monday night cited Corliss Lamont, wealthy New Yorker, on contempt of Congress charges.

The 71-to-3 roll-call vote followed hours of debate in which Senator Joseph McCarthy denounced the son of the late Thomas W. Lamont, while Senator William Langer (Rep.-N.D.) defended Lamont as "an underdog" despite his riches.

The contempt citation was based on Lamont's testimony at a private hearing before McCarthy last Sept. 23 at which Lamont swore that "I am not and never have been a member of the Communist party" but refused to answer many of McCarthy's questions.
