

MR. AND MRS. ALFRED MARTIN WYNNE

Pretty Wedding Held At Holy Redeemer Church

The Church of the Most Holy Redeemer, was the scene of a pretty wedding on August 11th, 1957, at 9.30 a.m., when Reverend Edward Doyle, C. S. S. R. united in marriage Mary Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McElroy, Charlottetown, and Alfred Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Wynne, Bangor, Maine, in a double ring ceremony.

Summer flowers and vigil lights decorated the altar. The guests were marked with white satin bows and lilies of the valley.

Mr. A. H. MacLean was organist, and accompanied Mr. S. Amos Callaghan who sang several beautiful hymns during the Nuptial Mass. Servers of the Mass were Louis and Ralph McCloskey, cousins of the bride.

The bride given in marriage by her father was lovely in her wedding gown of embroidered nylon net over rayon taffeta featuring scoop neckline and sleeves coming to a point over the hands. She carried a white prayer book with red roses and streamers of snapdragons.

Miss Frances McElroy, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was attired in a gown of coral nylon sheer over taffeta. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Fenner Stewart and Miss Irene Newman, were attired in identical gowns of blue nylon sheer over taffeta. They wore white net bandeaux trimmed with iridescent sequins and carried bouquets of coral sweethearts.

Mr. Clinton Newman, friend of the groom, was best man with Mr. Lloyd Murphy and Mr. Brian Morris as ushers. White dinner jackets and dark trousers were worn by the groom, best man and ushers.

The mother of the bride wore a brocaded dress of Nile green, beige picture hat and beige accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Mrs. Wynne, mother of the groom, was attired in a navy blue sheer dress with white accessories. Her corsage was white carnations.

Clara Mae Simmons Is Bride Of John F. Marett

The Fundamental Baptist Church, Central Bedford, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday, Aug. 19, at 1.30 o'clock, when Clara Mae, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Simmons, Wilmot Valley, became the bride of Mr. John Francis Marett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Marett, St. Helier, Jersey, Channel Islands. Rev. D. M. Fraser from Chipman N.B., performed the double ring ceremony. The soloist was Mr. "Bud" Hooper who sang, "I'll Walk Beside You," he was accompanied on the organ by Miss Maureen Forbes.

Given in marriage by her father the bride was lovely in her floor-length gown of silk organza over taffeta and net. The gown was embroidered with peau de sole in floral formation inset with seed pearls. The portrait neckline and princess line waist were accented by a full hooped skirt, matching net gloves were worn. Her tulle illusion veil, shoulder length, at back, in a shorter front veil, was held in place by a tiara beautiful with matching sequins and pearls. She carried an orchid surrounded by sweetheart roses and wore cultured pearls as the gift of the groom.

Mrs. Wallace Simmons, sister of the bride was matron-of-honor. She was attired in yellow crystal-lette, over taffeta and carried a bouquet of yellow mums.

Miss Marion Ross, bridesmaid, wore pale blue organza over taffeta and carried a bouquet of yellow mums. Both attendants wore Mass. The organist was Mr. Edward Potier, who accompanied the Girls' Choir as they sang appropriate wedding hymns.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in her waltz length wedding gown of net and chantilly lace over taffeta, featuring a very full skirt with slim strapped bodice, a long sleeved matching lace jacket with Peter Pan collar. The shoulder length veil fell from a crown with sequin and pearl trim and she carried a cascade of red roses.

Miss Esther Gallant, her sister's bridesmaid, was gowned in pink nylon net over taffeta with matching headress and she carried a nosegay of yellow roses.

Mr. Armand Bernard, brother of the groom, was the best man and Messrs. Isadore and Raymond Gallant, brothers of the bride, ushered the guests to their seats.

Mrs. Gallant chose for her daughter's wedding a two piece dress of dusky rose, with white accessories and a corsage of white Shasta daisies. The groom's mother was attired in navy with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

A wedding breakfast was held at the home of the bride, where the bride's table was centered with a three tier wedding cake, topped with miniature bride and groom and summer garden flowers were used to decorate the dining room. A wedding supper was held at the home of the groom's parents.

For the honeymoon trip to Moncton, N.B., the bride travelled in a two piece dress of rose with corresponding accessories and a corsage of yellow Shasta daisies.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Domet Gallant, Trenton, N.S.; Dr. and Mrs. Adrey, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Arsenault, Moncton, N.B.; Mrs. Keith Lapp, Summerside; Mrs. C. Wingers, Mr. and Mrs. Don MacLeod, Ottawa; Mrs. Robert Glover, Toronto; Mr. Camille Gallant, Oyster Bed Bridge; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Doucette, Miss Helen Doucette, N. Rustico, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Doucette, Mr. Edward Doucette, Souris.

ELLEN'S DIARY Maples' Start To Flame In Grove, As Autumn Nears

Sunshine and cloud, in a delectable mixture for the fieldwork was our portion of weather to day. And that silence of season which reminds one Autumn is nearing, indeed has already set a sign of her approach on a first maple commencing to flame in the grove.

A still day; ripened apples falling with a thud; sound of a train's far passing echoing clearly. And a bluejay's notes a bit lonely in the spruces down by the dam. Listening, we smiled.

There was when an alien note intruded into such idyllic quiet. But now in that spell of our same old plane crossed above the valley lifting over the distant rim of hill; high up giving a subtle whistle in its course, and making its route known in handwriting on the sky, a jet breezed into the Nowhere; minutes only between, great trucks were on the road, noisily passing on some mission of road-making. Cars, happy little trucks, a tractor, added their special notes to the mixture of sounds. And nearer a great transport rolled up the driveway between our blossoms to replenish the gas tank in the yard.

Sounds! How noisy now in this automotive age to the quiet of that first farming, we knew. distance the groom's parents were unable to attend but they had arranged that a silver horseshoe suitably inscribed be presented to the happy couple upon leaving the Church.

The reception was held at Birch Hill Tourist home, when around 60 guests sat down to a delicious luncheon. The toast to the bride was proposed by the bride's uncle, Mr. Ira Crozier and was responded to by the groom in a very fitting and appropriate manner. Many telegrams of congratulations from different places were received and read.

Out of town guests were, Miss Marion Ross, Mr. Keith Weir, Sudbury, Ont., Mrs. J. W. Ballem, Mrs. Ella MacNeil, Mrs. Gordon, Worth, Charlottetown; Mrs. Dave Loggie, Bathurst, N.B.; Mr. Elmer Simmons, Moncton, Rev. D. M. and Mrs. Fraser Chipman, N.B.

For her honeymoon trip through the United States and Southern Ontario, the bride wore a brown sheath dress with matching three quarter duster. Her accessories were beige and tangerine and the corsage was an orchid.

Mr. and Mrs. Marett will reside at 42 Riverside Drive, Sudbury, Ont., where the groom is an announcer with C.K.S.D. Radio and T.V. The bride is on the teaching staff of Prince Charles Public School.

Shower Held For Double Wedding

On Thursday evening, Aug. 26th, friends and neighbours gathered in the O'Leary Baptist Church Sunday School Auditorium to tender a miscellaneous shower in honor of the Misses Sylvia and Opal Silliker whose double marriage will take place on Saturday, September 5th., to Messrs. Elmer Rodd and Wesley MacLellan.

While the wedding march was being played by their grandmother Mrs. Ruth Silliker the brides-to-be took their nicely decorated seats of honor. They both received many lovely and useful gifts which were opened by Mrs. Melbourne MacKinnon and Miss Bessie Dennis while the accompanying good wishes were read and sung.

"Fresh-baked bread?" Granddaughter smiled, catching the tantalizing fragrance in the kitchen when she came by after school.

"Would you mind if I cut the beef from this small loaf?" she queried with a longing, "I don't know of anything that tastes better than a crust of loaf still warm and buttered-it's so crispy and sweet."

"Now the summer visitors drift away from the Island; not unlike the meadow-birds, our guests and the swallows to leave us somewhat lonely though with nice memories of their sojourn. So nice the glimpses they gave us of far places, we may never see.

Last night we joined for a while the folks in the hazy across-lane in viewing the home-movies, a nice young pair, Kin of Jeanie's, on brief holiday from the States had brought. What a pleasant and intimate way this is of learning at first hand how ours away from Island homes live. Their town was on the screen before us, a homey place its wide streets and clean, adorned by great trees. The apartment we saw, its dining-room most interesting, highlighted by the little son's birthday spread. The cake was there, its five candles a glow and youngsters with eyes lumpy and cheeks puffed out in intent on the blowing-out ceremony. In its season the Christmas tree a fir from the Maritimes-in all its glitter and fullness we saw and the lad bent on opening his gifts. The Church of their faith and a marriage there charmed Granddaughter, the gowns so beautiful, the principals so happy.

"Nice wasn't it? It's as though we visited with them," Jeanie said at the close.

"No day this for the harvest," James comments now to Mr. C. come by from his house on the hill. "Ellen" he says, eyes on the clock, "let's get the weather-forecast, and see what they have in store for us tomorrow!"

Until tomorrow - - - Diary - Good-night.

FUN FOR YOUNG COOKS

HAPPY DAY! Now I can tell you all about the new edition of my "Fun to Cook Book" that's just off the press. It's for little girls 7 to 14 - your daughter, niece or a little friend of yours.

"Fun to Cook Book" is completely different - not like any other child's cook book you've ever seen. I wrote it especially for my own little daughter, Margie, in language children understand. "Fun to Cook Book" is jam-packed with recipes little girls will love to make.

PREVIEW! Here's one of the recipes from the book - Fudge Sauce. Because Carnation is double-rich, this recipe is as easy as 1-2-3 - and always turns out smooth and rich.

1-2-3 FUDGE SAUCE You'll need 1/2 can undiluted CARNATION EVAPORATED MILK 2 cups sugar 3 squares unsweetened chocolate 1 Put Carnation, sugar and chocolate in saucepan. Put saucepan on burner and turn heat low.

2 When sauce starts to boil, cook for 15 minutes. (You'll know when sauce "bolls" by watching for the chocolate to melt and bubbles begin to break around the edges of the pan.) Stir your sauce with your wooden spoon every 2 or 3 minutes so that it doesn't burn.

3 After 15 minutes, take sauce from stove and add 1 teaspoon vanilla. Beat sauce with egg beater until smooth. Serve your sauce warm or chilled over: cake, ice cream or pudding.

Doesn't it look gay? And it contains a world of useful information to start little girls off on a whole lifetime of successful cooking.

Every little girl will love "Fun to Cook Book". Just send 25¢ for each copy. Order several copies today for your little girl and her friends.
