

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

OCTOBER 21, 1895.

OPENINGS FOR ENTERPRISE.

The present time, when everything, including money is cheap, seems to be favorable for such enterprises as this Province has need of. Our capitalists are out of the way of such wild speculations as the capitalists of London and Paris are engaged in, and they may well employ their idle money in the promotion of progressive movements at home.

Then, there is evidently needed here a large establishment for the manufacture of farm implements and machinery. It is not creditable to the enterprise of this Province that so much money as is now sent to Ontario every year for farm implements and machinery is allowed to escape the grasp of our manufacturers and capitalists.

Again, there is room for the investment of a few thousands in a good summer hotel fronting on our harbor. Such a hotel would be a feeder to other hotels already established; for it would in fact be a culminated stream of travel in the summer months, and it might be closed up and cost nothing during the winter.

Then, there is to be at once considered the erection of cold storage warehouses, saving the freight of cheese, etc., to Montreal, and enabling our farmers to cooperate in the production of articles which may be shipped in quantity on ocean steamers, to the British and West Indian markets.

It has been a reproach to the mounted men of this Province that with millions of capital lying in our banks, they have not had sufficient enterprise to venture a few thousands, or tens of thousands, in the establishment of manufactures for articles which are continually being imported here for the use of the people, or for means of attracting to our Province some of the money that is every year sent abroad by tourists, or for means of holding here some of the money that is being needlessly sent abroad for services in which our own talented artisans and men of business, if supplied with capital, are quite competent to engage successfully.

The Toronto Globe tells its readers that "when the National Policy dies the smuggling business of the islands of St. Pierre and Miquelon will die with it."

A GREAT CANADIAN RIVER.

This paper brings particulars concerning the great Canadian river said to have been lately discovered by Dr. Bell, of the Geological Survey. It appears that Dr. Bell's route lay directly north from Ottawa, across the height of land to Rupert's house on James Bay, by the most direct water course. The trip by water course was nearly 800 miles. Five hundred miles of the route, or the entire distance from the height of land to James Bay, was through an altogether unexplored region, unknown to anyone but the Indian hunter. Shortly after Dr. Bell and his party crossed the height of land, the party followed an unknown river, which gradually widened until it assumed a great size. They followed this river to James Bay. The river has three large branches, one of which has its source north of Three Rivers, another in the Lake St. John region, and the third near Lake Mistassini.

JUDGE CURRAN.

Tax promotion, according to English and Canadian precedent, of Solicitor General Curran to a judicial position is very favorably received by the press of the locality in which he is best known. Thus the Montreal Gazette says: "His retirement from the Government and from active political life will be a source of regret to a very large number of persons, not only in Montreal, where he was born fifty-three years ago, and which he has ever since made his home, but throughout all Canada, in almost every province of which he was well known and everywhere highly esteemed. His appointment to the office of judge to some people in this city, but we venture to say that not one of them, even those who most strongly insisted upon the successor of the late Chief Justice being an English-speaking Protestant, will venture to speak a word in disparagement of the high character, pure public record, unflinching integrity, and large abilities of Hon. Mr. Curran. He has been one of the most distinguished of Irish-Canadian patriots. For more than thirty years he has been actively engaged in public affairs, and no politician in this Dominion has ever devoted himself with more zeal, more of usefulness, more of courage to the service of the party cause he has consistently espoused, than he who now retires from the representation of Montreal. No constituency in Canada has ever had a representative who gave up more of his time, his talent and his energy to the promotion of its interests than did Mr. Curran during the thirteen years he has enjoyed the confidence of the electors."

This is high praise, and it is consistent with the highly favorable impression made by the Hon. Mr. Curran when he visited this Province a few months ago.

THE STATISTICAL YEAR BOOK.

The Dominion Government has been, upon the whole, exceedingly fortunate in its choice of men to conduct the various services in which it is engaged on behalf of the country. In respect of no officer has it been more fortunate than in its choice of Dominion Statistician. The talents of Mr. George Johnson, F. S. S., are undoubted, and he is a worker. The Year Book that he has given us this year is a marvel of ingenuity and labor. In it is information upon every conceivable topic directly or indirectly affecting Canada, past and present. The Year Book of 1894 is an invaluable compendium of facts for everyone who is interested or engaged in public affairs. The newspaper man who deals with matters of fact will find in it a great deal of interest and instruction for his readers. We have to thank the Dominion Statistician for a copy of the work which reflects so much credit upon him.

Montreal Gazette: Everyone will be pleased with Father Burke's very remarks in Winnipeg on the school question. What he said was indeed mistaken. He said that neither the Roman Catholics of Manitoba or Archbishop Tache had ever resisted either efficient teaching or proper inspection. Father Burke, who is from Prince Edward Island, had, no doubt, been assured. It is certainly what ought to be true and what we may hope the Roman Catholics of Manitoba and their present Archbishop will now make true, as well as the other assurance that it is not equality nor inferiority that the Roman Catholics aim at, but superiority. Such an emulation would be most wholesome. We see in Father Burke's cordial and progressive utterance the most hopeful thing that has yet appeared in connection with this distressing dispute.

THE IMPORTANCE OF THE FARMERS CALLING AND THE DAIRY INDUSTRY.

A Paper Read by Rev. M. J. McMillan, Before the Farmers Meeting, Charlottetown, Sept. 26th, 1895.

Gentlemen,—We are free to add to what we get in books and papers as well as to what we get in our own minds or in the minds of others. We need more knowledge with enlargement of views on matters pertaining to our business. I regret that I have very little to say. There are times when we must, by force of circumstances, yield to a call of imperative duty which urges us to do what we can to advance the common interests of our country and people. The more we study those things especially the dairy business and the benefit of the right and well-kept cow to the farmer, the more we feel the pressure of duty to do what we can to encourage him in his all-consuming occupation. At the present time I want to be well understood that I do not take on myself to teach farmers and business men in their own work. What I here give I have collected carefully from books and papers treating of such matters. To them I do credit and to you the benefit, gentlemen. I have heard many intelligent farmers expressing their desire for more knowledge and enlargement of views in matters pertaining to their calling. We have many intelligent farmers and they forcibly declare the need and advantage of agricultural papers and books and associations to teach and assist each other by the benefit of their knowledge and experience as to the best ways and means to make cows and farm pay.

Every success to the dairy enterprise and cold storage. The establishment and prosperity of this most-deserving enterprise is closely connected with the best interests of our farmers and the country in general. Its advancement depends on the united energy, intelligence and industry of our people. Hence the necessity of drawing out and strengthening their latent qualities and putting them in active abeyance for the different purposes of life. There are no doubt obstacles in the way, and they show the necessity and value of ways and means to remove them. Men have great power to do good but the trouble with many of them is that they will not use that power as they should.

Some years ago there were a few cheese factories started on the Island by private individuals on their own responsibility and to keep them going was a terrible struggle amongst a huge amount of opposition. As to those who were in opposition to them, or indifferent, or in sympathy with them, we must not speak. It is undertaking wanted encouragement and sympathy, just as much as money. It was a good and profitable work for the farmers, and they were anxious to see it prosper. But for want of united energy and perseverance the work went down. When a stronger power and more determined mind took hold of the work, they let us know that the value of the great resources at our disposal. Our farmers are now up in right earnest with a great deal more knowledge and experience from the past and from their surrounding circumstances. Now is the time to put their shoulders to the wheel and push it with all vigor, and open the way for their resources and powers to grow and strengthen. The inspired writer in the Holy Scriptures says: "Act manfully and let your heart take courage." The great apostle, another inspired writer, and one of the greatest men of all history, has said these words which are applicable to all times and circumstances: "And in doing good let us not fail, for in due time we shall reap; not failing, therefore, whilst we have time let us do good to all men." Man is born to labor and enjoy the fruits of his labor. To show the great results of courage and rigorous efforts the sacred author remarks: "Because thou hast done manfully, and thy heart has been strengthened, and because thou hast lived and done the right, thy seed and blessing shall attend thee." Many are the instructive and encouraging words we can take from Scripture and apply with wisdom and prudence to the advancement of temporal as well as spiritual affairs.

The prospectus of the Central Creamery and Cold Storage gives figures and facts worth having and knowing. "The cold storage plant will fill a long felt want and afford accommodation for storage which can now be obtained only outside our province. This is plainly illustrated by the fact that this season's make of Island cheese is being shipped to Montreal for cold storage at a cost of three and a half cents per box per month, which amounts on what has gone forward this season up to the 27th of August to the sum of $250 per month, and if stored for three months to $1,050, with the addition of freight, insurance and wharfage already paid here, viz.—$1,097.97, netting in total $2,127.96. This amount comes out of the pockets of the cheese producers of this country and will reduce their profits considerably. The expenditure of $1,077.96 will be repaid to the patrons of the cheese factories, and the cost of cold storage at Montreal will go to the proposed Cold Storage Company, which being composed of these same cheese producers will take over the business and keep the money for the people to whom by right it belongs."

The farmers of this country have sent a great deal of money up to the rich men and factories of Ontario, Montreal and Quebec for machinery, and many of our poorer class of farmers have suffered very much on this account, exhausting their farms and impoverishing themselves and families to make up money to send to the upper provinces. Our farmers, no doubt, require machinery, but some of them have paid too much for them; and our farmers in the lower provinces, not forgetting P. E. Island, need protection just as much as the manufacturers and patrons of industry in the upper provinces. God will help them who help themselves and make right use of what they have. Now we have better ways and means to keep our money in circulation among our own people and do more towards developing our resources. We are all Canadians, without any regret for the fact. Let us be alive and earnest for our own good and that of our country. We see in Father Burke's remarks a number of our farmers and explaining the nature and intentions of the Central Creamery and Cold Storage, and the cares and responsibilities of Mr. T. J. Dillon in regard to his work. When the matter is well explained to our farmers there is no doubt but they will be strongly in favor of the undertaking. Just think of sending thousands of dollars to Montreal to get cold storage for our cheese, when a building to that effect could be put up in Charlottetown, which would be a credit and a profit to the Island. When we consider the anxiety and responsibility of Mr. Dillon in safeguarding our cheese, we must admit he has strong reasons for being earnest about getting up the Central Creamery and Cold Storage. "The cheese has to be protected from all dangers and from any exposure to injury, and from the time the cheese is made and put in curing rooms in the factories on the Island, then shipped in cars and boats, and on the way to Montreal and in the Cold Storage it is exposed to rough handling and to variations of temperature from heat to cold."

When in cold storage it needs careful attention, and the attendance that must add to the solicitude of the Dairy Superintendent. The consideration of these important changes will give us to understand that Mr. T. J. Dillon has reasons which are given with his work, to be in earnest in his efforts to get a Cold Storage in Charlottetown. He is working for the benefit of the farmers of the Island, who should be wide awake to their own interests and back him up with their hearty co-operation. In unity there is strength, and in counsel there is wisdom.

It is said that large vessels move slowly, and when they do get on the move it may be hard to stop them. It is the part of wisdom to give them the best direction, and keep them in motion. Life is a journey, and we are all travellers. There are, no doubt, trials, difficulties and disadvantages in the way, but there is a cheerful, encouraging side to life; there are good prospects ahead; we must go ahead with energy and willingness, and strive to cultivate in ourselves a strong love for industry and perseverance, to avoid the wrong and do the right. Our disadvantages are very small compared to our advantages. The evils and troubles of which men complain in themselves a strong love for industry and perseverance, to avoid the wrong and do the right.
