

THE KING OF PORTFOLIOS. Our Own Country, a descriptive and illustrated portfolio in America, is without doubt, the very best portfolio series that has yet come to hand.

LOCAL AND OTHER ITEMS.

MANTLES A SPECIALTY.—Beer Bros. The St. Lawrence left this morning for Pictou. I. O. O. F.—St. Lawrence Lodge meets tonight. Second degree.

IN HALIFAX.—The city paid over $4,000 to street laborers yesterday. This represents a fortnight's work.—Halifax Herald.

ROAD MACHINERY.—Several new road machines imported by the Local Government arrived by the St. Lawrence on Saturday.

THE LYCEUM.—The exterior of the Lyceum has recently received a coat of bright paint, which greatly improves its appearance.

GOING EAST.—Have you got the latest number of the Magic City or Toddard's Photographs. They are going quickly, and orders should be sent in at once.

BLACK DIAMOND LINE.—The steamship Colan, due here from Montreal on Monday, the 14th inst., will sail for St. John's, Nfld., via Sydney. See advertisement.

THE TURF.—There are three entries for the Monopoli (St. John) colt stakes from Prince Edward Island, viz., two by Milford farm and one from Newton Davies, North Tryon.

PENNY READINGS.—St. Peter's Penny Readings which were to have been held this evening will take place next Monday, the 14th inst. The programme will appear in a few days.

WHAUF DAMAGED.—A large quantity of ice floated inside the harbor this morning and during the forenoon carried the outer block of Lons' wharf away. The docks are filled with floating ice.

ARTILLERY.—No. 2 Company drill tonight. All hands wanted to arrange for drilling party. No. 1 Battery, G. A., will meet for drill tonight at 8 o'clock.

A PHYSICIAN'S KINDNESS.—A physician recently saved a man's life in a way that was miraculous. He told the man he must have an operation performed, and it would cost him $75. The man couldn't raise the $75, and he is alive to-day.—Exchange.

FOR BOSTON.—The steamer Florida, Capt. Hall, left about 11 o'clock yesterday afternoon for Boston. She carried a large freight, including 217 bags of potatoes, and several passengers. Among the passengers were Mrs. Haws, Mrs. J. M. McLeod, Mrs. Crandell and Mrs. Stimpert.

TELEPHONIC.—Telephones have been put in at the following places: W. F. Tolmarsh's office, Nash & Lightizer's office, Blake Bros' office, W. W. Beer's dwelling, Mark Wright's dwelling, W. A. Hawley's dwelling, G. D. Longworth's dwelling. Subscribers should add these names to their lists.

ARTISTIC.—A well-executed photograph of the ladies and gentlemen who took part in the production of the Irish drama "Robert Emmet," recently, may be seen in the show window of Lewis' studio. There are also good pictures of several of the gentlemen who took part in the tragedy of "Hermigild," and a good likeness of the Masonic Temple.

WILL EXPLAIN LATER.—A resident of Bridgetown sends $50 to Harry Way grocer of Halifax, accompanied by a note saying: "This money is rightfully yours, I will explain at another time." The sender of the money at one time kept a shop in Halifax, and in some way wrongfully obtained the money in question. After leaving Halifax he connected himself with a Bridgetown church, and has since led a Christian life.

LAST SAD RITES.—The funeral of the late James Pulgren took place yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock from his late residence, showing the extent in which the deceased was held. The pallbearers were Messrs. B. Trainor, Henry Mutch, Charles Hermans, Robert McLennan, John Carroll and Thomas Riley.

A NOTE OF WARNING.—Professor Lawson has published a letter in the Halifax papers warning fruit growers against the probable advent in the near future of a new deadly orchard pest. He says it is, of all scale insects, absolutely the most deadly and utterly destructive. It has come from Chili to California, thence through New Mexico, Maryland and Virginia, to New Jersey. The immediate danger that threatens us in the importation of the pest in nursery stock. A bulletin, giving full particulars, is in course of preparation, and will be issued in a few days.—The Orchardist.

COMING INTO CANADA.—The Seattle Post-Intelligence, Washington territory, one of the leading papers of the Northern Pacific coast of the United States, has the following in its issue of April 18: "During the present season about 200 families have left this section of the country for the Saskatchewan region in Alberta, Canada. Twenty heads of families will leave this morning for that section to pick out homes."

"The Canadian government offers settlers 160 acres for an entrance fee of $10 and the conditions are that the settlers shall live on this claim six months in the year for three years, build himself a home and plow ten acres each year, when he will receive a patent."

There is undoubtedly a pretty widespread idea in the North Western States just now that Canada is a good place to move to.

TWO ROLANDS FOR AN OLIVER. Mr. Shaw has made two very important contributions to the literature of the debate on the tax bill. An evening or two ago, after scoring Mr. Bell for his conduct in talking one way and voting another—for condemning the Government one minute and supporting their measures the next—for playing fast and loose with the questions engaging the attention of the House—he read the following poem, which we publish as a Roland for the Oliver contained in the Patriot of Saturday evening: The Bell of the House has been tolling of late.

Warning the Grits of their ultimate fate: Unless he's made Captain and has charge of the helm, A great sea of Taxes the craft will o'erwhelm. But his tongue is so long and his surface so thin That tolling so loud caused a crack in his brim. But all who heard his voice know very well A seat for the Commons is what troubles Bell.

This "poem" was received with great applause, and several members suggested that it lie on the table. Upon another occasion, after having a few shots at the Hon. Mr. Farquharson, Mr. Shaw read the following effusion:

TO DONALD. The voice of bold Donald is powerful and true Its tones are tender and sweet. His worth to the grits is pretty well known, And the widow he saves from the street.

The prince of kind neighbors, kind Donald you are. The church often reaps what you've sown. You sweat your best blood in the cause of the state, And the orphan you claim for your own.

Twelve months in the year, give Donald his due, He straddles the temperance fence: When elections come round he is free with his rum; Now he crosses for the good brother Spence.

EXPLANATION WANTED. Sis.—Will His Worship the Mayor, or policemen explain why it is that the dry-goods merchants of this city, who have to pay such a large proportion of taxes, are hardly allowed time to open their goods on the side walk, while all kinds of travelling shows are allowed to obstruct the platform or sidewalk with large encumbrances covered over with flaming posters such as were to be met with yesterday on almost every block. Anxiously waiting to see what action the authorities will take, I remain
