

Intramurals

By Baylor Moore

Intramurals last week saw the Selects go down to defeat twice; once to the lowly Marion team and the other was at the hands of the desperate freshmen. Both losses were just coincidental. The mighty Selects were just playing the squad's young rookies. Needless to say, every one of those rookies were cut by manager Mark "Zimmerman" Jones. One rookie who managed to stay with the squad was Roger "Pumpkin" Riggs. I always like to give a little update on new players. Roger's head looks like he took Cinderella to the Royal Ball and didn't get her back by twelve.

If the complaints to me do not stop I will quit writing about other teams in the league.

Pat "Pointer" MacSweeney approached me the other day and said some Smith fellows pitched a no hitter. Frankly, Pat, I don't give a damn. Pat, how many walks were there? 10. What was the score? 14-13 for them. How many errors did you guys make? 15. Don't come crying to me. Get out your ballpoint pen and write to Dear Abby. Maybe she'll print something for you. Another thing I can't stand is people complaining to the umpires. Tim "Tissue" Sears is the French version of Billy Martin. Tim should stop complaining and start catching.

The Freshmen went 2-0 on the week and look decent enough to finish fourth in this tough league. This team, who are made up mostly Doycon midgets, are fielded by John "Beer Belly" Butler and finished fourth in Canadian Midget finals. If they finished fourth there they should do no better here. Although they got the low prediction they earned Gillette Team of the Week.

The Gillette player of the week is pitcher Shane "Drugs" Monaghan of the hapless M&M. When Shane started his game, they got five runs off him. Then M&M put in a new pitcher, Lowell "Verna" Parkman, and won 6-5. Shane should stick to taking stats. As for Lowell, the Selects made a star out of him last year and then he left but that is alright because now he is a nobody without us.

The play of the week was made by banker Steve Bishop on first base. Steve, who banks for the "good hands people" (you would never know it), dropped a routine catch at first base which scored the winner. Pitcher Scott "Sour Milk" MacDonald was dirty as he took the loss.

Rumour has it that the soccer team will form a franchise in the IBL west division. Well, all I have to say about this is the only thing that will be kicked in their games is their behinds - all over the baseball field.
