MRS. GORDON MACMILLAN

A COUNTRY GARDEN

Lo, in the middle of the wood The folded leaf is wooed from out the bud With winds upon the branch, and there Grows green and broad, and takes no care. —Tennyson

Perhaps one of the most glorious, though to our eyes, common spectacles in the world is the first bursting into full foliage of the leafless tree. Up in the little wood at the top of the garden we can see his miracle of May, and looking down, the ground is carpeted with the sweet white violet, Viola blanda, the trillium with the good name Wake-robin and the lovely bronzy leaves and stems.

The meadows glow with dandelions in spring, the hedges are green, the woods lovely; but these are not to be enjoyed in their full significance unless you have traversed the same places when bare, and have watched the slow fulfilment of the flowers. When we who live in the northern country live to enjoy another spring we are very thankful for the delight of the springtime!

Last week I wrote about the shrub planting in the garden here and the new varieties added to the garden, but the copy was lost and so you did not read "The Country Garden". I said that a lovely garden could be made of flowering shrubs alone and that I had been over to the Nursery for them and saw hundreds and hundreds of wonderful shrubs being unpacked from huge boxes. Wonderful evergreen shrubs that were supposed to be too tender for our climate but are now known to do well. It was not difficult to visualize the beauty they would bring to our garden province in the years ahead.

Many more flowers are blooming now that the sunny warm Delima Poirier, President, Mrs. Albin Arsenault opened the meeting and roll call was answered by 22 members. Members who attended the executive meeting in Urbanville gave their reports and discussion took place on District Convention to be held June 2nd. Sale of lunches brought in $5.50. Next meeting is to be at the home of Mrs. Andre P. Arsenault.

Cape Egmont East held their study club on "Lacordiere" recently at the home of Amand Richard. Ten members were present. An article on "The Use of Alcohol being the cause of many accidents and crime committed" was read by Mrs. Glorice Richard. It was decided to hold the study clubs during the summer months.

Miss Frances Barlow observed her 13th birthday at her home on Wednesday, May 18. Others observing the anniversary of their birth during the month were: Mrs. Clayton Barlow, Mrs. Rufus McLure, Mr. Milton MacCarville, and Mrs. Roland Millar of Freeland.

Mrs. Emily Gallant and family spent the recent week-end with her mother, Mrs. Sophie Gaudet, St. Gilberts.

These are busy days and interesting, out gardening at different tasks. Planting Glads and Dahlias sowing seeds and mowing and mowing. Garden visitors have arrived to see some color and fragrance. I have been helping in the making of new gardens and in talking of gardening to groups of country women. The weeds are growing fast in my garden and the flowers are growing too in spite of neglect.

Gardening can be a pastime with almost no rules at all—a game that you play according to your own bent without imitating anyone in the world.

A garden is a place of drama where white morning glories unfold visibly in the moonlight where wisteria swings panicles of bloom three feet long, and a flower like a giant buttercup emerges from a snowdrift in the late spring sunlight. Gone is the legend of yore which implied that you either had green
