Water Works—Good Water.

Sir,—Water, good and plentiful, is the great desideratum; if we have the water works shall we have it? Yes, plentiful, but good I doubt, and I will give my reason why.

Several years ago I spent five weeks in the city of London, the capital of Great Britain. We may well suppose the water and the water works there would equal if not surpass any else in the world. I assure you, Sir, in all the time I was there I never had a drink of good water but once, and that I had from a pump.

I at a later period visited St. John's, N. F. While there I saw the source from which the city was supplied, and apparently it was unobjectionable; what it was for culinary purposes I cannot say, but for drinking it was simply odious.

About ten or twelve years ago the water from the pipes in Halifax was bad; there were loud outcries against it; I happened to be there for a few days. In the yard of the house at which I put up there was a well, and although the water of that well was near about the color of a mulatto, or between that and the color of a quadroon, the neighbors all round took it in preference to the water from the pipes.

When waterworks were first spoken of here, I wrote to a friend in Boston, "what quality of water have you in Boston?" Very bad, it is thick with insects, and the doctors say it is the cause of much sickness.

I had the opportunity of taking it since that; the insects are gone, and if the water had followed them perhaps better would have come in its place. We are remarked on here as selling water by the bucket full.
If our watermen could get a bucket of Spring Park water on Boston Common next Friday, it would sell there by the quart, and I feel certain if the spring was within a reasonable distance of Boston, and furnishing as good a quality of water, it would be cheap if valued at a million of dollars. There are four places enumerated above all supplied with waterworks not one of which gives a good drinkable water, and a fifth, Moncton, sends through Monday's EXAMINER a note of warning. To save quoting I ask special attention to the last paragraph of your Moncton letter signed H.

Now we may ask why is water bad coming from the pipes even if good at the fountain head? Simply because the pipes get foul and no possibility of cleansing them, but if the fountain is bad as Winter River is sure to be when dammed up, then the water from the pipes will be bad par excellence, as witness Moncton. Whether we have waterworks or not, we must still hold on to our pumps and purify them, and to Spring Park also, or the proverb will come true "out of the frying pan into the fire."

I am respectfully yours, CITIZEN.

P. S.—I will attend to the other phase of the question another time.

Cardigan Notes.

The farmers in this neighborhood have finished putting in one of the largest crops that have been planted for years. Growing crops, excepting hay, are looking well.

Trade has been active, and some of our business men say they never found cash more plentiful at this season of the year.

Through the enterprise of H. L. Mc-Donald and James E. McDonald, Esqrs., several cargoes of fat cattle, oats and potatoes have been shipped from this port, thereby affording our farmers an opportunity of disposing of their produce. Although prices for potatoes and oats were low, our farmers who fed stock this year have made up any deficiency in their yearly sales by the excellent prices they have received for their fat cattle and pork.

Among the cattle that were shipped here could be seen some very fine animals, especially those fed by Cyrus Shaw and Robert Dewar, Esqrs., of New Perth. It is a good sign of our farmers to see so many fat cattle turning out of their stables in the spring, for it is well known that fat cattle do not impoverish the farm, and in no other way can farming be made so profitable as to have a few fat animals—whether cattle, horses, sheep or pigs, to dispose of every year. Shipping all raw produce will never pay at the prices now current.

Mr. John J. Campbell, the late popular driver of the mail to Montague, has been awarded the contract for carrying the mails to Dundas and Annandale, and no doubt he will give as good satisfaction on this route as he formerly did on the route to Montague.

James E. McDonald, Esq., has sold his farm, known as the McLean farm, to John G. Scrimgeour, Esq., who has put a large crop in this spring.

A family in the neighborhood has been plunged into grief from receiving news of the death of one of its sons, who, a short time ago, had gone to the States thinking to better his fortune. Too many of our young men leave the Island for the United States, notwithstanding it is well known that the climate of the States has been the death of many of our people who go there.

The Grit party have a heavy responsibility resting upon them, for it is mainly through their persistent manner in which they and the press have misrepresented and traduced this Province and the Dominion, proclaiming that this country is unfit to live in, that so many of our young men, who might do well at home, go away to the States; too many of them, alas, never to return, excepting as corpses.

Mr. Daniel Stewart, son of Donald Stewart, Esq., who went to the States this spring, and whose departure was duly credited to the "exodus," has returned home again, satisfied with the truth of the old saying that "far away coos has lang horns," and that going to the States to make a fortune is not a pleasant trip.

Pownal School District, No. 24.

At the close of the examination in this Department, the Chairman of Trustees announced to the children that they were about to lose the services of their teacher, which he was sure parents, children and trustees, exceedingly regretted; but Miss McRae found it necessary to take some rest after so many years successive teaching.
He also commended the children for their good behaviour, and diligence to their books, and said there was not a single complaint made against one of the pupils present during the year, and hoped it might long continue so. He then called on Miss Lavina Clarke, who in the name and on behalf of the children, presented Miss Rosie McRae, then teacher, in a few very feeling and appropriate remarks with a very handsome album, to which Miss McRae very feelingly replied, bringing tears to the children's and her own eyes.

At 2 p. m., the examination of the Principal's Department commenced, the scholars were examined by him in the following branches, viz: Reading, History, Map-Drawing and writing, which resulted as follows:—

Prize for Recitation, presented by D.
Montgomery, Esq., Superintendent of Education—Miss M. Harrison.

Special prize, presented by Mr. James J.
Gay for the Junior Department—Miss E.
Carver, best Recitation.

At the close of this examination the Chairman of Trustees thanked those present for their attendance, and brought to the notice of the pupils some improprieties which had been noticed at last examination, and hoped it would not occur again.
He then called on Mrs. Richard Carver, who, with a few feeling words of encouragement, presented each successful competitor with the prizes as awarded above.

In justice to the first class, it should be stated that they did not compete for the prizes awarded in History, they being older than those in the junior and other classes.
