Rita Murphy Chosen Outstanding Teacher

Miss Rita A. Murphy, Bismarck, North Dakota, high school English instructor and a native of Sea View, P.E.I., is one of ten teachers in the United States named to the 1955 "Teacher of the Year" honor roll according to an article in the June McCall's magazine. McCall's reports that Miss Murphy "having already inspired a number of her former students to become English teachers, is now busy teaching a second generation to love and understand literature." Several of Miss Murphy's religious and patriotic essays have been successfully performed by community groups in her area in selecting the teachers' Honor Roll. McCall's worked in cooperation with professional educators. The nine winning teachers and the "Teacher of the Year" Miss Margaret Perry, of the grade teacher from Monmouth, Ore., were chosen from a field of out-standing teachers nominated by state departments of education at the invitation of Dr. Samuel M. Brownell, U. S. Commissioner of Education, and Dr. Edgar Fuller, executive secretary of the National Council of Chief State School Officers. Representatives of Dr. Brownell's office and of McCall's observed the nominees at work for several months.

Rita A. Murphy was born at Sea View, P.E.I., the daughter of the late R. B. Murphy, veteran North Dakota educator, and Beatrice MacLeod Murphy, Park Corner. She is the niece of Ed Murphy, Sea View, who passed away in April; the late Everett MacLeod of French River; Little Shemogue, New Brunswick. Her cousins James A. and John W. Murphy are teachers in the Summerside and Kensington schools, respectively. She vacations frequently at her birthplace with relatives, but she has lived in North Dakota since childhood. This summer her vacation will take her in the opposite direction for she has been elected a delegate to the 53rd Triennial General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church to be held in Honolulu, Hawaiian Islands, in Sept., representing the Woman's Auxiliary of the Missionary District of North Dakota. She will sail from Los Angeles August 29 for Honolulu on the SS Lurline of the Matson Line.

United Church Meeting Opens

TORONTO (CP)—Delegates to the 31st annual conference of United churches in Canada were told Tuesday that the United Church in Canada is big business and has more branches than all the chartered banks in the country. Rev. Dr. V. T. Mooney, representing the church's general council, said it is Canada's most rapidly-growing church. He said it has properties across Canada worth more than $227,000,000 and last year congregations raised more than $36,750,000. "But the very rapidity of our growth is an embarrassment to us. We cannot shepherd all those who declare themselves to the men under the act should be made by providing coverage for the 6,000 wage-earners in the industry. Mr. Sinclair said this would cause a good deal of heart-burning about 10 per cent of fishermen would be covered, excluding the other 90 per cent.

He said the matter has come to a head in Newfoundland, where fishermen can't receive unemployment insurance but workers in canning factories are covered.

Charles A. Cannon (L—Les-de-la—Madeleine) said one reason persons won't go into the fishing industry is that they can't get insurance coverage. A serious situation existed. Fishing was being abandoned.

GRAVE REDUCTION
A. M. Fraser (L—St. John's East) said a decrease of more than 20,000 fishermen in two years was a "very grave reduction." Unless something were done, exodus from the fishing industry would continue.

He said Britain extended insurance coverage to shore fishermen in 1949. Despite difficulties, the plan still existed and there was no indication it would be abandoned. Every effort should be made to find a scheme to embrace the fishermen, even if it were only a small number at the start.

"What is the matter with making a start?" asked Charlie Gillis (CCF—Cape Breton South).

Dave Croll (L—Toronto Spadina) said it is "absolutely indefensible" to provide protection for all wage-earners except those in the fishing industry.

MAJOR'S WELCOME
In the course of his remarks at the opening session Mayor Stewart said: "We consider it a great honor that you have chosen Charlottetown this year, as the city for your deliberations. This is your Centennial year, we naturally look back into the past. There we find that: The Charlottetown Hospital was opened on Dorchester Street near St. Dunstan's Cathedral in the year 1879; also in the same year the present Memorial Hospital at Falconwood opened. Five years later the Prince Edward Island Hospital opened in 1884. Our Provincial Sanatorium was opened in 1931.

"The refers to the buildings of 1879 and 1884 as hospitals, but with the present-day structures, the equipment and facilities, the advance in medical science and the efficiency of our nurses, one could hardly visualize the hospitals of the older days. But we thank God for them, without a beginning the hospitals of today could not exist.

"Charlottetown feels proud of its hospitals. We believe they are as up-to-date as can be found anywhere. We are proud, also, that we are part of the Maritime Hospital Association for we fully realize that through this organization benefits derived will be shared by all for the welfare of those who have been set aside through illness and have found a haven within the confines of our hospitals. This has been made possible to our citizens by you.

"The administration branch of our hospitals is possibly doing the greatest work in the community. An organization composed largely of non-paid Boards of Directors, Hospital Ladies' Aids, etc., all working in unison for the proper care of our sick.

"Good management and administration insure success, without it there is failure. By having discussions of each others problems, exchange of ideas made possible by the M.H.A. conventions, benefits must accrue to all individual hospital boards.

"Too many of us are prone to forget such things as community service, and it is only at times such as this that we realize what people like you are doing for mankind. We are proud of you—we are privileged to have you with us—Yours is a noble task.

"I welcome you from the bottom of my heart. I do hope your visit with us will not all be taken up with business sessions, but that you will have time to have some relaxation, a chance to see something of our city—meet we Charlottetonians and enjoy some of the hospitality which we pride ourselves on having in abundance."

Fighting Flares In So. Viet Nam

By Corley Smith
SAIGON, South Viet Nam. (Reuters)—Premier Ngo Dinh Diem's army Tuesday night drove to cut the communication lines of black-shirt guerrillas in two private armies, as fighting that broke out in South Viet Nam last week flared anew.

Diem's army of 24,000 regulars is meeting increased resistance from the hit-and-run private armies of the Binh Xuyen and Hoa Hao.

Fighting has become more intense, with dozens of ambushes and skirmishes a day.

Diem's forces fanned out into territory occupied by the private armies. His strategy is to push between the Hoa Hao and the Cambodian frontier, trying to sever the enemy's lines of communication and possible retreat routes.

CLASH WITH GUERRILLAS
Clashes between guerrilla and government forces were reported by both sides.

The Binh Xuyen, driven out of Saigon earlier this month, claimed that more than 100 government troops were wiped out in a single action.

The government army said that during the last 48 hours, the Hoa Hao had mined roads, thrown grenades, attacked outposts, clashed with army patrols and tried to blow up bridges south of here.

The Binh Xuyen announced they had ambushed a fleet of supply junks and sampans Sunday in the Saigon river delta, killing 100 soldiers and capturing large quantities of supplies.

Jubilant Yank Airmen Flying Home From China

By Forrest Edwards
HONG KONG, (AP)—Four U. S. Air Force fighter pilots, bolstered by two years in Red China jails, sped across the Pacific Tuesday night toward Hawaii and reunion with their families.

They revealed aboard the Bataan, the C-54 transport which once was Gen. Douglas MacArthur's personal plane.

They had crossed the border into this British colony just after noon Tuesday, changed from prison uniforms to slacks and sports shirts, and rested only a few hours before taking off for the 5,537-mile trip to Honolulu.

CONDITION GOOD
Their physical condition seemed satisfactory, and the U.S. officials said there was no evidence that any of them had been brain-washed.

The four men, all shot down in the Korean war and convicted of "intruding" in Manchuria in "wanton invasion of Chinese territory," are:

Capt. Harold Fischer, Jr., 28, of Sweet City, Iowa; Lieut. Lyle Cameron, Lincoln, Neb.; Lt.-Col. Edwin Heller, 36, Wynnewood, Pa.; and Lieut. Roland W. Parks, 24, Omaha, Neb.

Heller as spokesman said the four were amazed to be free of the U. S. prisoners in China to be released.

None of the men would say where they had been imprisoned, but American authorities here said they believed it was at Mukden, Manchuria, most of the time.

U. S. State Secretary Dulles sent messages to United Nations Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold and Prime Minister Nehru of India thanking them for their help in obtaining the Americans' release.

Hammarskjold has been negotiating with the Peiping regime for months to free these four and 11 other American fliers, members of a bomber crew, jailed by the Chinese Communists. Nehru's special envoy, V. K. Krishna Menon, who recently returned from conferences in Peiping, was being let out.

Krishna Menon has advised the U. S. state department that freeing the four pilots is only the first step the Chinese are taking to improve relations and indicated release of the others might be expected soon. A letter from Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai to Hammarskjold also suggested that the others would be freed soon.
