LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

More "Free Corn."

SIR,—In the Weekly Patriot of the 20th inst., I see an article headed, "Free Corn," in which that paper says THE EX-AMINER and its correspondents take a very narrow view of the "Free Corn" question.
As I am one of the correspondents referred to I take the liberty of sending you a few lines in reply. If studying our own interests can be called narrow-mindedness then I am of opinion that the editor of the Patriot is quite as narrow-minded as the farmers, but I do think our own interests is a first principle with all classes. The Patriot, like our Grit representatives at Ottawa, quotes reasons in favor of Nova Scotia and Quebec farmers obtaining free corn for stock feeding, but I defy him to show one good reason why our only oats market in the neighboring Provinces should be destroyed by the importation of free Yankee corn. The Patriot then goes on to tell us what we all know, that growing outs impoverishes the soil. Notwithstanding this seven-eighths of our farmers must continue to grow it, and with free corn to-day we could not get more than twenty-five cents per bushel for oats. Does the Patriot and our Grit representatives at Ottawa think the farmers are such fools as to believe it would pay to sell our oats at that price and invest the money in free Yankee corn? The Patriot editor himself has doubts of the success of the importation of free corn, as he says: "Whatever might be the results of such an experiment in the Island, there is no doubt that the farmers of the other Provinces would benefit by free corn." There it is again. Our Grit editors and Grit representatives at Ottawa advocate the interests of the other Provinces, but their voices and pens are not used to show one tangible reason as to how this Island would be benefited by admitting Yankee corn free of duty, while these same Yankees tax our potatoes fifteen cents per bushel. The Grits abuse the National Policy and the Government for not giving a due protection to the interests of us farmers, yet with that wonderful inconsistency which is at all times part and parcel of Grit reasoning, our Grit members at Ottawa and our Grit members here who back them up, do everything possible to deprive the farmers of this Island of the little protection afforded by the National Policy. No doubt if they could get the corn duty removed, as our Island representatives at Ottawa have more than once attempted, and thus destroy our home market in the neighboring Provinces they would then, with their usual inconsistency, howl louder than ever at the N. P. for not protecting the interests of the farmer.

If our Grit members at Ottawa had the welfare of the Province at heart, instead of their party exigencies, their voices would have been heard the other day (on Mr.
Wood's motion for a return showing the quantity of pork, bacon, etc., imported into Canada) advocating an additional duty on American pork. If they would only secure us the home market (which, as everyone knows, is the best paying market), for our oats and pork, we would be prepared to compete with the rest of the Dominion, notwithstanding the "cheap rates from the west" that the Patriot accuses the C. P. R. of giving. We do not fear our own Northwest; it is the Yankee corn and corn-fed Yankee pork coming in duty free that would kill us. The Grit orators prate gloriously about the advantages of Free Trade with the States, but secure us the home market for our pork and we can use all our potatoes and oats at home, making pork to take the place of the millions of pounds of hog products that are now driving ours out of the market. We would thus be consuming our own growth of potatoes and oats in making pork, and thereby be enriching our soils, while we would be at the same time supplying the wants of our own manufacturers, miners, lumbermen and fishermen, who even now, with these industries only in their infancy, are the best customers we have. Surely, Mr. Editor, this would indeed be preferable to allowing Yankee free corn to come in, to drive our oats out of the market. Surely this would be more in our interests than that Yankee free pork and beef (which Grit Free Trade would bring about) should be brought here to supply our customers.

If the Yankees will not meet us fairly and give us the old Reciprocity Treaty again, we must, as Canadians, stand by our own interests and show Brother Jonathan that we can live, as we are now living, independent of him, and that it is not disposed to trade fairly with us, we have push and energy sufficient to meet him in the markets of the world and get our share thereof.

The Patriot winds up by accusing the Island Tories of being "very inconsistent in their cry against free corn," and of wanting to "keep up a Chinese wall against cheap western products." Yes, Mr. Editor, we, as farmers, are not in favor of allowing cheap western products to come in duty free, and compete with our home growth, until the Yankees admit our potatoes and fish on equal terms, and we will one and all support the National Policy and Sir John A. Macdonald, who stands by our interests when our Grit representatives turn their backs upon them.

Notes by the Way.

Mr. Angus McDonald (Garabalia) of Pisquid, showed your correspondent a very fine model of a vessel which he intends to build for James E. McDonald, Esq., merchant, Cardigan Bridge. The vessel will be 110 feet keel, 28 feet beam, and 12 feet depth of hold, and will register about 300 tons.

Mr. John McQuaid, of Pisquid, shipped 1100 bushels of potatoes last fall. The Messrs. McQuaid will sell at auction Monday, 3d day of March, their estate, which contains nearly 400 acres of excellent land, together with very fine buildings, etc.

Messrs. Dunn & Welsh, of Peske's Station, are building a store which they expect to have ready for business the coming spring.

There is a juvenile literary and debating institute established in the schoolroom at Peske's Station. Mr. Jas. Kelly, teacher, is president.

As there is a large amount of business traffic at Peske's Station now, it is hoped that it will soon be made a booking station.

There should be a post office at Donnelly's Road. All the inhabitants there take newspapers, and are obliged to travel some distance for their mail.

A young school teacher of seventeen summers, who has recently been teaching in King's County, is courted by father and son; the old gentleman carries off the prize. It appears that the old gentleman's son was keeping company with the lady in question, and it was understood that they were to be married in the near future. Fortunately, or unfortunately, for the young man, he had occasion to leave home for some days on business, when it was reported that he had been wedded to another lady. When the young teacher heard the news she was much affected, and when advised by the gossips to marry the old man, as he had property, she readily consented, thinking her lover had deceived her.
Then Mr. Busyboddy goes to the old gentleman, who had lost his wife only a few months before, and says: "If you give me a — of h — y, I'll get you a young wife." "It's a bargain," said the old gentleman. The match was made there and then, the couple journeying to Charlottetown, where the lady teacher had her salary paid her. The couple were married and returned to their home. When they arrived, the young man who had been absent was also present, and was chagrined to learn that his aged father had been married to his affianced, as the report about his being married was false. The young lady, it is said, was also visibly affected when she, too, learned the facts.

New Perth is a remarkably fine farming district, as the land is constantly kept in a high state of cultivation. Its proximity to Montague and Cardigan Bridges affords the best shipping facilities in the country, besides being but a short distance to draw limestone, which the people use extensively on their land. On all sides can be seen cosy and comfortable homesteads, and the latest and most improved farming utensils, etc.

There are some prominent farmers in this section, as well as some business men, among which may be mentioned Cyrus Shaw, Esq., who is as successful a farmer as he is a politician; William Cain, Esq., School Inspector; John Hamilton, Esq., who operates a cheese factory in conjunction with some of his neighbors. C. H.
McNeill keeps a good general store.

The New Perth School is a first-class one.
The building is quite large and well-equipped for school and other purposes.
Here religious, temperance and literary entertainments are often held. Mr. C. W.
West is the teacher, a very efficient and experienced gentleman, who has had charge of the institution for the last eight years.
The pupils showed a remarkable knowledge of agricultural chemistry, Latin and mathematics, considering their ages. There are not fewer than six pupils from other sections attending school at this place, who have passed third-class examinations and are studying the higher branches.

The oldest man now at that place is Mr.
Daniel Munchin, who 92 years of age, and who is wonderfully active for a man of his years. He was busy chopping wood when the youngsters were voting. Mr. John Robertson, of Baldwin's Road, is by far the most robust man of his age I have met with for some time. This old gentleman who is now 95 years, chops all the fuel at the door. He was chopping quite vigorously at the house when your correspondent arrived there. Mr. Robertson is a Scottishman, was born in Perthshire, Scotland, and emigrated to this country in 1819. He can read both English and Gaelic, and has a Gaelic Bible and Testament, which he reads from daily.

Mr. Ildore Martin, McLean & Son's head blacksmith, has been very unwell for some weeks, from the effects of the influenza, but is now recovering. Mrs. John McMillan, and several others have been confined to their rooms but are now getting better. Mr. Samuel Mutch, the veteran teacher, who last fall was ailing, is, we are glad to say, quite smart, and judging from personal appearances, he will, we hope, long live to "teach the young idea how to shoot."

John J. McDonald, the popular proprietor of the Village Hotel, has recently arrived home from Boston, looking hale and hearty. Mr. McDonald has been attending to the sales of produce shipped by himself and prominent merchants of Mon-tagne.

Rt. Hon. A. M. Porter, Master of the Rolls in Ireland, whose speech was the cause of Henry Campbell's libel suit against the Belfast News Letter, which resulted in the plaintiff's favor, has apologized to Campbell and paid him £500. He also pays costs.
