ILL FATED SPARROWS — Everyone knows who killed Cock Robin, but there is a new mystery as to who got even with the murderer by killing 8 sparrows. The birds, all noticeably unharmed, were seen yesterday not far from the Court House all huddled together in a small circle and all very dead. Just who or what killed them was not apparent, but it seemed odd that they were grouped on the ground in such an unusual manner. Especially in view of the fact that there were no bows or arrows in evidence.

The Rev. A. H. Wilkinson, B.D. (above), one of the General Secretaries of the British and Foreign Bible Society, London, England, has been visiting the Auxiliaries of the Society in Canada since early September. Born in Spennymoor in the County of Durham, England, he proceeded to Oxford University, being an undergraduate of Balliol College. He took his degree of B.Th. in Manchester University, and after a period of service with the Student Christian Movement he went to China as a missionary under the Church Missionary Society. Later he became Professor of History in the West China University. In 1922 he returned to England where he held a parish in Poynton, Cheshire. He was appointed one of the General Secretaries of the British and Foreign Bible Society in 1929. Since then he has visited many countries in the interests of the work, and has promoted the welfare of the Society in every possible way.

Mr. Wilkinson is a persuasive and pleasing speaker. He will be the special speaker in Trinity United Church, Charlottetown, next Wednesday night, and in the Church of Christ, Summerside, on the following Friday night.

Brackley Man Sells Two Champions

AMHERST, N. S., Nov. 7.—Two Maritime Winter Fair champions, sold yesterday afternoon at the Maritime Guernsey sale in Bailey Arena, here. Brackley Nancy 2nd, a junior yearling heifer and junior champion at the Guernsey show here Monday, sold for $450.00. Brackley Belinda, first prize junior calf and reserve junior champion brought $350.00.

Both animals were bought by W. S. Brooks of Paris, Ontario, who was the judge of the Guernsey show. The heifers are sisters and they won the progeny of dam class here for Mr. Rodd.

The sale of the two animals for the bidding prices was regarded as a steal by veteran Guernsey breeders. The heifers were regarded as the finest animals in the show and Mr. Rodd himself regarded them as probably the best he ever had in his herd.

The auctioneer was Harold Brown of Cornwall, Ontario and he stated they were the best two heifers he ever saw out of any cow. Their combined value was estimated to be at least $2,000 on the Maritime market and to be much higher than this in United States circles.

Bidding at the Guernsey sale here was very slow. A Frank Saunderson cow from Nova Scotia brought $550.00 for the highest price of the first eight animals sold.

First Session Of Education Committee Held

The first session of the Central Advisory Committee on Education for the Atlantic Provinces was held last night at the Prince of Wales College following a reception for the members at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Frank MacKinnon.

Following the opening remarks by the Chairman of the Committee, Dr. Watson Kirkconnell, President of Acadia University, and an expression of welcome by Dr. MacKinnon, Professor A. S. Mowatt, of Dalhousie University spoke on "The Universities' basis of prescription". He said that subjects should not be taught merely from the standpoint of facts, but also from the standpoint of the philosophical basis. High school matriculation should be made stiffer and only persons intellectually and scholastically prepared should be admitted to a university.

Speaking on the subject "The effect of education in the Secondary Schools", Dr. J. P. McCarthy, Principal of the Nova Scotia Normal College in Truro, described the purposes of a high school, noting that "the kind of person a high school turns out is far more important than the skill he has acquired".

Considerable discussion by the committee followed on the question as to the suitability of Latin as a matriculation subject, and the need for adequate training in the basic subjects in high schools.

UNKNOWN AREA The Antarctic Continent, as big as Europe and Australia combined, has been only half explored and mapped.

From Borden in will be C. N. R. Vice-President and General Manager W. E. Robinson, Superintendent C. T. Montgomery and Master Mechanic Harold Moore.

Outstanding Showing Made By PEI Ayrshire Breeders

AMHERST, N. S., Nov. 7.—The money winnings' totalled approximately $260.00. Six of their seven firsts were won in the female classes and they were particularly strong in females in milk and also dry females. They also won the senior herd class.

Keith Boswell and Sons carried off the honors in the classes for breeders herds, senior get of sire and progeny of dam. They placed second in the senior herd and also in the progeny class.

The get of Cherry Bank Clead-class and the progeny of Lealands Royal Mable topped the progeny of dam competitions. Third place in the class was won by the Estate of George Boswell.

The Victoria Boswells ranked close third in the money winnings as they took in about $180. They had four firsts, four seconds, two thirds, a fourth and three sixths.

Second place prize money was won by S. C. Oland of Halifax. Col. Oland took in about $210.00 on two firsts, three seconds, nine thirds, a fourth and two fifths. He also won the grand and junior male championships.

Stanley C. Hennigar of Densmore Mills, N. S., who made a strong showing in the male classes and the young females yesterday, only showed a couple of animals today. Nevertheless, he won eight firsts, two seconds, a fourth, the junior female and reserve championship, the grand male and female reserves. Their money winnings amounted to about $135.00.

Almon Wood and Sons of Little York had one first, two seconds, three thirds, one fourth, four fifths and a sixth. The Estate of George Boswell had one second, two thirds, two fourths, a fifth and sixth.

Blackadder Miss Fashion, owned by A. MacRae and Sons, won the grand and senior female championship. She won both classes for aged cows in milk and her selection as grand champion gave the judge, Gilbert MacMillan of Huntingdon, Quebec little effort.

Nine classes were judged here today and eight of them went to Island breeders. Four of the winners were won by MacRae's, three by Keith Boswell and Sons and one to Almon Wood. Island breeders also won the Inter-Provincial herd competition.

A. MacRae and Sons won the Premier Breeder and Exhibitor award for the two day show as they scored a total of seven firsts, seven seconds, two thirds, a fourth, two fifths and a sixth.

Appeals For Greater Interest In Politics

Young people should not be afraid to enter politics where their freshness of approach and support is of great value to the party they represent, stated Mr. Leon Balcer, M.P. for Three Rivers, Quebec, and national president of the Young Progressive Conservative Association in speaking yesterday afternoon at the annual convention of the Young Progressive Conservative Association of Prince Edward Island. The meeting, held in the Empire Theatre, was largely attended.

Due to the narrow margins registered in recent elections, the participation of the young people in politics and their influence in party matters carries great weight, Mr. Balcer said. "If each of us puts our shoulder to the wheel and gives full support to our leader, success in the future is ours."

"The four recent by-elections where three of the candidates elected were members of the Young Progressive Conservative Association in their Provinces is a great inspiration to all of us," he said, "and the fresh approach of youth in public affairs is a big stimulus to the older people in the affairs of the nation."

The convention commenced in the morning with the registration of members and continued in the afternoon with the opening address by the President of the P.E.I. Association, G. R. Foster, who read messages received from Messrs. W. Chester S. MacLure, M.P. for Queens County and John H. Price, candidate for Prince County in the last Federal election, regretting their inability to attend. He also read a letter from Mr. J. Angus MacLean, M. P. for Queens who hoped to be able to attend the evening meeting.

A message of welcome to the City was given by Acting-Mayor Col. J. Stewart to the delegates, and a brief address was also given by Mr. R. R. Bell, M.L.A., Leader of the Progressive Conservative Party for P.E.I. Mr. Bell said that the work of the young people in the party was of great interest to the national leader, the Hon. George Drew, and their importance was such that two very busy men, Mr. Leon Balcer and Mr. John Diefenbaker, M.P., had taken time out from their parliamentary duties to attend the convention.

Reports Progress Following the reading of the minutes of the 1950 convention by the secretary - treasurer, John Smethurst, the Presidents report was given by Mr. Foster, who said that in the past year, three new clubs had been formed in 2nd Queens, and the 4th and 5th Districts of Prince. The election of Messrs. J. Angus MacLean to the Federal Government and J. W. D. Campbell to the Provincial House, both from the ranks of the Young Progressive Conservative Association, was very heartening, he said, and it is up to the members to exploit the opportunities which are now presented.

The new constitution of the Association was read by Leo Rossiter of Morell, chairman of the Constitution Committee, and the motion for its adoption was moved by Blair Swan. It was moved by Harold Hennessey, seconded by Chester MacDonald, that the annual membership fee in the organization should be one dollar. It was also noted by Mr. Foster that the age limit for members had been raised from 35 to 40 years.

Resolutions A number of resolutions were passed after the report by the chairman of the Resolution Committee, W. Chester S. MacDonald of Summerside.

It was resolved by the Convention that the success in the election of J. Angus MacLean last June had been due "to a large extent to the stand taken by him during his campaign, and the convention pledged itself to support this stand, namely, by adherence to the Election Act."

The convention supported the proposal of the Conservative Party to inaugurate a special fund of one million dollars to provide loans to those desirous of establishing themselves as farmers or fishermen and so curb the exodus of young people from the Province.

It was also resolved that representations be made to the Federal Government so that this Province may receive a fair share of defence contracts. Other resolutions passed were an expression of sympathy to the Royal Family in the illness of His Majesty, King George VI., expressions of confidence in the leadership and policies of the national and Provincial leaders, Hon. George Drew and Hon. E. R. Bell; confidence in the members for Queens, Messrs. W. Chester S. MacLure and J. Angus MacLean, and an expression of appreciation to the distinguished guests and speakers at the convention, Mr. Diefenbaker and Mr. Balcer.
