His mother laughed as she answered. "You didn't expect them to grow bigger in two minutes, did you? It takes more than one crust to make your teeth strong. But you are giving them exercise, and that is what counts. You always drink your milk and eat your vegetables and those are the things that build your teeth. Just like people, teeth need exercise too. Laurie went over to baby Linda and opened his mouth wide, and said, "Look, Linda, see brother's pretty teeth."

Richmond and Vicinity

Opl. Johnny DesRoches, RCAF is spending a week at home with his wife and family at Richmond.

Friends are sorry to learn of the illness of Mrs. Walter Noonan, who has been confined to bed with rheumatic fever. All wish her a speedy recovery.

—Friends are welcoming Mr. Thomas Noonan back to Richmond. He arrived home on March 13, after spending a most enjoyable visit of six weeks with friends and relatives in Portland, and Rumford, Me.

Friends are sorry to hear of the illness of Mr. Eric Arsenault, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. William Arsenault of Grand River. He is confined to his home with rheumatic fever but all hope to see him well and back to school real soon.

Mr. Ray Brown, made a business trip to Charlottetown, on March 19. He was accompanied by Mr. Herbert McQuaid who remained over-night to attend a funeral, and by Mr. Thomas Noonan who visited with his daughter, Florence, and her husband, Mr. Henry Blanchard, also by Messrs. Ralph McLellan and Bert Ayers. Ralph, Bert and Ray attended the hockey match at the Forum that night between the Islanders and the Athletics.

A card party was held at the home of Mrs. Leonard McNeill, Sr. on March 19. It was sponsored by Richmond Women's Institute and a good sum was raised in aid of the school. Seven tables were in play. The ladies' high scores were held by Mrs. Sabie Cameron and Mrs. Elizabeth Bolger but, on cutting, Mrs. Cameron was the lucky winner of the prize and the gents' prize went to Mr. Leonard McNeill, Jr. Consolation prizes went to Mrs. Maurice Fitzgerald and Mrs. Sabie Cameron. A cake donated by Mrs. Alex Clark, was lotteried and was won by Mrs. Ray Brown. The freeze-out was won by Mrs. Owen McWilliams.

Mrs. James A. Brown, Bayside, was pleasantly surprised on her birthday, March 21, when she received best wishes through a long-distance phone call from her two sons, Jimmie and Ted, who live in Calgary, Alta. The reception was very clear and other members of the families at both ends spoke a few words.

The church card party was held in the basement on March 22 with 11 tables in play. The ladies' prize for highest score was awarded to Mrs. Frank Deigan and gents' to Mr. Roy Gillis of Wellington Centre. Consolation prizes went to Miss Marie Mur-naghan of Grand River, and Mr. Mike Gallant. The freeze-out was won by Mrs. Owen McWilliams. A delicious lunch was served by the catering committee: Mrs. Guss Perry, Mrs. Elizabeth Bolger, Mrs. Hudson Ramsay and Mrs. Alex Clark.

Mrs. Ray Praught of Grand River, left by train on March 22, for St. John, to be with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Percy Praught, who has to undergo an operation, and to help care for the small children while Mrs. Praught is in the hospital. All wish Ruth very good luck and a quick recovery. —CS.

Piusville and Vicinity

—Miss Marie Peters, Bloomfield Corner, was a recent visitor to Piusville.

Relatives and friends of Mr. Denis Brown are pleased to see him home again after receiving treatment in the P. E. Island Hospital, Charlottetown.

Mrs. Joseph L. Arsenault is spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. Anthony Gallant, after receiving treatment in the P. E. Island Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Arsenault spent a few days recently visiting relatives in Howland.

Miss Yvonne Blanchard is employed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Jones, Bloomfield.

Sincere sympathy is being extended to Mrs. John J. Corcoran on the death of her sister, Mrs. B. R. Bachelier, which occurred recently in Bath, Me., following an illness of a few months.

Mr. Lyman Arsenault was a visitor to the district on Sunday.

Mr. Anthony Gallant and son, Clarence were hauling lumber to Summerside on March 19.

The residents of the district were busy engaged in cutting and hauling wood and lumber, the roads being in very good condition for hauling with tractors.

St. Dunstan's Basilica was the scene of an impressive ceremony on March 9 when 11 girls from the order of St. Martha received the holy habit. One of the girls was Norma Corcoran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Corcoran. Her name in the religious order is Sister Mary Helena. Her little sister Aleitha was habit bearer. Those attending the ceremony from Piusville and vicinity were Rev. Father Trainor, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Corcoran, sisters Aleitha and Arlene and brothers Winston and Allison, Mrs. Melvin McGregor, Mrs. Peter Dalton, Miss Gladys Walsh. Relatives and friends from Charlottetown and vicinity were sister M. Agatha, Mrs. Clayton Green, Miss Mary Clement McGregor, Miss Marie Clark, Mrs. Justin Corcoran, and Miss Aileen Corcoran. Following the ceremony at the Basilica, a delicious dinner was served at Mount St. Mary's Convent to the immediate relatives of the Novices. —BB

Mr. Bennett Howard, Glengarry, had the misfortune of losing a valuable coat recently.

Little Miss Susan Howard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Howard, Cape Wolfe, is a patient at Western Hospital. Her many playmates wish her a speedy recovery.

Friends of Mrs. Clarence Dalton, Glengarry, are pleased to learn her condition is greatly improved, and hope to see her about her household duties soon again.

—Mr. and Mrs. Harold Howard, Burton, motored to Charlottetown, recently to visit Mrs. Howard's brother, Rev. Phalen McKenna, who is a patient at the Charlottetown Hospital. His many friends and former parishioners of St. Mark's wish him a speedy and complete recovery.

Mrs. Wilfred Dalton, Burton, had the misfortune of injuring his arm in a fall, when she missed a step while coming off the stage, Wednesday evening at St. Mark's hall. She received first aid and it was thought she had sprained her wrist. Although suffering from pain and shock, she carried on with her part of the program. Later after medical examination it was found she had a fractured wrist and is a patient at Western Hospital. Her many friends wish her a speedy recovery.

The feast of St. Patrick's was observed at St. Mark's with a good attendance at Mass which was celebrated by the pastor, Rev. J. N. Trainor, who also delivered an impressive sermon on the Life of St. Patrick. In the evening a variety concert was held at St. Mark's parish hall. A well prepared program was presented to a large and appreciative audience. Mr. Bennett Howard acting chairman gave a short but impressive talk on the Life of St. Patrick. The program consisted of choruses, solos, duets, dialogues, step-dancing and instrumental music full of Irish drama, wit and humour. Rev. J. N. Trainor thanked the cast also all who helped to make the evening a success. A sale of

Let's Talk It Over

Sometimes you hear people argue that the encouraging of competition among pupils is a good thing because they must face competition after they leave school. Now, it is quite true that we cannot ever escape a certain amount of competition in our lives. "The survival of the fittest" is a phrase which must be recognized with in all forms of life, not only in the animal, but also in the vegetable kingdom. But what kind of competition do we generally find in post-school world?

We find competition among doctors, among lawyers, among Indian chiefs, competition among butchers, bakers, and candlestick makers, among day laborers and night watchmen. But this competition is restricted largely to the several groups. There is no competition between a lawyer and a butcher; none between a doctor and a day laborer.

In school, the boy who will score high in the Premier of the Province directly in front of the lad whose future work may be as a hired hand on a farm; an equally honorable calling, mark you, if the man is a faithful worker, and true to the trust for which life has been fit to shape him. Why should there be direct competition between these two? Why should the prospective premier be lauded to the skies and showered with prizes for achievement, when it is possible the other fellow has put more effort into the task than he?

It is this kind of competition that should be discouraged in the schools, and that is why educators today advocate putting the pupil in competition against himself, encouraging him to improve his work this month as compared to what he had done last month. Offering a prize for proficiency among a classroom with such widely differing capacities to handle the work at hand is like assembling on the starting line a weight lifter, a high jumper, a sprinter, and giving a prize to the one who wins the hundred yard dash.

Stenewall Pepper does not want people to be squabbling over his money after he is dead so decides to give his money to Bonnie Day, but to help Mrs. Caldwell and her son, gives Alonzo a job in one of his real estate firms.

Bonnie becomes engaged to Ezra Cobb who has gone to Boston to get a good job and an education. Miss Pinkham is jilted when Horace finds out she is not an heiress.

Specialties between acts included the following vocal solos: "Come Back to Erin" by Miss Doris Hog, "A Little Bit of Heaven" by Miss Helen Barrett, "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" by Miss Catherine Bernard, "Sweetheart Darling" by Miss Evelyn Kinch, and "It's a Great Day For the Irish" by Mr. Raymond Ahorn. The ac-companist was Mrs. E. E. Larter.

Other specialties were a monologue by Mrs. Eldon Miller, accordion music by Mrs. Henry Myers, step-dancing by Mr. James O'Brien with accompaniment by Mr. Thomas Phillips and two unaccompanied selections, "Old Black Joe" and "Home on the Range" by a quartet comprised of Messrs. Cyril Leard, Roy Leard, Perley Hardy and Albert Noonan.

Orchestra music was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Noonan and Mrs. Thomas Phillips.

Trinity Y. P. U. Weekly Meeting

The weekly meeting of Trinity Y.P.U. was held in Epworth Hall on March 23 when the feature of the program was a most informative and interesting combined question-and-answer period, capably led by Rev. C. D. Matheson, on a subject vital to all young people.

In presenting a challenging worship service, the convener, Mary MacLure, representing the Commission of Stewardship and Training, developed the theme of "Faith in the Living Christ" and was assisted by Gordon Yeo and Lila Creswell who read appropriate scripture texts, Lila Creswell who offered prayer and Shirley Wallis who was pianist.

Committee and other reports were heard in the business meeting, chaired by the president, Miss Evelyn Underhay, showing that from all angles the plays were a decided success and brought gratifying results. On motion, all expenses in connection with the plays was voted to be paid.

Future presentations and their arrangements were dealt with. A motion was unanimously passed authorizing Mary MacLure to purchase booklets for distribution to members.

Ice cream, fudge and lunches was held.

Three-Act Comedy Played At Alberton

The three-act comedy, "Maid Of Money" was presented in the Sacred Heart Parish Hall at Alberton on Wednesday, March 17. In the play, Mrs. Caldwell (Miss Florence Keefe) a very snobbish lady who keeps a boarding house, insists that her boarders are "paying guests." Alonzo (Jack Barrett) her son, is too lazy to work. He and his mother hope to inherit a lot of money from Stenewall Pepper (Dr. G. L. Keefe) who is very old and very rich. He is a cousin of Mrs. Caldwell and boards at her house.

Horace Pepper (Leo McDougall), Mrs. Caldwell's brother, is always figuring a big deal that should bring him millions. Because he thinks she is an heiress, he proposes to Mrs. Caldwell's son, Alonzo (Miss Thelma Ahearn), a man (Miss old maid who dresses and acts in a very kitchy way).

Bonnie Day (Miss Evelyn Kinch) is a young girl whom Mrs. Caldwell took from an orphanage to do the kitchen work. She is overworked and looked down upon because nobody knows who her parents were.

Ezra Cobb (Everett Shea) is the general handyman. Both he and Bonnie want an education.

Miss Hope Gordon (Mrs. J. C. Profit) is a school teacher who comes to board at Mrs. Caldwell's and undertakes Bonnie's education.

Mildred Moore (Miss Beatrice Arsenault), a newspaper worker and another boarder, is in love with Alonzo and tries to fire his ambition to make something of himself, but he prefers to wait for Cousin Stenewall's money.

Miss Ada Pepper (Mrs. Eldon Miller) who does most of the work at the Caldwell house, is Mrs. Caldwell's sister. She is kind to everyone, including Bonnie.

Mr. Foster (Dr. J. P. Kelly), a lawyer, is trying to find the heiress, the Fairchild fortune. Finally he learns her name is Miss Marion Leslie, better known as Bonnie Day.

Stenewall Pepper does not want people to be squabbling over his money after he is dead so decides to give his money to Bonnie Day, but to help Mrs. Caldwell and her son, gives Alonzo a job in one of his real estate firms.

Bonnie becomes engaged to Ezra Cobb who has gone to Boston to get a good job and an education. Miss Pinkham is jilted when Horace finds out she is not an heiress.
