LINES

Written on the death of Edith May, only and beloved daughter of William and Margaret Brown, of South Lake, King's County, P. E. Island, who died at Portland, Maine, on Thursday, March 16th, 1894, aged 23 years.

AN ACROSTIC.

Ere care had blanched the cheek, or dimmed the eye,
Death claimed our dear young friend.
It seems so strange that she, so young, should die,
That earthly hopes so suddenly should end.
Hard, so very hard, to part with those we love;
Made harder still when in a foreign land,
Away from home and fond parents, they
Yield up their spirit at the Lord's command.
But we must not, need not, murmur at God's will.
Resigned was she to part with all below.
Oh, may our lives be such that we,
When called, like her may be prepared to go,
No more pain or sickness here to know.

A FRIEND.

DON'T DIE BEFORE YOUR TIME.

"Why will you die?" That is the question the scientist now asks the miserable sufferer from consumption or lung trouble The answer naturally is "because I can't help it." But the consumptive can help it. Miller's Emulsion made from Norwegian Cod Liver, and combined with the hypophosphites of lime and soda will cure nine cases out of ten of consumption, and the tenth case can get a reprieve for a year or two. New blood is what the consumptive requires, and Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, when taken produces it. Miller's Emulsion is the great nerve strengthener and blood maker, and cures Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Scrofula and all lung affections. In Big Bottles, 50c. and $1, at all Drug Stores.

THE REVIEW OF REVIEWS

Edited by ALBERT SHAW

IT WAS in April, 1891, that the first number of the American Review of Reviews was printed The new idea of giving the best that was in the other magazines in addition to its own brilliant, original articles, took America by storm, as it had taken England—though the magazine itself was not at all a reprint of the English edition. It deals most largely with American affairs, and is edited with perfect independence, in its own office.

The Review of Reviews is a monthly, timely in illustration and text, and instantly alive to the newest movements of the day, to a degree never before dreamed of. Thousands of readers who offer their commendations, among them the greatest names in the world, say that the Review of Reviews gives them exactly what they should know about politics, literature, economics and social progress The most influential men and women of all creeds and all parties have agreed that no family can afford to lose its educational value, while for professional and business men, it is simply indispensable The departments are conducted by careful specialists, instead of mere scissors-wielders, and scores of immediately interesting portraits and pictures are in each number.

All this explains why the Review of Reviews has come to a probably unprecedented success in the first three years of its existence. For 1895 it will be more invaluable than ever.

Agents are reaping handsome profits. We give liberal commissions. Send for terms.

THE REGULAR DEPARTMENTS

Besides the special articles and character sketches of thrilling interest and timeliness, the Review of Reviews has these regular departments:

The Progress of the World.—An illustrated editorial review of the month's events which thinking, alert men and women should understand on their proper significance and proportions.

Leading Articles of the Month.—This department, and all succeeding ones, The Periodicals Reviewed, embody the idea on which the magazine was founded and named. All that is best in the other magazines, American and foreign, is here brightly summarized, reviewed and quoted from.

Current History in Caricature chronicles the month's history through the picturesque means of the successful cartoons that are appearing throughout the world.

Other departments review carefully new books, give lists and indexes of all articles in the world's magazines, and furnish a terse daily record of current events.

THE QUEEN IS SMALL BUT GRACEFUL.

The smallest sovereign of the old world, that is for her age, is Queen Victoria, who is under five feet in height, and almost as broad as she is long. Nor does she make any attempt to remedy this condition by any artificial means, for the boots which she wears are almost entirely devoid of heels, and are roomy in the extreme, while many a year must have passed since she has had occasion to require the service of her corsetiere.

Even when standing by the side of the very shortest man, she appears small and stunted, and under the circumstances it is wonderful how she should be able to move about with so much grace and majesty.

Indeed, the curtesies which, on great occasions this wonderful, extraordinary old great-grandmother is accustomed to make to her guests or subjects are perfect marvels of facile grace, altogether astonishing in a woman of her figure.

"I hear," said the clam," that you are going in for Christian socialism."

"You have been misinformed," averred the oyster. "It is church socialism that I expect to figure in."—Indianapolis Journal.

HOW TO TREAT A COLD.

Don't stuff a cold, as the old adage advises, if you do you will have a fever to starve. A genuine cold is a shock received by the many million nerves which approach near the surface of the human body, and which control the nearly seven million pores of the skin. This shock closes the pores of the skin, is transmitted to the nerve centre and back to the mucous membranes, forcing a great amount of blood to these membranes, creating more or less irritation and consequent fever, inflammation, dryness, then watery discharge and catarrh. The shock may have its cause from a chill, from improper eating, a nervous fright and various other causes which irritate the nerves of the skin and mucous membranes of the nose, throat and bronchial tubes. Excess of blood in the stomach still more clogs the system and pores of the skin, so that effete matter, which should be carried off by the natural courses is retarded; which is ample reason for not stuffing a cold. Experimenting with a severe cold is a dangerous custom, as most persons try one remedy until some friend suggests another "sure cure." When slight hoarseness or tightening of the nasal membranes warns one of a skin exposure or chill from whatever cause, act promptly, delays are dangerous; with children it may mean croup and strangulation; with adults, catarrh, bronchitis, perhaps pneumonia. Scores of mothers would as soon go to bed without matches in the house as without that old-fashioned remedy, Johnson's Anodyne Liniment near at hand for colds and croupy children. The proprietors, I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass., will send their new illustrated book entitled "Treatment for Diseases," free to any person for the asking. .....

THE PROPRIETORS.

Make a Few Pertinent Remarks to their Patrons.

Toronto, Jan. 28.—Dr. L. A. Smith & Co., of this city, whose name has become a household word through the Dominion, and in many states of the Union, in consequence of the wonderful cures effected by Dodd's Kidney Pills, desire to thank their patrons for the good words they have spoken for this remedy. During the past few months these expressions have been wired to nearly every paper in the country by grateful people whose lives have been prolonged. These expressions are straightforward and honest, and should convince any unprejudiced mind of their sincerity and truthfulness. You know now, reader, that Dodd's Kidney Pills will do all that is claimed for them. They have stood the test.

Priestley's Dress Goods

A good name is more potent than thrones and kingdoms. In business a good name is vital. The name of Priestley is a synonym for what is delicate, durable and beautiful in Black Dress Goods. In England it is a household word. Priestley's dress fabrics are worn by the well dressed women of Great Britain, while on this side, they have attained to general favor. Ladies should buy no other black dress goods till they have seen Priestley's. They add to an unequalled durability, a beautiful draping quality. Women of taste understand what that means in the success of a costume. 1

See that the goods you buy are stamped "every five yards with "Priestley's name." No others are of their manufacture.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted.
