WHICH IS THE
Cheapest and Best Dry Goods House
IN CHARLOTTETOWN?

Is a question frequently asked, and we believe the best solution of the problem is a careful comparison of the goods and the prices charged. In point of genuine value we claim to stand in the front rank, and respectfully invite a fair comparison. We wish also to intimate to our friends that, notwithstanding the effort put forth by our opponents to sell at a discount of 33 1/3 per cent, our sales this month have been larger than ever. This, alone, convinces us that our prices are honest and that we are serving our customers well. We again ask you to look everywhere; but buy nowhere till you inspect.

Meeting at Tignish.

PURSUANT to notice a public meeting was held in St. Mary's Hall, Tignish, on Friday evening, 5th inst. A very large number of the electors of Tignish and adjacent settlements were present. On motion John C. McCarthy, Esq., was appointed to the chair, and the undersigned secretary.

Mr. Barclay first addressed the meeting. After referring to the causes which led to his appearance there, he took up the political question now agitating the public mind—the abolition of the Council—and in a clear and forcible manner gave the reasons why the said body should be abolished, and pledged himself, if elected, that on first opportunity arising he would move a resolution for the abolition of the Council.

Hon. Benj. Rogers, the Opposition candidate, spoke at considerable length. He read from Hon. Mr. Wightman's speech to show that the Government were not sincere in their abolition policy, and explained the amendments introduced by the Liberals. He was in favor of amalgamation to elect thirteen members under the property and fifteen under the assembly franchise, thus protecting the property interests of this country. He referred to some of the bills rejected by the Council, and claimed that the provisions of these bills, had they become law, would be injurious to the Province.

Edward Hackett, M. P., compared the retrenchment policy inaugurated by the present Government with the policy of their predecessors and adduced facts to show the sincerity of the Government in their abolition platform. He was in favor of abolishing the Council; showed that the Legislative Council Bill was passed in 1862 by the Palmer Government in the interests of the landlords and denounced in strong terms the action of the Council when Pope, Howland and Haviland went to Ottawa to secure better terms.

Mr. Rogers again took the platform to reply, and was asked by an elector if a few years ago he wrote to a certain person of Alberton a letter abusive of the Catholic Church. He (Mr. R.) denied ever writing such a letter, and characterized its production as a forgery.

James F. White, who was accused of circulating copies of this letter, appeared to clear himself of the charge. He read a copy of the letter, in which were used terms most abusive of the Catholic Church, also one from the Clerk of the Session of the Presbyterian Church at Alberton, certifying it to be a true copy of the one lodged with the Session, and signed "Benjamin Rogers." Judging by the effect the reading produced on the meeting, Mr. Rogers was unanimously believed to be guilty of the charge.

S. F. Perry, M. P., informed the meeting that he would be a candidate at the next Dominion election, when he would be prepared to discuss questions of a most gigantic nature. Senator Howland pointed out the inconsistency of retaining a body to protect property interests, the members of which were not required to be worth one cent—a provision placed there through landlord influence to enable half-pay officers in the country to secure a seat.

Peter Gavin, Esq., delivered a short and able address. He was surprised to find that Mr. Perry, who a few evenings previous at Alberton spoke on behalf of the Opposition candidate, this evening did not refer to the question before the people, nor utter one word of encouragement for Mr. Rogers. This he claimed was an admission of defeat. He (Mr. Gavin) attended meetings in various parts of the District, and could assure his friends that Mr. Barclay would be elected. On motion the house divided and was declared unanimous for Mr. Barclay—not one vote appearing on the Opposition side. A vote of thanks was tendered the Chairman, to which he replied in a suitable manner.

ENEAS B. BRENAN,
Secretary.

Salvationists in Quebec.

Le Canadien sincerely regrets the attacks made by some Quebec rowdies on the members of the Salvation army. "The preachers who spoke yesterday," says that journal, "proclaimed truths that were in the highest sense Christian, and civilized men ought not to forget their dignity to such a point as to insult and threaten women. Let those who do not want to hear them stay at home, as Mr. Langelier, who was present, advised them, and as all reflecting persons will also advise." Le Canadien, at the same time, thinks that in Quebec there is no need for the efforts of the Salvationists, which should be directed to the reclamation of those classes, abounding in great cities, who never enter a place of worship. In Quebec all the people go to church on Sunday, and being accustomed to perform their religious duties there they are likely to regard as profanations the eccentric proceedings of the army. But in Canada there is impartial freedom of belief and worship to all, and on no pretext is any one justified in molesting the Salvationists. Le Canadien closes by saying that some of the preachers speak well, and that they all conduct themselves becomingly. It hopes, therefore, that the French-Canadians of Quebec will leave them alone.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain; and the little sufferer awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other kind.

Political Notes.

The receipts of Customs for October, 1886, were $1,858,116; excise, $497,951; total $2,356,067. The receipts for October, 1885, were:—Customs, $1,680,142; excise, $442,794; total, $2,122,936; increase over October, 1885, $233,131. Total receipts from the 1st July to the 31st October, 1886, were $11,460,084, the expenditure for the same being $8,754,670, showing an excess of receipts over expenditure of $2,705,409.

St. John Sun.—Hon. Alexander Mackenzie is one of the four members of parliament connected with colonization companies which have grants from the government. Mr. Blake says that Mr. Mackenzie is an honest man, but Mr. Blake also says that members of parliament who are concerned with colonization companies are boodlers. It therefore appears that Mr. Mackenzie is an honest boodler.

A Londonderry correspondent of the Halifax Herald says that Finance Minister McLellan will sweep the county of Colchester at the next election. His opponents have been circulating a report that Sir Adams Archibald would oppose McLellan. When Sir Adams presided over the Truro meeting, at which Mr. McLellan and other ministers spoke on the 29th ult., this hope was pretty well blasted. It will be remembered that the chairman's speech was a vigorous arraignment of Mr. Blake for his conduct on the Riel matter.

Sir John Macdonald's address, delivered to the Workingmen's Liberal-Conservative Association of Ottawa and Le Cercle Lafontaine on October 8th, has been printed in a neat pamphlet of thirty-two pages for general distribution. It is an elaborate and exhaustive exposition of the past, present and future policies of the Conservative party towards the laboring classes, and as such will be in great demand. To save the Opposition press from possible loss of rest, it may as well be stated that the issuing of this pamphlet is not done at the expense of the general taxpayer, nor is it printed at the Government printing office.

An amusing story is, says the St. John Sun, told of the experience of Hon. Thomas White in Halifax. It will be remembered that before the meeting was held, a Halifax Opposition journal advised that he be not allowed a hearing. Mr. White of course knew this and was prepared for some manifestations. Before commencing to speak he had been informed that it was the habit of Halifax audiences to cheer names, and that in case the Grits were out in large numbers it would not be safe to mention Blake by name. The minister, however, concluded to try the experiment. On the mention of the Grit leader there followed vigorous shouting from a small and compact body in one part of the building. Mr. White tried the experiment several times and was able to locate the company and compute the number somewhat. Suddenly after mentioning several prominent Grits all of whom were cheered, Mr. White mentioned Louis Riel. The name of the rebel leader was greeted with the same enthusiastic applause as was that of Mr. Blake. Meanwhile Mr. White had found by the way the name of the premier was cheered that an overwhelming majority of the audience was with him, and felt free to mention Riel or any other Grit leader whose case came up for consideration.

The Chinook Winds.

The Chinook winds are the winds from the Pacific coast, starting laden with moisture, and are driven inland. Coming in contact with the cold strata of air above the mountains, condensation takes place; rain falls in abundance on the west, and the Pacific winds, deprived of their load of moisture, pass, at a high altitude, warm and dry, over the heavier and colder air of the mountains, and gives us here that which has been clothed with such great mystery, the Chinook winds; and, while they prevail, even in mid-winter, our almost tropical climate. The practical result of the law governing this matter is, of course, most important; a part of which is to give us a genial winter climate—subject to the exception that we do not always have those winds, as we get them only when the wind is from the Pacific—not surpassed, for ranching purposes (doing away with the necessity of artificial shelter and special feeding), by any other locality on the continent. With this, the rich, succulent grasses of our prairies, on which horses, sheep and cattle feed as well in winter as in summer, settles the question as to the future of the Calgary district and ensures a state of prosperity here that can scarcely be deemed less than absolutely certain.—Calgary Tribune.

The Pacific-Australian Cable.

A London despatch says: "The draft of the prospectus of the proposed Pacific-Australian cable shows that the promoters contemplate asking for two millions sterling, $10,000,000, and expect to get a 6 penny rate across the Atlantic, and a 2 1/2 pence rate across Canada to Vancouver Island, and intend charging the public 4 shillings per word from England to Australia, and the press a shilling. They purpose raising one million in £10 shares and one million in 4 per cent stock, secured on the expected Imperial-colonial guarantee of £100,000. It is hoped that Canada will contribute £12,000, Australasia £38,000, and the Imperial exchequer £50,000. The promoters talk of earning a net profit straightway of £150,000. The project is generally regarded as much too sanguine. The only actual promise yet made comes from Hawaii, of £20,000 annually. Canada may offer a subsidy, but neither the Imperial nor Australian Governments exhibit much eagerness."
