WAR NEWS.

A GREAT BATTLE FOUGHT.

The Result a Draw.

Turkish General's Plan of Attack.

LARISSA, April 22.—The first seriously planned battle commenced yesterday morning when Edhem Pasha with his advance guards, advanced against the Greeks in force from Reverie, Boughazia and Stelias. The battle raged until late in the afternoon with varying fortunes.

The Turks had an overwhelming superiority in numbers. But practically the result was a drawn battle.

The Crown Prince Constantine is hurrying reinforcements to the front.

The Greek posts at Milouna and Tyonaro were captured.

A despatch from Arta says the Greeks have captured several villages, all abandoned by Turks.

NEW YORK, April 22.—The London correspondent of the Sun, reviewing the war situation, says: "Edhem Pasha, the Turkish commander-in-chief, continues to play Napoleon's opening in the chess game of war, and so far he has a strong prospect of success. Every resource is being brought to bear to break through the Greek centre, the Turks being content only to hold the enemy on the wings. The success of this policy will be almost certainly decisive, for it will cut the Greek forces in two and open the road for a victorious march to Athens. It is believed that the war will be terrific and brief."

PARLIAMENT OF CANADA

Sir Charles Puts Mr. Laurier in a Tight Place.

OTTAWA, April 22.—A considerable part of yesterday afternoon was devoted to the discussion of the Northwest matters.

Sir Charles Tupper gives notice of an enquiry whether the Prime Minister can explain a paragraph in the speech from the throne at the opening of Parliament,—"That arrangements have been completed with the Grand Trunk Railway to enable the Intercolonial to reach Montreal," consistently with the statement made last week by Hon. Mr. Blair that the matter is still under negotiation with the Grand Trunk, and may come to nothing.

PARTIES IN NOVA SCOTIA LEGISLATURE.

The Colchester Election.

McLure Elected by a Majority of Ten.

HALIFAX, April 22.

Parties in the Provincial Legislature will stand: Liberals, 34; Conservatives 4.

In the Colchester election, McLure (Liberal) was elected to the House of Commons by ten of a majority on a recount.

DIED.

AN UNPLEASANT NECESSITY.

(Montreal Starr.)

The threat of the Corliss bill and active unneighborliness of the existing alien labor law in having a natural effect upon border Canadian communities. Up in Windsor, the civil authorities early established an alien labor law of their own and now a despatch from Vancouver, B. C., says:

At last night's meeting of the City Council a resolution that only British subjects be employed in civic work or any civil office passed with only one dissenting voice. All the aldermen spoke on the subject, the majority stating that they favored the motion in view of the alien labor law introduced in the United States. The motion was loudly applauded by the audience.

This is not, whatever the Americans may imagine, pleasant reading for Canadians; but the blame for the reciprocity in churlishness that seems to have set in is wholly theirs. They broke up the reciprocity treaty in 1866; they have refused every offer of reciprocity since; they passed an alien labor law, shutting out Canadians years ago; they would have aggravated it with the Corliss amendment if it had not been for the broader vision of Grover Cleveland. The kind of things described in the paragraph quoted above, cannot make for harmony on this continent and friendly relations between Canadian and American people, and there is likely to be more of it if Congress persists in its unfriendly policy.

It is a pity that two nominally Christian communities cannot live side by side without perpetually and offensively slamming their gates in each other's faces. But nothing else is to be expected when one of the neighbors is apparently determined that it shall be so. Parliament at the present session is getting really an alien labor bill of its own, so that the firing, if not stopped across the border, will soon be general.

One of Lincoln's Kind Acts.

One summer morning shortly before the close of the civil war the not unusual sight in Washington of an old veteran hobbling along could have been seen on a shady path that led from the executive mansion to the war office. The old man was in pain, and the pale, sunken cheeks and vague, faraway stare in his eyes betokened a short lived existence. He halted a moment and then slowly approached a tall gentleman who was walking thoughtfully along. "Good morning, sir. I'm an old soldier and would like to ask your advice."

The gentleman turned, and smiling kindly, invited the poor old veteran to a seat under a shady tree. There he listened to the man's story of how he had fought for the Union and was severely wounded, incapacitating him for other work in life, and begged directions how to apply for back pay due him and a pension, offering his papers for examination.

The gentleman looked over the papers and then took out a card and wrote directions on it, also a few words to the pension bureau, desiring that speedy attention be given to the applicant, and handed it to him.

The old soldier looked at it, and with tears in his eyes thanked the tall gentleman, who, with a sad look, bade him good luck and hurried up the walk. Slowly the soldier read the card again and then turned it over to read the name of the owner. More tears welled in his eyes when he knew whom he had addressed himself to, and his lips muttered: "I am glad I fought for him and the country, for he never forgets. God bless Abraham Lincoln!"—Harper's Round Table.
