PLAINEST WORDS MAY LEAST DECEIVE.

My speech is frank, my vows are few,
I do not woo with courtly smile;
But all I say is warmly true,
And all I promise bears no guile.
I cannot breathe false tones of love,
Which gentle hearts too oft believe;
But take me, Mary, and thou'lt prove,
That plainest words may least deceive.

There'll be some shadow in our lot,
When wedded faith shall crown our days;
But I will clear each thorny spot,
If manly care can smooth Life's ways.
Thy faults shall meet a voice still kind,
I'll sigh o'er all that hides thine grieve,
And grey Old Age shall only find
That plainest words may least deceive.

MISCELLANEOUS.

TIME.—As in money, so in time, we are to look chiefly to the smallest portions. Take care of the pence and the pounds will take care of themselves. Take care of the minutes and the hours and the years will take care of themselves. Gold is not found in California for the most part in great masses, but in little grains. It is sifted out of the sand in minute particles, which, melted together, produce the rich ingots that excite the world's cupidity. So the spare pieces of time, the shreds, the odds and ends of time put together, may form a great and beautiful work. Hall wrote his contemplations when on his circuits. Dr. Mason Good translated Lucretius in his carriage, while, as a physician, he rode from door to door. One of the Chancellors of France penned a bulky volume in the successive intervals of daily waiting for dinner. Doddridge wrote his Expositor chiefly before breakfast. Kirke White studied Greek, went over the nouns and verbs, as he was going to and from a lawyer's office. Burney learn't French and Italian while riding on horseback. Franklin laid the foundation of his wonderful stock of knowledge in his dinner hours and evenings, while working as a printer's boy.

COPLEY AND THE THREE WIVES.—A man came to Copley, the painter, and had himself and wife and seven children all included in a family piece. "It wants but one thing," said he, "and that is a portrait of my first wife; for this is my second." "But," said the artist, "she is dead, you know sir! What can I do? She is only to come in as an angel." "Oh, that's nothing at all!" answered the other; "she must come in as a woman; no angels for me!" The portrait was added, but some time elapsed before the person came back: when he returned he had a strange lady on his arm. "I must have another cast of your hand, Copley," he said; "an accident befell my second wife; this lady is my third; and she is come to have her likeness included in the family picture." The painter complied, the likeness was introduced, and the husband looked with a glance of satisfaction on his three spouses. Not so the lady. She remonstrated; never was such a thing heard of! Out her predecessors must go. The artist painted them out accordingly.

BORROWERS AND LENDERS.—There are scores of persons about town who possess no adequate means of subsistence visible to the rest of mankind. We may depend upon it, there might as truly be found an equal number of thoughtlessly generous beings, who consume in their own personal gratification but a limited proportion of the cash that somehow or other continues periodically to glide through their fingers. The man who can live for any length of time, without direct robbery, beyond his legitimate means, must avail himself of one or both of two expedients; to wit, getting into debt, or "sponging" upon one or more of those kind-hearted souls whose excessive amiability, and fear of giving offence robs them of the courage to utter the disagreeable monosyllable "no."

THE FIRST INQUIRY OF A WOMAN after marriage should be—"How shall I continue the love I have inspired? How shall I preserve the heart I have won?" Gentle lady, your husband thinks you at the present moment the loveliest; the gentlest of beings. Destroy not the illusion—be lovely still—be gentle still.

TO REPRESS A HARD ANSWER, to confess a fault, or to stop (right or wrong) in the middle of self-defence, in gentle submission, sometimes requires a struggle almost like life and death; but these three efforts are the golden threads with which domestic happiness is interwoven; once begin the fabric with the wool, and and trials shall not break or sorrow tarnish it.

HINT.—Generally the appearance and manners of a man will show his character. A man who is not worth a pound, is frequently more worthy of credit than another who has the nominal possession of thousands. Losses almost always occur in trusting to property and reports, and not to men.

I NEVER knew any man grow poor by keeping an orderly table.—Lord Burleigh.

WONDER OF THE WORLD!

Gravel Cured of five years standin

Messrs. CURTIS & PERKINS, Bangor, Me.

Gentlemen,—I have been entirely cured of the Gravel, by the use of your Cramp and Pain Killer. I commenced taking the Cramp and Pain Killer in the Spring of 1847. I had been a great sufferer for ten years previous to that time, or five years of the time I suffered beyond all my powers to describe.

During this time, I have had medicial aid, and tried various specifics, but found little relief until I obtained your Cramp and Pain Killer. In one month after I commenced using it, I began to grow better. I continued to use it for a year, all the time improving until I was entirely cured. MILES STAPLES.

We, the undersigned, are well acquainted with the above case, and certify to the above statement of facts.

Doctor Toby, a regular practising Physician, of East Machias, writes us under date of March20, 1847: "Please send me half a gallon of your Cramp and Pain Killer—it is the best medicine to cure what it is represented to, that I everused."

The Doctor then made use of it in his own case, for a severe sprain in the shoulder, caused by the upsetting of a stage, and found immediate relief, and has since used it in his practice.

Read the following. It speaks for itself.

RHEUMATISM CURED.

I certify, that I was afflicted with a violent Rheumatic pain in the small of my back, which entirely disabled me, so that I could not get up without the greatest pain and effort; nor could I walk without a cane, and then very little with. I applied Doctor Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, or Liquid Opodeldoc, and several other remedies, without any relief. After suffering in this way very little with. I purchased a bottle of Cramp and Pain Killer, prepared by CURTIS & PERKINS, Bangor, and after three applications was entirely relieved and free from pain, and am now entirely well. I also used a bottle of mine, who had been suffering for a long time with a lame side, with the same bottle. I believe it the best medicine in the world, and am happy to add my testimony in its favor

ARCHIBALD SCOTT, Esq.

SIR,—As the Agent of various Fire Insurance Companies, I beg to bring under your notice my PATENT ROOF PAINT AND CEMENT. This composition has been upwards of, three years extensively used in New Brunswick, Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island, and in Canada and Nova Scotia, principally for covering shingled roofs, as you will perceive by the accompanying circulars of certificates. It has been severely tested, and proved most successfully its fire proof qualities under most extraordinary circumstances; so much so, that I am of opinion that Fire Insurance Companies should encourage its general application to all kinds of buildings. Should the dark color would be no objection to its being used, such as the back walls of dwellings in the city, out houses, ware-houses, &c., and for roofs by lowering the premium of insurance on such buildings as are covered.

Astonishing efficacy of the Oxygenated Bitters,

IN A CASE OF EIGHTEEN YEARS' STANDING. From Fitzhenry Homer, Esq., of Boston, Mass.

Boston, September 28, 1848.

DEAR SIR—It is now eighteen years since I was first troubled with the water-brash and derangement of the stomach. I have taken advice of the first Physicians in this city and New York, in London, Paris, Germany, and Italy, followed their prescriptions, and visited the several sulphur and other springs in this country, the watering places of Germany, and elsewhere in Europe, and had found no relief. Since taking the Bitters I have never had a return of the Water-brash, which I formerly had one of late years to a very great degree. My appetite has returned; the extreme flatulence, severe constipation of the bowels, general debility, and sleepless nights and which I suffered, have entirely left me. Having found so great relief from this most discouraging disorder. I have recommended a trial of your medicine to many of my friends, who are now using it to great advantage. And I cannot refrain from writing to you in its favour and praise for the good you have bestowed upon the community; and trust that what little is in my scope to offer in extending the circulation of your "Oxygenated Bitters," will be done with grateful pleasure at all times.

Yours very respectfully,
FITZHENRY HOMER.

5. Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine (Tory).

These Reprints have been in successful operation in this country for twenty years, and their circulation is constantly on the increase, notwithstanding the competition they encounter from American periodicals of a similar class, and from the numerous Eclectics and Magazines made up of selections from foreign periodicals. This fact shows clearly the high estimation in which they are held by the intelligent reading public, and affords a guarantee that they are established on a firm basis, and will be continued without interruption.

Although these works are distinguished by the political shades above indicated, yet but a small portion of their contents are devoted to political subjects. It is their literary character which gives them their chief value, and in that they stand confessedly far above all other journals of their class. Blackwood, still under the masterly guidance of Christopher North, maintains its ancient celebrity, and is, at this time, unusually attractive, from the serial works of Bulwer and other literary notabilities which it has originated, and first appearing in its columns, both in Great Britain and in the United States. Such works as "The Caxtons" and "My Novel," by Bulwer), "My Poet," "The Seminole Medal," "The Green Hand," and other serials, of which numerous rival editions are issued by the leading publishers in this country, have to be reprinted in those publishers from the pages of Blackwood, after it has been issued by Messrs. Scott and Co., so that Subscribers to the Reprint of that Magazine may always rely on having the earliest reading of these fascinating tales.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF LOSS OF HEALTH, DISORDERED STOMACH, INDIGESTION AND DETERMINATION OF BLOOD TO THE HEAD.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. John Lloyd, of Erw wen, near Harlech, Merionethshire.

To Professor HOLLOWAY.

SIR,—I avail myself of the first opportunity of informing you, that, for a very long period, I was afflicted with a dangerous illness, my principal symptoms swimmings in the head, attended by loss of appetite, disordered stomach, and generally impaired health. Every means had failed to give me any permanent relief, and at length I became so alarming, that I was really afraid of going about without an attendant. In this melancholy condition, I waited personally upon Mr. Hughes, Chemist, Harlech, for the purpose of consulting him as to what I had better do; he kindly recommended your Pills, I tried them without delay, and after taking them for a short time I am happy to bear testimony to their wonderful efficacy. I am now restored to perfect health, and enabled to resume my usual duties. You are at liberty to publish this letter in any way you may think proper.

I am, Sir, your obedient Servant'

MIRACULOUS CURE OF DROPSY.

Extract of a Letter from Edward Rowley, Esq., Proctor of India Walk, Tobago, dated April 8th, 1852.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

DEAR SIR,—I deem it a duty I owe to you and the public at large to inform you of a most miraculous recovery from that dreadful disease, DROPSY, and which, under God, I have effected by the use of Ingalsable Pills. I was tapped five times within eight months, and skilfully treated by two medical practicuers; but could not get quite well. I then had recourse to your remedy, and notwithstanding all I had undergone, this miraculous medicine cured me in the course of six weeks. (Signed) EDWARD ROWLEY.

A DANGEROUS LIVER COMPLAINT AND SPASM IN THE STOMACH EFFECTUALLY CURED.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Bostock, Druggist, of Milton under Wychwood, dated July 21, 1852.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

DEAR SIR,—I have much pleasure in handing to you a testimonial of the wonderful efficacy of your Medicines. A person in this neighbourhood, with whom I am well acquainted, was affected for a long time with violent spasmodic pains in the stomach and liver, arising from flatulency and indigestion. He suffered the effects of a stooping position, which he was obliged to assume in his business. The spasms were of an alarming character, and frequently left him in a very weak and debilitated condition. At length he heard of the salutary effects of your invaluable Pills, and was induced to give them a trial. The first dose gave him considerable relief, and by following them up in accordance with your directions, they have acted so wonderfully in cleansing the liver and stomach, and strengthening the digestive organs, that he has been restored to the enjoyment of good health.

I remain, dear Sir, yours faithfully,
(Signed) WILLIAM BOSTOCK.

Further she desires me to say, that she has witnessed their extraordinary virtues in those complaints incidental to children, particularly in cases of measles and Scarlatina, having effected positive cures of these diseases with no other remedy.
