This property is level with a natural slope to the center where a never failing stream of water exists. This property is provided with electricity and water works. Some years ago this property was the winner of the John Richards award. Anyone wishing to purchase a farm for raising dairy or beef cattle would be well advised to consider buying this property.

"THE MATING SEASON" IS RIOTOUS FILM STORY OF WILD MARITAL TANGLE

A devastatingly funny explanation of what happens when an ambassador's daughter promises to love, honor and obey a short order cook's son will take over the screen of the Prince Edward Theatre on Monday with the opening of Paramount's "The Mating Season." Tagged by laughed-out pre-viewers as the happiest and brightest bit of many seasons, the film reportedly blends an original story with howling situations and some of the raciest dialogue that ever crackled from a sound track.

An unusually competent cast headed by sleek, exquisite Gene Tierney and handsome John Lund reportedly gives pace and sparkle to a merry marital mix-up that has been described as a treasury of screen laughs. One of the chief cashiers paying out the howls is fabulous Thelma Ritter, who set off a chain reaction of national acclaim with her riotous performance in "All About Eve" and "A Letter To Three Wives."

Now, in "The Mating Season," Thelma gets the big chance that fans have been clamoring for, and judging from advance reviews she turns it into a comedy field day. Miriam Hopkins, who returns to the screen after an absence of several years, also has an important featured role, and talented Jan Sterling lends shapely assistance as a blonde schemer.

The amazing social consequences that follow the marriage of a minor factory employee to a society beauty are further enlivened when assorted relatives storm the love nest and set up house with the bride and groom. A love rival, a rickety bank account, a hilarious misunderstanding about the identity of the groom's mother and a host of plot surprises keep the story bubbling right up to the side-splitting climax.
