A CARD TO THE PUBLIC

WHILE taking this opportunity of thanking our numerous customers for the liberal manner in which they have patronized

OUR NEW STUDIO,

we would inform them that we have now increased facilities for the production of first-class work, and are prepared to make PHOTOGRAPHS of a Style and Quality that has never been before attempted in this City.

We have on exhibition, at our Rooms, a large number of Photographs of every variety, including the

he most beautiful style of Photograph known, possessing a softness and delicacy of coloring that has never been equaled. This elegant picture has become deservedly popular elsewhere, and cannot fail to become so here.

Though the finish of our Photographs cannot be excelled, we would direct attention to the beautiful which we make. They possess a highly enamelled surface, and are practically indestructible, and will retain their freshness and beauty for any length of time. If they become soiled they can easily be cleaned, as they will not lose any of their beauty by being wet. This valuable quality, combined with their remarkable elegance, make them very suitable for presents; while the difficulty of their production will prevent them ever becoming so common as to lessen their value. Our patrons can have one or all of their Photos finished in this style—an advantage which cannot be obtained elsewhere.

We give special attention to making Groups of Families, Societies, Schools, &c. Our pictures of children are sufficient evidence of our success in this difficult branch of our art.

Our ENLARGEMENTS, finished in India Ink, Pastel, Crayon, Oil and Water Colors, have made a favorable reputation for them selves throughout the Lower Provinces.

Parties intending to have Photographs made will find it to their advantage to sit early, as the number of our customers makes some delay in the delivery of the Photos unavoidable. We prefer to have our sitters come by appointment.

Photographs can be obtained for less money elsewhere; but in this case we ask that quality be given the preference; assuring the public that they will find our charges very moderate.

Meeting of Presbytery.

The Presbytery of P. E. Island met in St. David's Church, yesterday, at 11 o'clock. The Rev. James Allan presided as Moderator. There was a large attendance of members, viz., 18 ministers and ten elders. A large amount of ecclesiastical business transacted. The Stewart-Lawson case was satisfactorily terminated. The Presbytery declared that, in reference to the Press generally, the only organ it recognizes is the Presbyterian Record, published in Montreal. A hearty and unanimous call from the congregation of Cavendish and New Glasgow to the Rev. W. P. Archibald was laid on the table and unanimously sustained, and the Clerk instructed to send it to Mr. Archibald as soon as possible, with the hope that he may accept. Reports were received from the congregation of Dundas in reference to financial matters: that these were assuming a satisfactory aspect and that arrangements had been made for a supply of preaching until next meeting of Presbytery. Supply of preaching was arranged for Belfast, Tryon and Bonshaw, Cavendish and New Glasgow and Dundas until the end of April. The Rev. Samuel Gunn reported that his congregation had, during the last year, built him a commodious and comfortable Manse, in which he has now been living for the last three months, and that the whole cost of it was nearly all paid, and that in addition the congregation had contributed liberally to the schemes of the Church. It was reported from the congregation of West Cape and Campbellton that it is diligently engaged in Church building, and adopting satisfactory ways and means to pay off the Church debt. The praiseworthy efforts of the congregation were highly commended. Other matters of detail and minor importance were transacted. The Presbytery accorded a cordial vote of thanks to the pastor and members of St. David's Church for the handsome manner in which all its members were entertained while here. The Presbytery then adjourned, to meet in Charlottetown on the first Wednesday of May 11 a. m. Concluded with the Benediction.—Advertiser.

BEN BUTLER AND THE FISHERY AWARD.

—The New York Sun says: "Ben Butler's speech in Massachusetts last summer, advocating the seizure of the fishery grounds, and indirectly advocating the repudiation of the fishery award, has caused an uneasy feeling among Canadians. The British Legation having been advised that Butler contemplated introducing a resolution in the House repudiating the award, Lord Dufferin came on to Washington, and on Friday, together with Sir Edward Thornton, had an interview with the President and Mr. Everts. Lord Dufferin represented that England, being loaded down with the Eastern troubles, was especially anxious to secure friendly assurances from this country of raising no question over reciprocity matters. President Hayes and Mr. Everts assured Lord Dufferin they would do all in their power to maintain cordial relations."

THERE can be no doubt that Mr. Mackenzie is terribly anxious over his fate in the House of Commons. This is seen in the fact that he has addressed a circular letter to his supporters requesting them to be on hand on the opening day of the session. This is never done in England unless there is "urgent business." Some person think that the reason why Mr. Mackenzie has called together his supporters is to decide about the Speakership. But the most generally received idea is that he has called them together to consult over the dissolution. The governing party hope to pull through the session and then go to the country, springing the election upon us again just as they did Mr. Vail's and Mr. Jones's elections. We advise the Opposition to be "ready, aye ready."—Hc. Reporter.

A VERY SAD CASE.—To-day the Secretary of the S. P. C. A. was called upon to visit a stable owned by one of the truckmen of Halifax, where he found a horse in a starving condition, and discovered that just previous to his visit the carcass of a horse that died on Wednesday last from starvation had been removed. The starving horse was taken to another stable, and its owner brought before the Stipendiary Magistrate, who remanded the case till Friday; meanwhile the truckman will remain gaol. It appears that the man whose animal thus suffered from his neglect, is one of the best truckmen in Halifax, and always in request when free from the influence of liquor; but ever since election day he has been drinking, to the neglect of his horse and the deep sorrow of his interesting family—a wife and five or six little ones.—Hc. Reporter.

A DYING WIFE'S ADVICE.—A Philadelphia clergyman mourns the loss of a wife among a thousand for common sense. On her death bed she said to him: "Don't grow morbid when I am gone. Go into Society, be cheerful and let no regard for my memory check you when you see fit to marry again. It is my wish: the children must be cared for; you will need a helper in your work. You cannot live alone, your temperment is all against it; only choose a cheerful woman, and teach her to love our children. Don't answer me, and don't be governed by what the world says or thinks."

Brigham Young's twenty-five widows and forty-five children are dissatisfied with the distribution of the Prophet's property and threaten to bring a lawsuit that will throw the discussion on hell into the shade.

Forging a Marriage License.

A TRICK UPON A FATHER-IN-LAW.

NAPANEE, Feb. 2.—In the early part of last year, J. E. Knight, aged about twenty years, son of Dr. Knight, of Tamworth, and in the employ of Mr. James Aylsworth, wood and won the affections of Miss Ida Lamphier, formerly a resident of Napanee. The objection of the connections of the young lady to the relations of the parties was the rock that obstructed the smooth flow of the current of love; but Mr. Knight bode his time and proved himself equal to the occasion. Mr. Aylsworth is an issuer of marriage licences, and Mr. Knight took the liberty, on the 24th July last, of opening a drawer in which the blank forms were kept, took out a blank and filled it out in due form, inserting his own name and that of Miss Lamphier, and signing Mr. Aylsworth's name to it. Two days after the pair proceeded to the residence of Rev. D. F. Bogert, near Selby, when the forged licence was produced, and appeared regular, the reverend gentleman had no hesitation in making the pair one. They were married in the presence of Mrs. Bogert, and Wm McCollum, a carpenter of Napanee, as witnesses. The wedding was kept a secret for obvious reasons, till a few days ago, when Mr. Aylsworth having got a hint of the marriage, and having his suspicions aroused, made an investigation. On searching the drawer referred to, he found that one of the blanks was missing. Last Sunday, Knight upon being pressed for an explanation, confessed that he had abstracted the blank and forged it as detailed above, and that he had put two dollars, the usual fee, in the till of the shop. Mr. Aylsworth came to Napanee and laid information before Chas. James against the unfortunate young man for having feloniously forged a marriage licence. Young Knight had a hearing before Messrs. Charles James and W. Caton and was committed for trial. Bail was accepted, himself in $1,000 and two sureties of $500 each. Young Knight has been in the employ of Mr. Aylsworth for five years and was of unblemished character and had the full confidence of his employer. A deed like this is unique in the annals of crime, and the penalty is very heavy, being imprisonment in the penitentiary for a period of from two to seven years.

A Courageous Lad.

That was a brave lad who found himself suddenly adrift in a dilapidated schooner off Atlantic City, Penn., the other day. He was a little fellow, but when he saw the surf boat which had put out to his assistance turn back to shore, the cruel crew probably concluding that it wasn't worth while to make much of an effort for only a boy, and when he fully realized the peril of his position, he didn't drop down an sob, he didn't despair, nor did he lose his head. But he set resolutely to work and prepared his crazy craft as best he could for the struggle with the waves. "The first night out," he says in his homely narrative, "a heavy sea broke over the vessel and rolled me over the wheel. The rigging and deck were covered with ice, and it was with difficulty I kept myself from freezing." The next day he thought he was near the Gulf Stream. "There was a foot and a half of water in the hold and a heavy sea rolling. The pumps gave out, and I was forced to bale her out with a bucket." At about 10 o'clock the next night he was hailed by a barque, which cleared the schooner or by about ten feet. But the barque sailed away, though the little fellow promptly hung out a signal light; and his struggle continued. The next morning the plucky lad sighted land near Beach Haven. "After beating about all day," he says, "I headed up abreast Absecon light. The sea was very rough, and, failing to bring the vessel into the inlet, and as the water was up to the cabin floor, I beached her on Little Brigantine Shoals, where I was taken off, after having been without sleep for four days and three nights." That lad has the stuff in him out of which successful men are made, and we comment his story to grown as well as young folks, and particularly to those who in time of peril cast themselves down, moan and pray for help, while they do nothing themselves, and quickly despair.

A curious experiment has been tried with buttermilk by testing it against claret. One who is in the secret will assert that one who is not, if blindfolded, cannot distinguish claret from buttermilk by the taste. Several glasses are filled with claret and an equal number with buttermilk, and they are handed alternately to the blindfolded persons, who taste them. For a time he will name the fluids correctly, but after a time his sense of taste becomes blunted, and he will insist that buttermilk is claret and vice versa.

About two weeks ago Mrs. Wm. Stroud, 7th concession of Deerham, vomited a live fish over two and one-half inches long. Last August, after taking a drink of water, Mrs. Stroud told her husband that she thought she had swallowed something in the water. Since that time she had been constantly ailing, and her illness terminated in the strange way above described. The fish lived for twenty-four hours in the water, and then Mr. Stroud killed it.

The Clipper almanac says that Mr. P. Duffy's running long jump at Montreal last summer—twenty feet six inches—is the best American jump of the season. Duffy also ties Malone, the champion, in his hop, step and jump of forty-five feet.

There are 61 lodges with a membership of $658 and 25 encampments of Odd Fellows with a membership of 2500 in Maine. The total amount paid in the city of Portland for relief by the Society in 1877 was $15,874.

Cigarette smoking is indulged in by many young women and school-girls in New York. The thumbs and forefingers of a class in a young ladies' school were examined the other day, and only two were found to be without tobacco stains.

A boy has been brought from Demara to New York under the supposition that he is Charley Rosa.

Boston had in January 1,225 cases of scarlet fever and over one hundred and fifty cases of diphtheria.
