

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

NOVEMBER 23, 1892.

Roman Catholics and the Public Schools.

The attitude of the Roman Catholic prelates of the United States in respect to public schools is considered by no means unkind than it has been.

First—Resolved, To promote the erection of Catholic schools, so that there may be accommodation in them, if possible, for all our Catholic children, according to the decrees of the third plenary council of Baltimore and the decision of the Holy See.

Second—Resolved, That as to children who at present do not attend the Catholic schools, we direct, in addition, that provision be made for Sunday schools, and, also, by instruction, on some other day or days of the week, and by urging parents to teach their children the Christian doctrine at their homes.

Sunday and week-day schools should be under the direct supervision of the clergy, aided by the intelligent lay teachers, and, when possible, by the members of religious teaching orders.

The second of those resolutions is in accord with the opinion of Archbishop Ireland. Practically it admits of a compromise enabling Roman Catholic taxpayers to take advantage of the public schools in the education of their children on condition that their children receive religious instruction at Sunday Schools and other religious schools, and at home.

It is expected that every prelate will try in his diocese to improve the condition of his parochial schools. But, as the New York Times remarks, "the public schools have had a long start ahead, and it will be some time before those of the Catholics will be able to compete with them."

Consequently, Catholic children throughout the union, generally, will in future attend the public schools. The result of the experiment in the case of the town of Fairbault, Minnesota, was, without doubt, a factor contributing towards the change of the opinion of the hierarchy. In Fairbault, we are told, "the public schools had money, but no teachers; the parochial schools had experienced and well-trained teachers, but no money. By combination the money of the one was set against the experience of the other. The religious teachers consented to remove all emblems of their faith from the school house, and not to refer to religious matters during school hours. The State provided the buildings, and the children of Fairbault obtained the advantages of experienced teachers and cultured instructors."

The Homestead Strike

Men who go on strike must have a very real grievance before they can hope to be successful. It has not appeared that the Homestead men were badly off in respect to wages—in fact they were well paid. But they were under the influence of leaders who imagined that something more might be wrung from the Carnegie firm; and, being well organized, they struck. They wish now that they hadn't. Besides the loss of human life resulting from the unhappy encounter with the Pinkertons, they have lost wages to the amount of $2,000,000. There is not much consolation in the fact that the firm, too, has lost heavily, and that the State has had to pay nearly half a million in the restoration of order, and that Mr. Frick, the manager of the works was almost murdered. As soon as the strike was "off" they made a rush to obtain re-employment. Many of them were unsuccessful in this effort and are now "hard up"—with the winter before them, while some of their leaders are awaiting trial on criminal charges. Taken for all in all, the strike was a great wrong and a great blunder. The result is an object lesson to men all over the country, though whether they will profit by it is doubtful.

Eldon Cheese Factory.

The farmers of Eldon and adjacent settlements being desirous of establishing a Cheese Factory amongst them, and wishing first to obtain some more information than they already possessed regarding the operation of the same, called a public meeting at Eldon on the 11th of October, and invited Mr. Dillon, manager of the New Perth Cheese Factory, and Cyrus Shaw, M. P., its President, to give them the benefit of their knowledge and experience in the art of cheese making. Both those gentlemen very kindly attended, and after addressing the meeting in terms similar to the reports we have already read at different times from the public press from various parts of the Island, it was unanimously agreed to establish a Cheese Factory at Eldon, provided a sufficient number of cows could be obtained and the requisite amount of stock subscribed. For the purpose, five persons were appointed to canvass some of the surrounding settlements. In two weeks' time those parties reported having received over 300 cows and the necessary stock subscribed. It was then agreed to call another general meeting on the 16th inst., which meeting was held, and after unanimously agreeing to establish a Cheese Factory at or near Eldon during the coming season, the following provincial directors were appointed to procure a site and erect the building, etc.:—Wellington Mutch, Eldon, President; James Nicholson, M. L. C., Eldon; Finlay McLeod, Flat River; John Campbell, Point Prim; William Smith, Newtown; Angus McLeod, Glasgow; John Burns, Montague West; A. G. Smith, Secretary.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO THE EXAMINER.

New Brunswick Bye Elections.

ST. JOHN, Nov. 23. J. A. Chealey was elected M. P. for St. John County for the House of Commons yesterday by 200 majority over Robertson. Both are Conservatives. Hon. Mr. Blair was elected in Queen's yesterday—probably by 600 majority.

Ministerial Movements.

LONDON, Nov. 23. Sir John Abbott does not intend to return to Canada just yet. Sir John has left Paris on a tour south, and will stay in Livorno for some time to enjoy complete rest. Hon. Mr. Foster sails for Canada on Thursday next, and Hon. C. H. Tupper on December 3rd.

Cape Breton Shipments to Montreal.

QUEBEC, Nov. 23. Full returns of the St. Lawrence receipts are now in, and show that 572,000 tons have been received from the Cape Breton mines, against 563,000 last year.

General Telegraphic News.

MONTREAL, Nov. 21.—Some 5,000 persons, three-fourths being English-speaking, have settled in the province of Quebec this year.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Sir John Abbott and Hon. George Foster have been for several days in Paris, to assist in the trade negotiations upon which Sir Charles Tupper, high commissioner for Canada at London, is still engaged. Mr. Foster returns to London to-night.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 21.—Calculations made at Dudley observing some of the animals are not identical with the comet of Biela, and that it will near the earth. Prof. Bes has computed the distance of the comet from the earth at two hundred millions of miles.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—The pleuro pneumonia scare is still kept up here by the authorities of the board of agriculture. A cargo of Canadian cattle on the Beaver line steamer Lake Winnipeg, which arrived at Liverpool on Thursday, was detained, the inspectors suspecting some of the animals to be affected with pleuro. Two were killed and their lungs sent to the veterinarians of the board of agriculture in London. After careful microscopic examination, the scientists declared that the animals slaughtered had been perfectly free from pleuro-pneumonia. The cargo was consequently released, and the cattle sold on to day's markets.

Masonic Lawsuit.

GROWING OUT OF THE CARE OF A SICK BROTHER.

Members of the Masonic Order all over Connecticut are greatly interested in the case on trial at Bridgeport, in the court of Common Pleas. It is the case of Grand Master Hugh Sterling, of Bridgeport, against Frederick Mead, Master of St. John's Lodge, Norwalk. About two years ago a member of St. John's Lodge was taken sick. Old Well Lodge of South Norwalk took care of him for over a year, and finally placed him in a hospital, where he died. Old Well Lodge asked St. John's to pay the expenses incurred in taking care of their sick member. St. John's Lodge refused to pay the bill, and Old Well Lodge appealed to the Grand Lodge. Grand Master Hugh Sterling appointed a committee to enquire into the case, and that committee reported against St. John's Lodge. The Grand Master then ordered St. John's Lodge to pay the bill. The Master of St. John's asked for another hearing, but his request was denied. He then reported to the Lodge, and at a subsequent meeting resolutions were offered denouncing the stand taken by Grand Master Sterling. At this juncture the Grand Master summoned Mr. Mead to appear before the Grand Lodge and show cause why he should not be deposed from his office. An injunction was secured, and that is how the matter got into the courts. The claim of Grand Master Sterling is that the courts have no jurisdiction in the matter, as no property rights are involved.

Personal.

Mrs. R. Clarke Davis, of Liverpool, G. B., is a guest at Government House.

Mr. W. E. Sutherland, of the surveying steamer Galsbre, has passed a very creditable examination as second-class engineer at Quebec.

Mr. McDonald, the Conservative candidate to replace Hon. E. Dewdney, was on Monday elected by acclamation in East Assiniboia, the Liberals having at the last decided to keep their powder dry until the general election.

Major General Herbert and Captain Street, who returned from Halifax on Tuesday night and an amusing incident occurred on the train shortly after leaving Buckingham. At that station a number of lively phoephate men got on board and one was reading a Montreal paper when a friend asked for the loan of it. "There is the newspaper agent," was the reply, and the speaker pointed to the General who was curled up on a seat with his travelling cap pulled over his eye. "Why don't you get a paper for yourself?" The second party went forward, tapped the General on the shoulder, and asked curtly for a paper, at the same time tendering a small coin in payment. The explanation between the indignant General and the puzzled phosphate man was extremely ludicrous, and was listened to with intense delight by the jokers and his friends.—Ottawa Free Press.

The London Times, commenting on the speeches of Messrs. Dewey and Reid at the New York Chamber of Commerce banquet on Tuesday night, says: "The eagerness of the defeated party to abrogate the McKinley law is in itself sufficient to inspire the victors with caution. Mr. Cleveland has other and better reasons for delay. The McKinley tariff enlisted the support of a powerful body of capitalists and numbers of workmen, and although their forces were vanquished by the overpowering movement of public opinion, it is not desirable to make their defeat so painful and ruinous. A change from the most monstrous absurdities of McKinleyism to something like an endurable tariff will probably be slow and tentative, but it cannot be long postponed, nor can it be restricted within narrow bounds."

Boston Markets.

Boston, Nov. 19.

FISH.—Trade is still generally quiet. Godfish have only a moderate sale with prices a shade easier. Box herring quiet. Blk. herring about as last quoted. Receipts of mackerel are light and the market is firm with a steady demand at quotations.

POTATOES.—Receipts have fallen off considerably this week and at the close the market is firm for Houlton and Aroostook county tubers at $3 to $3 50. Other kinds of domestic stock have a moderate sale at quotations. P. E. I. Changeovers in heavy supply and dull at 55 to 60c as to quality and condition. Scotch Magnums selling slowly at $1 90 to $2 15 to sack.

PORK.—North of Boston advanced clear mess pork yesterday $1 per bbl. It now costs $20 per bbl, duty paid, landed here. Armour's mess has also gone up 75c per bbl recently. It now costs $17 25 per bbl, duty paid, landed here. Many of our lumbermen demand the American article. A wholesale firm offered a man 10 bbls of P. E. Island mess yesterday, $3 50 per bbl cheaper than American, but he said he must have the latter. However, the use of the provincial product is increasing by degrees. We get no upper province pork here, that market having also to import.

Eggs.—Really choice fresh laid are still in limited supply and bringing full prices. Some fancy eastern excoed quotations. Best Michigan are bringing 28c and extra marks of western range up to 27c. Held stock is in good supply and selling very well at previous prices. Choicé limed in steady demand at 20c.

Kansas and Prohibition.

REGULARLY LICENSED SALOONS ARE ALREADY REPLACING SECRET DIVES.

A recent despatch from Horton, Kansas, says: "The success of the democratic and people's party fusion ticket in Kansas and the driving from power of the republican ringsters has already been the means of giving a new impetus to business throughout the state. Governor-elect Lowellling has stated that it will be his duty to enforce all laws, but that if Atchison, Horton, Leavenworth and Wichita are to have open saloons and the benefits of license accruing therefrom, then all other towns in the state shall have the same privileges and benefits. This fearless, manly stand on the part of Mr. Lowellling has met with universal approval in all the towns and cities throughout the state, and it now appears that after Jan. 8 the secret dives and the joint industry will give way to the regularly licensed saloon. In Fort Scott many new saloons are being opened, and in this place there are eighteen wide-open saloons which pay to the city $53 per month on each license. The citizens generally agree that it is the best solution of the vexatious problem, and the places will be permitted to run under the protection of the law as long as the license is paid. Prohibition will never get another foothold in Kansas."

News Notes.

At St. Petersburg, Sunday, eleven new cases of cholera and three deaths were reported.

The authorities at Rome deny that any attempt is to be made to open negotiations for the establishment of a papal legation at Washington.

Mississippi and Louisiana are the only states in the Union in which the colored inhabitants outnumber the whites. In Louisiana the two races are nearly equal in numbers, and in Mississippi there are 200,000 more blacks than white people.

The latest calculation is that, with the Vice-President in the chair, the Democrats will carry the United States in the Senate and that in the House of Representatives they will have a majority of ninety over Republicans and Populists combined.

Some time ago an English syndicate paid a million dollars for an Idaho mine, which experts now pronounce a valueless hole in the ground. Some of the greatest fortunes in mining are made when a scientific promoter strikes a good vein of greenhorn.

M. Flammarion, the distinguished French astronomer, believes that great climate changes are going on in Europe, and that France, the United Kingdom, Spain, Belgium, Italy, Austria and Germany have temporarily, at least, lost several degrees of temperature.

During the month of October the output of the steamships of the Cline was 12 steamers, aggregating 12,894 tons, and two sailing vessels, 2,339 tons. The total tonnage of the vessels launched during the ten months of the present year ended October 31, was 290,99 tons.

A brave woman is Mrs. Mary C. of Chicago, who recently looked under her bed, and seeing a man did not scream or make any outcry whatever, but walked four blocks to a drug store, rang for a patrol wagon and guided the constabulary to where the man had considerably waited for them.

The grand jury at Taunton, Mass., which has been disbanded until Thursday, December 1. This action is a surprise to the public. The assumed solution is that the officers have struck a new lead and that this brief adjournment is to permit them to gather evidence which will result in more than one indictment.

Three of the feasts of obligation on Roman Catholicism of the province of Quebec, namely, Corpus Christi, St. Peter's and St. Paul's and the Annunciation have now been dispensed with. The announcement was made in the parish churches on Sunday, a circular letter from Archbishop Fabre being read announcing the fact. Roman Catholics will still attend mass on these occasions unless where a special dispensation has been given.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

An Explanation Wanted.

SIR,—Will the Professor of English Composition fame analyze, through your valuable paper, the following paragraphs, which the reader claims he is the author of, before he again attempts to give us such a dose of Webster. To me it is too "superfluous." Such words as "equipoise," "somnolence," etc., are altogether too deep for general readers. They do not want jaw-breakers, nor brain-rackers, nor crack-brains to disturb them from their wonted somnolence. The following is what I want him to explain, correct or even finish: "As we have not as yet resolved ourselves into an advertising bureau for gratuitously advertising our competitors, and further we do not wish to confer any undue publicity on the firm in question by naming them."

"We may say that we did not deem it degrading on us to exculpate them from a charge which they alone, out of their abundant conceit, thought themselves smart enough to perform. For dishonorable as the trick was, it presupposed a smartness on the part of the doer which it is impossible to attribute to them."

When the above is explained, satisfactorily, I will give him the rest.
