The Way to Spoil Girls.

If any parent wishes a receipt how to spoil a daughter, it can be easily and readily given, and can be proved by the experience of hundreds to be certain and efficacious.

1. Be always telling her, from earliest childhood, what a beautiful creature she is. It is a capital way of inflating the vanity of a little girl to be constantly exclaiming "How pretty!" Children understand such flattery even when in nurse's arms, and evil is done to the character in its earliest formation.

2. Begin as soon as she can toddle, to dress her out in fashionable clothes and rich dresses. Put a hoop upon her at once with all the artificial adornments of flounces, feathers, flowers and curls. Fondness for dress will thus become a prominent characteristic, and will usurp the whole attention of the young mortal and be a long step towards spoiling her.

3. Let her visit so much that she finds no happiness at home, and therefore will not be apt to stay there, and learn home duties. It is a capital thing for a spoiled daughter to seek all her happiness in visiting and changing of places and associates. She will thus grow as useless as modern fashionable parents delight that their daughters should be.

4. Be careful that her education gives her a smattering of all the accomplishments, without the slightest knowledge of things really useful in life. If her mind and time are occupied in modern accomplishments, there will be no thought of the necessity and virtue of being of some real use to somebody providing her heart, and she will soon be ready as a spoiled daughter.

5. As a consequence, keep her in perfect ignorance of all the useful arts of housekeeping, impressing upon her mind that it is vulgar to do anything for yourself or to learn how anything is done in the house. A spoiled daughter should never be taught the mysteries of the kitchen; such things a lady leaves to the servants. It would be vulgar for her to know how to dress salad, or make a pudding. As a mistress of a house, it is her duty to sit on a sofa all day in the midst of a pyramid of silks and flounces, reading the last new novel, while her domestics are performing the labor of the house.

6. To complete the happiness of your spoiled daughter, marry her to a bearded youth with soft hands, who knows as little how to earn money as she does to save it. Her happiness will then be finished for lifetime.

A CHILD'S LAUGHTER.—Is there anything like the ringing laugh of an innocent happy child? Can any other music so echo in the heart's inner chambers? It is sympathetic, too, beyond all other melodies. When the father sits absorbed over his book, which seems to concentrate every faculty, he hears his little boy laughing in his sport, and laughs also, he knows not wherefore. The bright being, constantly gathering intelligence, casts around us gems of thought and pearls of affection, till our paths seem paved with precious stones from heaven's treasury. No day of storm is dark where he is—no wintry evening long. A young child is a full fountain of delight to the house and heart.

Time is the only gift in which God has stinted us; for He never intrusts us with a second moment till he has taken away the first, and never leaves us certain of a third.

Censure is the most effectual when mixed with praise. So, when a fault is discovered, it is well to look up a virtue to bear it company.

Keep doing, always doing. Wishing, dreaming, intending, murmuring, talking, sighing, and repining, are profitless employments.

A Pioneer recommends glue for cuts. If a surgeon isn't handy, call in a joiner.

Why are hot buckwheat cakes like a cattorpillar? Because they are the grub that makes the butterfly.

Agricultural.

MANURE.

The value of the manure of animals stands in direct relationship to the value of the food they eat. Poultry have the richest food, man next, hogs next, fattening cattle, horses, sheep, cows and growing stock, follow in about this order. The feed of well-fed beaves is usually richer than that of horses, and so is that of fattening sheep sometimes, but this varies. Here, however, is a true measure of the value of the droppings, and of the care that should be taken of each kind. The farmer's business is to make manure just as much as it is to make money, and he should do it first by saving. Hen-hung is easily saved by making the birds roost over a floor sprinkled with earth, which is swept up and freshly earthed every week. Calculate to have 1-3 manure, and 2-3 earth. Save the next on the list in precisely the same principle—that is, mingling it with 2-3 its bulk of fine dry soil, but do it every day or two. Hog manure is saved by mixing it with earthy or vegetable matters, anything that will decay, but especially articles soft, porous and bulky, as weeds, sods, bog peat, etc. The droppings of horses are very profitably added either to that of neat stock, especially to that of cattle and cows, which is thus brought up to a higher standard. Manure of all other kinds is kept and improved by admixture of straw, leaves, etc., and especially by being laid up in heaps over beds of rail, so that the liquor which leaches from it naturally, or after being pumped on, may be returned and pumped over it again. Where this cannot be mixed with sods, dry peat or muck, or even simple soil, and laid in a compost heap as fast as it accumulates.

CHILDREN'S TEETHING

MRS. WINSLOW,

An experienced Nurse and Female Physician presents to the attention of mothers, her

SOOTHING SYRUP,

FOR CHILDREN TEETHING.

which greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay all pain and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and Relief and Health to your Infants.

We have put up and sold this article for over thirty years, and can say, in confidence and truth of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—never has it failed in a single instance to effect a cure, when timely used. Nor do we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this manner "what we do know," after thirty years' experience, and pledge our reputation for the fulfillment of what we here declare. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most experienced and skillful nurses in New England, and has been used with never failing success in thousands of cases. It not only relieves the child from pain but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve GRIPPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC, and overcome convulsions, which if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the best and sweetest remedy in the world, in all cases of Dysentery and Diarrhea in Children, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—do not let your prejudices, nor the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be sure—yes, absolutely sure—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None Genuine unless the face-smile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper.

Sold by Druggists throughout the world. Principal office, No. 48 Day Street, N. Y. Price, only 25 Cents per Bottle.

New Triumphs of Rogers' Medicines.

AMHERST, N.S., August 7th, 1866.

Messrs. ROGERS & CO.

Gentlemen—Permit me to add my testimony to the great value of your preparation; and any person reading the following account of a cure effected by it upon my son, will not dispute my right to do so.

He first fell upon a fork handle in the barn, and hurt his leg a little below the knee; he subsequently took cold, when it began to swell and pain him very much. It soon ulcerated near where it was hurt, and continued to discharge freely, until the calf of the leg seemed to be one mass of corruption. His foot and knee swelled very much, and when we commenced with your medicine, was very much inflamed, and was evidently on the eve of mortification. The pain and suffering he endured no man can describe. He grew weaker daily. Nothing that medical skill and faithful attendance could accomplish, was omitted; still he gradually sunk, until there seemed but little hope of saving either his life or limb. As a last effort, the doctors decided to amputate the leg. This was to have been done the next day, but just at this critical point, a kind friend advised me to try your medicine. I concluded to do so; and the leg at once began to improve, and is now well. He goes to school daily.

This is, certainly, the most extraordinary cure ever made by any medicine. No person could duly appreciate the value and saving condition of your medicine, until he could not have lived without it. It is a medicine that has saved many lives, and is a blessing to the world. I am, Gentlemen, yours affectionately,

ALISON COPELAND.

We, the undersigned, inhabitants of Amherst and vicinity—some of us having been eye witnesses to the above distressing case, and all being quite familiar with the facts, from common report to this community—have no hesitation in endorsing the above statements of Mr. Copeland.
