

Russia Makes Bold Moves

LONDON (Reuters) — Russia made two bold political moves Tuesday which are bound to have their impact on top-level talks with Britain which begin this week.

By dissolving the international Communist agency, the Cominform, Russia has faced Prime Minister Anthony Eden with what appears to be a concession to the non-Communist world.

By restating her claim to play a role in maintaining peace in the Middle East, she has struck another blow at the 1950 declaration under which Britain, the United States and France assumed for themselves the right to halt aggression in that area.

form, originally a powerful association of all the European Communist states, was seen here as little more than a gesture.

But the Middle East statement, calling for the maintenance of peace by the United Nations without "outside interference," clearly set the line that they will take in their talks with Eden.

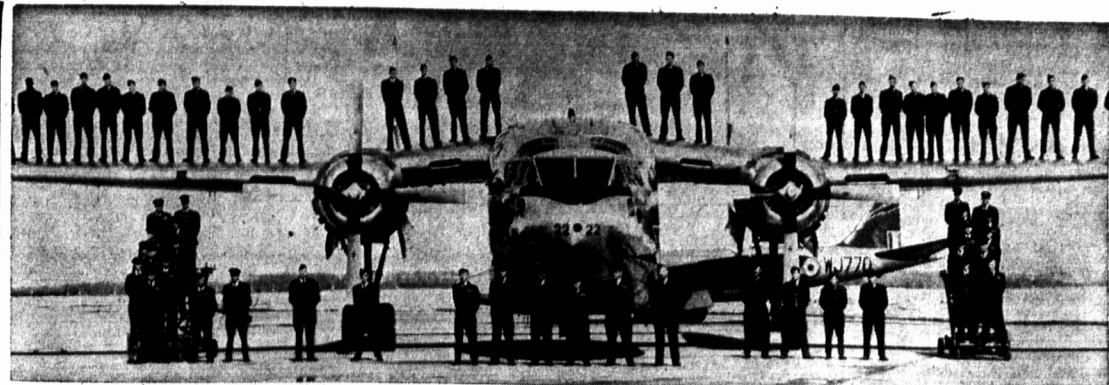

In the Commons Tuesday, the prime minister refused to anticipate the talks or even to say what subjects will be discussed. It is no secret, though, that the Middle East will be the key topic.

Eden has stated publicly that tension between the Arabs and Israel has been heightened by the shipment of Communist arms to Egypt.

less eagerness to talk than the British have. They have even complained that the official program is too official, and prevents their meeting ordinary people.

But they have given clear hints that having agreed to six long periods of talks they will have something to lay on the table. They have emphasized their desire to develop trade and to take up the problem of world disarmament, now virtually bogged down in a United Nations sub-committee.

From the moment they step off the Ordzhonikidze today, the strictest security that anyone can recall in Britain will surround them. Bullet-proof cars will whisk them to and from their engagements. Squads of detectives—and some personal bodyguards from Moscow—will escort them.

SUPPLYING ARCTIC WEATHER STATIONS

R.C.A.F. Station Namao, Lancaster Park, Alta.—Over sixty of the eighty-five personnel of the R.C.A.F.'s 435 Transport Squadron participating in this year's Re-supply of Arctic Weather Stations are shown spread out on one of the C119 "Flying Boxcars" used for the airlift. The men's quarters touch every province and range from St. John, Newfoundland to Victoria, B.C. The airlift of a million and a half pounds of fuel, food and equipment from Resolute Bay on Cornwallis Island commenced in April and will last three to five weeks.

No One Has Final Answer To Civil Defence In A-Bombing

OTTAWA (CP)—No one has the "final answer" about evacuation of civilians or their protection against the effects of thermonuclear bombs or even about the extent of warning Canada will get in the event of war, Health Minister Martin said.

For that reason, he said, "we have been reluctant to take a final position in these matters."

At the moment the policy was to concentrate on evacuation plans and provide information about cheap basement or outside shelters built three feet underground. Such shelters were within the financial means of everyone.

The government had no thought of embarking on a shelter-building program, Mr. Martin, minister responsible for civil defence at the federal level, was testifying before the Commons estimates committee. The committee is studying the 1956-57 budget of $7,000,000 for federal CD outlays.

He said there now is an effective radar warning system. Without minimizing the importance of such a system "all that may have to be reappraised some time in the future when other forms of weapons come into use which would make evacuation impractical."

Canada now was taking the same position as Britain and the United States in emphasizing evacuation. Even Sweden, which had spent huge sums on underground shelters, had decided they would be a dangerous place to be caught by an H-bomb and now was emphasizing evacuation.

ARRIVE TODAY

Both developments came as the Soviet cruiser Ordzhonikidze approached British shores with Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Nikita Khrushchev, the Communist party secretary.

They will disembark at Portsmouth about 11:40 a.m. today (7:40 a.m. AST) and proceed to London, which they will make their base during a 10-day visit.

HAPPY SUNBEAMS MISSION BAND

The Happy Sunbeams Mission Band, Carleton Branch of Cape Traverse United Church, met at the home of Dale and Donna Morrison on Thursday afternoon, Mar. 29th, for their Easter meeting. The president presided and opened the meeting with the singing of the Mission Band Hymn, and the reading of the Members Purpose. Twenty-two members responded to roll call.

The minutes were read and approved. It was decided to invite a play or concert for the Mission Band. Dianne Hill had a birthday since the last meeting and "Happy Birthdays" was sung to her. A vote of thanks to Mrs. Morrison for her kindness in entertaining the Band was moved by Scott Paynter and seconded by Carter Hill.

The story of the first Easter was read by Mrs. Myers, and discussed with the boys and girls. The worship service was led by Russell Howatt. Walk slowly, be silent, was sung as the Call to Worship. Ronnie MacMicken read the scripture. Mrs. MacCaull led in an Easter Meditation. Jeanne Campbell led in prayer. A duet "Daffodil Bright Daffodil" was sung by Pauline MacCallum and Dianne Stordy. The offering was received by Garry Paynter, and amounted to $4.85.

The meeting closed by all joining hands and repeating the Mizpah Benediction. The World Friend was distributed by Brenda Quigley and a treat of candy was passed.

Princeton Road Young Peoples Conduct Service

On Sunday evening April 1st, the Young Peoples Group of Princeton Road United Church conducted a special Easter service with "What does Easter mean to you?" as their theme. The group entered the church singing "Christ the Lord is risen today." The scripture reading from St. John 19:17-24 was read by Everett Johnstone. The following readings were taken by the different members.

"Meditation on the Cross" by Doris Dollar; "Meditation on the Resurrection" by Carol McLaine; "Easter the Festival of Victorious Living" by Ina Peterson; "What does Easter mean to you" by Wayne Proude; "A Lenten Meditation" by Leigh Crabbe; and "Easter" by Everett Johnstone, Clark Johnstone and Ronnie McLaine led in prayers.

Hymns sung were "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name" and "When I survey the Wondrous Cross". The choir sang "I will sing the Wondrous Story". Solos sung were "Jesus Paid It All" by Alice Hill and "The Heart that was broken for me" by Everett Johnstone. Sjanie Boelhouwer sang as a solo in Dutch, "The Church's One Foundation". John Proude and Clifford Sentner sang "Must Jesus Bear the Cross Alone" and Ruth Dollar and Sjanie Boelhouwer sang "Lead me to Calvary". "Low in the Grave He Lay" was sung by Ronnie McLaine, Wayne Proude, Everett and Clark Johnstone and Leigh Crabbe.

The service closed with the hymn "Alas and did my Saviour bleed?" and the benediction. Mrs. Dale Proude was organist and choir director.

Chadwick To Try Ontario Again

TORONTO (CP)—The Globe and Mail said Tuesday marathon swimmer Florence Chadwick of San Diego, Cal., will make another attempt to swim Lake Ontario this summer.

The paper says it learned of the swimmer's plan through a telephone interview from New York with Victory Day. Miss Chadwick's counsellor Day is quoted as saying "swimming Lake Ontario was uppermost in Miss Chadwick's mind."

Florence attempted the 32-mile swim two summers ago but was pulled from the water after completing 17 miles. At that time Marilyn Bell, 17, of Toronto, completed the swim in 20 hours and 55 minutes. She is the only person to swim the lake.

Cardinals Sell Archie Wilson

ST. LOUIS (AP)—St. Louis Cardinals announced Tuesday the sale of outfielder Archie Wilson to Toronto. They got Wilson from that International League club last fall.

Wilson, 32, hit .323 this spring but appears infrequently because of a chipped bone in his left wrist, which was injured in spring training.
