

STUDENTS PRESENT BRIEF TO PREMIER

The National Federation of Canadian University Students yesterday presented to Premier A. W. Matheson a brief outlining their reasons why the various governments of Canada should come to the aid of Canadians seeking higher education. The brief stresses that all Canadians have the right to "equality of opportunity" in regard to education, and that no citizen of this nation should be prevented from seeking to further his education by lack of sufficient finances. To this end the students organization have presented briefs to each of the 11 governing bodies in Canada asking that they devise some acceptable method of providing annually at least 10,000 scholarships valued at $550 each. Members of the delegation waiting on the Premier were left to right: Walter Tarnopolosky, Saskatoon, national president; Michael Swift, Minto, N.B.; president of S.D.U.'s student union; Bob Doyle, St. John's, Nfld., chairman of the local committee of the students, federation; and Donald MacDougall, Kinkora, a member of the local committee.

Mayor Sees Interest In Civic Affairs Good Sign

"As long as there are as many public-spirited citizens willing to offer for election as have come forward for this one, we need have no fear for civic government in this city," stated Mayor J. David Stewart in a farewell address delivered in the Council Chamber last evening. His Worship spoke following a dual presentation ceremony that was held in the Chamber at the conclusion of the last regular meeting of the present Council prior to its dissolution. From the City the Mayor received as a parting gift a sterling silver rose bowl bearing the following inscription: "Presented to J. David Stewart, D.S.O., E.D., Mayor of Charlottetown, 1951-1958. In Grateful Appreciation, From the Citizens of Charlottetown." From the City Building employees His Worship received a cut crystal decanter. The gifts were presented to His Worship by Councillor Edwin C. Johnstone on behalf of the City, and Miss Mary McQuaid on behalf of the City Hall employees. FORTUNATE CHOICE Addressing His Worship on behalf of the citizens Councillor A. Walthen Gaudet noted that the City had been "very blessed indeed" in their choice of a Chief Magistrate seven years ago. Noting also that during his term in office Mayor Stewart had been called on to give leadership in "the great challenge presented by the 1955 Centennial celebration," Councillor Gaudet stated: "If that were the only contribution His Worship had been called to make, he would have deserved greater praise than any other Chief Magistrate." Recalling that Mayor Stewart had brought honor to the city and province by his appointment as president of the Canadian Association of Mayors and Municipalities, Councillor Gaudet observed that he had performed these duties "with dignity and efficiency."

Concluding his address to the Mayor, Councillor Gaudet said "We want you to know that we appreciate the firm leadership you have given this council during your term as Mayor. Thank you for a job well done indeed." DEEPLY APPRECIATIVE Speaking for all the employees at City Hall, Mr. Ernest Seller said that he agreed with each of the sentiments expressed by Councillor Gaudet, adding that the employees of the city building were "deeply appreciative" of all the kindness shown to them by Mayor Stewart during the seven years he had been Chief Magistrate of the City. Mayor Stewart said that he was "exceedingly touched" by the expressions of appreciation that had been tendered to him. He recalled that he had decided to enter civic politics 12 years ago in order to make some contribution to his "home city", in which he had been privileged to live and prosper. The Mayor paid tribute to the Councils which the citizens had elected down through the years. "We did not always agree on everything," His Worship noted, "but together I feel that we have accomplished a great deal." Referring to the City Hall employees the Mayor noted that they had always been a "delight" to work with, and were prompt and efficient at all times. His Worship told the Council to feel free to seek his advice at any time. "If my help can be of any use, I am always readily available," Mayor Stewart concluded.

Council Gives Guidance In Civic Voting Voters in tomorrow's local civic election will receive additional guidance in respect to their rights and privileges as voters in the advertising section of today's issue. The decision to run such ads was taken at last night's regular monthly meeting of the City Council following a plea for clearer instructions to voters, introduced by Councillor O'Neill, and strongly supported by all members of the Council, in particular Councillors Foster, Nicholson and Gormley. Councillor O'Neill said that he had conferred a great deal of attention regarding voting rights during the present campaign. Four other resolutions received approval at this meeting which was highlighted by presentations to the City's retiring Chief Magistrate, J. David Stewart, D.S.O., E.D.

Jersey City Water Break Is Puzzler JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP) — City engineers, still baffled by a gigantic break in a water main, succeeded late Monday in reducing a water loss which so far has amounted to 16,000,000 gallons. The underground break at 10:40 p.m. Sunday had poured 1,300,000 gallons hourly into the ground until Monday afternoon. By mid-morning, City Engineer Harold M. Ohland estimated the loss represented a lake three feet deep covering four city blocks. The loss caused the close of schools and factories and for a time water pressure was so low firemen couldn't have fought a blaze. But by shutting off several control points and stopping industrial water use, the loss was reduced to 300,000 gallons an hour. The possibility of cave-ins, fires and explosions caused August W. Heckman, public works director, to declare a state of emergency. Some 100,000 residents, about a third of the population, found themselves without water pressure for a time. But later pressure was brought up to 35 pounds

S'ide Councillor Reports $4500 Saved On Park Care

While maintaining all necessary care and maintenance, $4500.00 was saved on parks in 1957 as compared with the previous year, Councillor Elmer J. Newton, Chairman of the Property, Parks and Squares Committee, said last evening in his report at the annual meeting of the Summerside Town Council. The installation of extra water outlets in the Civic Stadium resulted in a reduction of the fire insurance rate the town had been paying on this building, said Councillor Newton, in reporting on work on a new promenade, a new fire proof floor in the men's rest room, and the addition of a new fire escape on the exterior on the South East corner, of the stadium. On the extent of the stadium a number of loads of gravel was spread in front of the main entrance for improved walking between the rink and the street. Councillor Newton said that his department also had the roof of the electric light plant and adjoining garage, and the roof of the snow plow garage resurfaced with an asphalt coating which is guaranteed for eight years. The most important property improvement, said Councillor Newton, was the relaying of the main floor in the auditorium, which was done by the contractors at no extra cost to the town. At the auditorium a new cement walk was laid from the main entrance to Beaver Street, to the parking lot west of the auditorium also from Central Street to Summer Street, and north on Summer Street connecting with the walk at the New High School. In addition to this he said, a good deal of work was done on the parking lot west of the auditorium, and also on the parking lot, now covered with asphalt, in front of the auditorium. In addition to the planting of shrubs and flowers, considerable landscaping was also done in connection with this property, he said. Councillor Newton, in his annual report, also mentioned the sale of a house and lot, known as the McInnis property for the sum of $3050.00.
