IMITATION IS THE SINCEREST FORM OF FLATTERY.

The best proof that
MINARD'S LINIMENT

has extraordinary merits, and is in good repute with the public, is, that IT IS EXTENSIVELY IMITATED. The imitations resemble the genuine article in appearance only. They lack the general excellence of Genuine.

This notice is necessary, as injurious and dangerous imitations, called WHITE LINIMENT, &c., liable to produce chronic inflammation of the skin, are often substituted for MINARD'S LINIMENT by Dealers, because they pay a larger profit.

They all Sell on the Merits and Advertising of MINARD'S.

One in particular claiming to be made by a former proprietor of MINARD'S LINIMENT, which simply is a lie.

PROHIBITION IN MANITOBA.

Premier Macdonald Explains the Bill to the House.

WINNIPEG, June 13.—In the Local Legislature Premier Macdonald explained his prohibition measure, entitled "The Liquor Act." Mr. Macdonald confessed that his motives in introducing the bill were political rather than moral. The law had been framed to avoid as far as possible any litigation, and so special care had been taken to leave no loophole for the traffic if possible. He thought this had been admirably done, and felt that the bill was as nearly perfect for the object intended as it was possible to make it at the present time. He did not think it necessary to go into it clause by clause but would leave it to the individual research and perusal of every member, and would be thankful for any suggestions from either side of the House as to the details of the bill, but by the principle the Government must stand or fall, and no change could be allowed in that. A hint here and there as to minor details would be acceptable, but no attempt in changing the intention of the act would be considered. It was not a political question, but one on which both sides had been pledged, and he would be a traitor to the cause of temperance if he allowed any interference with the main object of the bill. He was pledged to the people, and on that pledge he would stand or fall. Every member had a perfect right to vote whichever way he thought fit, and if they thought it should not pass they could vote against it. Matters of detail would be fought out in committee, but at present it was principle they were asked to consider.

THE ASHANTI TROUBLE.

British Relief Force Met a Serious Reverse.

ACCRA, Gold Coast, June 14.—Details have been received here of another serious reverse to the relief column under Col. Carter and Major Wilkinson, a day's march north of Prah. There were heavy casualties.

The latest rumors report a further disaster to a detachment on the north bank of the Prah, which is now flooded, and where the Ashanti's were found strongly entrenched.

Captain Willcocks's advance has been delayed by rains, which have destroyed the bridges in the Prah road.

The continued absence of news from Kumasi tends to confirm the pessimistic views as to the safety of the Governor and his staff. The coast towns are apprehensive of their safety.

The British gunboat Magpie, stationed at Accra, is the sole protection for the coast.

Owing to the difficulty encountered in procuring carriers, the enforcement of a labor ordinance is threatened, but such a step is considered inadvisable in view of the present temper of the inhabitants and the unprotected condition of the colony. The general opinion is that the present force is inadequate to cope with the situation, and the local Government apparently fails to recognize the gravity.

SIR CHARLES' TRIBUTE.

No event in our history has ever occurred more conducive to that unity than the glorious part which Canada has taken in the struggle. The fact that men of all races and parties and classes have shown the utmost readiness to give up their lives in the defence of British institutions has given us a position and prestige of the greatest possible importance. We have the proud satisfaction of knowing that we have sent 3,000 of our men to aid Her Majesty's arms in South Africa. We have the proud satisfaction of knowing that in all the heroism, gallantry, and bravery which has been exhibited by the best troops of England none have surpassed—whether from the British Isles or Australia or any other place, great as has been the gallantry and the heroism of the men who fought England's battles on the plains of South Africa—none have surpassed the valor, gallantry and bravery of our Canadian troops. I may say that particularly in this struggle you look across the whole of this great Empire in vain to find one subject of Her Majesty in any part of the Empire playing the noble, disinterested and generous part that an eminent Canadian has played, namely, Lord Strathcona, the representative of Canada in the Mother Country. I do not believe that there is a man or woman throughout the whole Dominion of Canada who does not sincerely rejoice that Her Majesty has marked her appreciation of the patriotism of that eminent Canadian by providing that the title which he wears with such honor to himself and to Canada is to descend to those who come after him, his children, and his children's children.—Sir Chas. Tupper.

Is essential to health and happiness, but don't blame the stomach for biliousness. It is deranged, and causes poisonous bile to remain in the blood causing indigestion, headache and irregular action of the bowels. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills regulate the liver, kidneys and bowels and by their direct action on these organs effect prompt and lasting cures of biliousness, dyspepsia, headache and all kidney ailments. THE BRIDE OF JUNE.

(Denver Evening Post.)

There's a flutter of excitement in her breast,
There's a timid sparkle in her pretty eyes;

She is like the little birdling in its nest—
Fluttering its untried wings before it flies.

She can see a rosy future in her dreams,
With the songs of love her heart is all attune;

All the world a land of fairy beauty seems
To the maiden who will be a bride in June.

How the passing days are laggard in their flight,
Seem to move along on listless, lazy wing;

Seem conspiring to delay the glad delight—
Of the morning when the wedding bells will ring.

'Round her couch at night the Cupid angles hum,
In her dreaming ears a tender song they croon;

And the most delightful visions ever come
To the maiden who will be a bride in June.

There's a glint of joyous triumph in her eyes
As her girly chums gaze at her wistfully

With their bosoms almost clogged with envious sighs,
Wishing they were playing in such luck as she;

And they tell her how the rosy god of love
Has conferred upon her head a special boon;

And she coos her sweet responses like a dove—
Does the maiden who will be a bride in June.

Louis comes to see her nearly every night,
Comes to tell the time-worn story o'er and o'er;

And her heart is ever dancing with delight
As they rapturously near the golden score.

Oft they walk together slowly arm in arm
'Neath the silvery glories of the sweet May Moon,

And existence seems to bear a mystic charm
To the maiden who will be a bride in June.

Never comes a vision of domestic spats,
Never comes the dark'ning shadow of a fear

That they yet may quarrel like Kilkenny cats
Ere they've worked in double harness for a year.

Never comes reflection that there'll be an end
To the dreamy pleasures of the honeymoon

Future cares and present raptures never blend
With the maiden who will be a bride in June.

SCRIBNER'S FOR JUNE.

Scribner's Magazine for June opens with an article appropriate to the season of national convulsions. It is entitled "How a President is Elected," and gives a view behind the scenes of the way in which the great machinery of a Presidential election is put in motion. It begins with a meeting of the National Committee which decides on the place where the convention is to be held, and terminates with the last night of the campaign when the successful chairman telephones from headquarters, "I congratulate you, Mr. President."

The author, A. Maurice Lowe, is a Washington correspondent who has had every facility to see the workings of a campaign. A brilliant series of pictures tully illustrates the narrative.

Another article of national interest is "Are the Philippines Worth Having?" by George F. Becker, a United States geologist who recently spent more than a year in the Islands. This is a very clear exposition of the mineral, and agricultural possibilities of the islands, with an account of their climate and the characteristics of the people. It contains more valuable condensed information about the islands than has heretofore appeared, and is fully illustrated from recent photographs.

Mr. Richard Harding Davis has been following General Buller's column, and his first article is published in this number, describing the battle of Pieter's Hill. Mr. Davis' admirable qualities as a descriptive writer and his experience as a correspondent in three wars enable him to present as vivid a picture as possible of the great fight between the Boers and the British just before the relief of Ladysmith. Anyone reading this article will actually follow the British soldiers while they are taking a fortified kopje. It is a brilliant picture of a battle under modern conditions.

The other side of the picture is presented by Thomas F. Millard, an American correspondent who has been with the Boer army since early in the war. He describes very graphically how the Boers fight, showing their unique method of attack and defence. Some of the figures he gives of their small losses as compared with the British losses will astonish even their ardent admirers.

Governor Roosevelt concludes his monograph on Cromwell with a judicious summary of the great Protector's qualities as a personal ruler.

Other short interesting articles and stories make Scribner's for June an exceedingly interesting number.

The Miners Again!

LONDON, June 14.—The Colonial Office has received a telegram from Sir Alfred Milner, dated June 8, saying that the Chamber of Mines at Cape Town has agreed upon 580 representatives of 151 leading mining and other companies who will proceed to Johannesburg as soon as Lord Roberts decides that it is practicable to receive them. Sir Alfred Milner asserts that he is doing all that is possible to re-open business, but is discouraging the return of the Uitlanders until the question of transportation and food supply are more settled.

The Newfoundland Strike.

St. John's, Nfld., June 14.—The strike situation at Bell Island mines has become more serious. Steamers cannot load ore; the magistrate's constabulary has been reinforced by special officers, and double watches guard the magazine where dynamite and other explosives are stored. The strikers now assume a threatening attitude and mutterings of an ominous nature are heard.

A CORN ESSAY.

The most "maize"-ing crop raised in the Eastern States is corn. Corn grows very tall. While you can listen to the cornstalk you can't hear it, and although it has ears it can't hear you. While some corn reaches a height of several feet one particular corn on one foot has been known to raise a storm. Corn is being introduced by Mr. Murphy with considerable success in the old country among well bred people. In fact they take the cake in the old country (johnny cake). Corn can be "eaten in the ears," a most peculiar feat. It can also be eaten "canned." Pop corn is a favorite among girls of 39 summers, because it "pops" so nicely. Corn was first grown in Kentucky. That's why it is all "kernels." Corn, when it is cut, gets "shocked." When the extract of corn gets into a man he cuts up, and the neighbors get shocked. We sometimes "acknowledge the corn." We do to-day. We sold so many overcoats this spring that we'll soon be without enough to keep a mosquito warm. We've got some new prices on them too: $6.00 covert coat, its a full-eared corn to our competitors. One thing we never have to do is "acknowledge the corn" on prices. People do say that the young men's suits that we're showing at $5.00 are fully as good as suits shown at $8.00 right in town. They also say that all the difference they can see between our $3.75 suit and s'mother fellow's five dollar suit is a dollar twenty-five; and they say that our fine suits for big boys and young men are made of better goods than any other store in town carries. You needn't spend ten dollars for an elegant suit if you don't want to. We'll show them to you for less than that, and they're really better than the usual ten dollar ones. They're in sizes to fit boys from fourteen years of age to boys within a year of "old enough to vote." Young man, we're after you.
