Vacationland Decision May Come On Monday

Report Does Not Deny Causeway

OTTAWA — (Special) — A statement can be expected early next week, possibly Monday, giving the Government's final word on proposals that the U.S. ferry Vacationland, formerly plying the strait of Mackinac, Michigan, be used to supplement the present ferry service across the Northumberland Strait.

Public Works Minister Howard Green's remarks about the tidal effects of a causeway were not intended as a first step to a denial to proposals for the nine-mile causeway, John A. Macdonald, Member for Kings, and Heath Macquarrie, Member for Queens, said in a special interview.

The Government has now had the report in its hands for some two weeks but no details have been released other than those given out by Mr. Green in the Commons some 10 days ago when he said it had been found construction of the causeway would create a 10-foot difference in tidal levels on either side.

In an interview Mr. Green said he could not say when the report will be made public. However, this is expected to be after the middle of June.

SEPARATE REPORTS: Sources report that sections of the main engineering-economic survey carried out for the past year may be released ahead of the main body of the work. This might deal with particular aspects such as test borings, availability of rock fill and effects on fish movements.

One survey still to be handed in to the Government is that dealing with remedial measures that would be necessary along the south shore of the island because of changes in tidal movements.

Word here is that the federal Government will not favor purchasing the Vacationland because of the expenses involved in alterations to docks, as well as general unsuitability of the fresh-water vessel.

Island MP's plan to ask a number of questions of Works Minister.

$200 Million Sought By Finance Minister

By ALAN DONNELLY Canadian Press Staff Writer OTTAWA (CP)—In the government's first new move into the money market since the April 9 budget, Finance Minister Fleming Friday announced he is seeking to borrow $200,000,000 through a novel one-year issue of treasury bills.

The new issue, with a longer term than any treasury bills hitherto, is the first of two steps planned to pay off $500,000,000 in 2 1/2-per-cent bonds maturing July 1.

Gold Mine Takes Life Of 3rd Man

KIRKLAND LAKE, Ont. (CP) Officials of the Wright-Hargreaves gold mine Friday night gave up hope of finding alive the third miner trapped in Thursday's rockburst.

The announcement came in a statement by general manager Frank Buckle, issued shortly after miners sighted the body of one man. Whether it was that of Peter Moras, 54, or Gilles Huard, 19, was not known.

A third man, Frank Uramowski, 35, was rescued Thursday after being trapped briefly when the rockburst hit the 2,700-foot level and sealed off a six-foot-square manway in the mine. The diggings, which go to 8,900 feet are the deepest in North America.

Mr. Buckle's statement said: "Since it is now evident that both men are dead, recovery operations will proceed with emphasis on the safety of recovery crews."

"One body is visible on the footwall side of the stope just above a small opening in the manway lining. The body is nearly covered by broken rock and it is not possible to identify. The second body has not yet been located, but there is reason to believe that it may be close to the first."

CITY COUNCIL CANCELS MEET

A special meeting of the City Council, called for last evening, was postponed when not enough councillors showed up to form a quorum. There were five men along with Mayor Edwin Johnstone.

They waited from 6:30, scheduled starting time, until 7:40. Then they decided to try it again on Monday evening, June 8th, at eight o'clock.

The meeting attempt had scarcely been cancelled when the sixth councillor put in an appearance but by then the others had gone and it was too late to reconvene the meeting.

LIKE AMERICANS TO CANADIANS

WENNIPEG (CP)—Newfoundland MP J. W. Pickersgill said Friday the attitude of mainland Canadians to Newfoundlanders is similar to that of Americans to Canadians — "a combination in about equal proportions of good will and ignorance."

"And just as most Canadians tend to resent this American ignorance so do most Newfoundlanders tend to resent the Canadian ignorance," he said in a speech to the Canadian Club here.

The statements were included in a text of the speech issued to the press.

The Liberal MP for Bonaville-Twillingate, a former Manitoba history professor, traced the history of the rugged island province up to its entry into Confederation as Canada's 10th province in 1949.

INSIDER ON SECRETS At that time he was Privy Council secretary, an insider with cabinet secrets. He said the "great snag" as far as the Canadian government was concerned in considering Newfoundland's entry to Confederation was the unhealthy state of the island's finances.

"I can well remember one evening when (former prime minister) St. Laurent told me he was afraid that problem just could not be solved."

But finally it was agreed that the federal government would provide certain financial assistance for eight years and then whatever was needed thereafter to continue Newfoundland's public services without a higher level of provincial taxes than in the Maritime provinces.

40 Miners Are Saved

MERLACH, France (Reuters) Forty miners trapped 2,000 feet below the surface after a coal mine explosion here Friday were rescued as the death toll rose to 18. There were 35 injured.

One man is missing. Many of the injured were badly burned. Twelve were flown to a hospital in Lynn and six more to Paris for treatment.

Teams of gas detection specialists were at work in the Ste. Fontaine Mine when the blast roared through the galleries 2,000 feet underground Friday morning.

The 40 miners who had been listed as missing were trapped under debris dislodged by the explosion. Teams of men in two galleries, one above the other, and in a third gallery, parallel to the first two, were struck by the blast.

The specialists had been supervising the sealing off of a part of the coal face where fire-damp gas and carbon monoxide had been reported.

Ch'town Player Wins National Crib Tourny

A Charlottetown man won the fifth National Blind Cribbage Tournament last night. Edgar Doucette scored 577 against 565 for Delson Linaux of Halifax in the tie-breaking series at the Charlottetown Hotel last night.

The tournament, sponsored by the Canadian Council of the Blind, ended this year in a very unique way. Over 100 players across Canada participated in the 20-game tournament, which ended in a two way tie. D. Linaux of the Fraser Club in Halifax, and E. Doucette of the Friendship Club of the Blind of Charlottetown finished with a score of 2399, out of a possible 2420. The tie was broken last evening at the Charlottetown Hotel when Mr. Linaux and Mr. Doucette played a series of five games.

The series was directed by Greg Collin of Saint John, N.B. who is the national director of recreation and vice-president of the council, as well as chairman of the Maritime Division of the CCB. The official scorers were Lion Joe Molloy, and Lisa Don Gallant of the Charlottetown Lions Club.

He hasn't missed one of the 30 roll call votes taken since the session started.

A house official keeps a record and found that only three federal MPs were keeping perfect score as of last Thursday. Besides Mr. MacLean were Richard Bell (PC Carleton) and Reynold Rapp (PC-Humbolt-Melfort).

On Thursday, however, Mr. Bell was speaking at a Conservative convention for the Ontario

Engineers Recommend Vacationland Purchase

Purchase of the Vacationland for service on the Borden-Eormentine run seemed a little nearer today with the report that her purchase has been recommended by federal transport department and CNR engineers. A recommendation to that effect has been forwarded to Ottawa it was learned here yesterday.

The engineers surveyed docking and pier accommodations at Borden and Termontine yesterday with Alex Scott P. Eng., representing provincial government, who recommended the use of the Michigan vessel after making a special trip to see the big automobile and passenger carrying ship.

Premier Matheson was "highly pleased" with the new development in the island's attempt to secure additional transportation facilities between the province and the mainland. He expressed the hope that the engineers' recommendation might lead to the purchase of the Vacationland.

OTTAWA — (Special) — A $191,700 contract has been awarded to Louis Donolo of Montreal and Halifax for work at the R.C.A.F. Station at Summerside.

Ore Decision Pending 'Learned Societies' Told

SASKATOON (CP) — The Ungava Iron Ores Company will decide this summer whether to go ahead with a vast iron ore development in Labrador, the Conference of Learned Societies was told Friday.

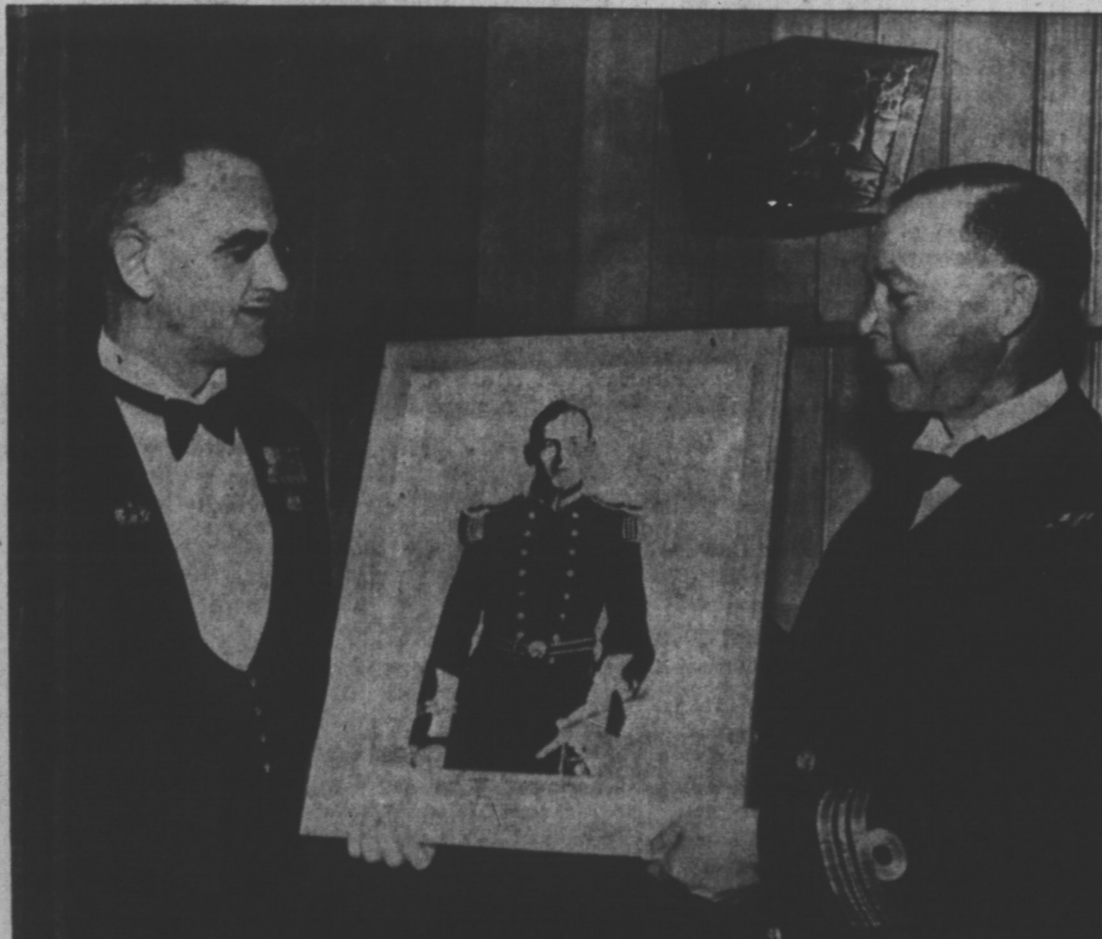

Dr. Trevor Lloyd, of Dartmouth College in New Hampshire, and a member of the committee on Polar research of the National Academy of Sciences, addressed the Canadian Association of Geographers.

If the company decides to go ahead, Dr. Lloyd said, it will make use of a little-known plan to bring iron ore out from Ungava Bay during the summer and stockpile it in an ice-free port on the west coast of Greenland for shipping the year around.

FINANCIAL DECISION "The scheme is economically feasible," Dr. Lloyd said. "The decision to proceed rests on financing—whether or not this is the best time to try to raise the $300,000,000 it would take for shipping and handling facilities."

If the company decides to start work this summer, it will be more than two years before ore will be exported, he said.

Under the plan outlined by Dr. Lloyd, ore would be brought 20 miles by rail to Hopes Advance Bay, which is free of ice four months of the year. Four ships would be required to take 5,000,000 tons of ore during those four months a distance of 590 miles to Rype Island, four miles south-east to Godthaab, capital of Greenland.
