—Yesterday morning, in St.
Paul's Church, Summerside, Rev.
Francis Cameron, son of Mr. William Cameron and the late Mrs.
Cameron of Summerside, celebrated his first Solemn High Mass.
He was ordained to the priesthood on Saturday morning in St. Dunstan's Basilica, Charlottetown by Bishop James Boyle.

Father Cameron was assisted in his first Solemn High Mass by Rev. J. D. Kelly, Miscouche, as high priest, Rev. F. P. Aylward of St. Dunstan's University as deacon and Rev. Joseph MacLeod as sub-deacon. Mr. Donald Cameron, brother of the newly ordained priest was master of ceremonies.

the sanctity of the priesthood.

At the conclusion of his Mass an address was read to Father Cameron on behalf of the parish by Mr. J. Elmer Murphy and a presentation of a purse made by Mr. J. Arthur Clow.

Father Cameron thanked the congregation for the presentation

Atkins-Chappell
Wedding

—St. Mary's Anglican Church, Summerside was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday afternoon at three o'clock, when Audrey Elizabeth, daughter of Mr.
Alex Chappell and the late Mrs.
Chappell, Sherbrooke, and Richard Atkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Atkins of Belle Island, Newfoundland, were united in marriage. Ven. Archdeacon G.R. Harrison officiated. Mr. Everett Pen-warden was in charge of the wedding music and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. L. M. Callbeck, as she sang "The Wedding Hymn" by Handel during the signing of the register. Beautiful bouquets of daffodils were placed on the altar for the occasion.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and attended by Mrs. William Campbell, as matron of honor. Mr. Prowse Yeo was groomsman. Messrs. William Campbell and Gardiner Marks were the ushers.

The bride was lovely in her wedding gown, a portrait original in full length style of nylon tulle full floating skirt over white slipper satin, appliqued with accents of French lace. The fitted bodice and long pointed sleeves were of nylon chambray lace with folds of applicated tulle. Her finger-tip veil fell from a matching bandeau with a cluster of pearls on the left side.
She carried a cascade bouquet of Pink Delight roses.

The matron of honor was gowned in ice blue nylon net over satin with matching headdress and carried a bouquet of Talisman roses.

The groom's mother was attired in navy lace over taffeta with pink accessories and a corsage of Pink Delight roses.

Following the ceremony a reception for forty guests was held at Birch Hill Tourist Lodge, where the bride's table, with its artistic arrangement of spring flowers was centered with a three-tier wedding cake, topped with a bouquet of roses.

Mr. Charles Yeo proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom responded.

For the wedding trip the bride changed to a suit of powder blue gabardine and topper of navy velvet with matching accessories. On return they will reside temporarily in Summerside where the groom is a leading draftsman with the R.C.A.F. The bride, who is a registered nurse, has been on the staff of the Prince County Hospital.-S.

Tough French
Officer Commands
At Dien Bien Phu

By HAROLD SIEVE
PARIS, (Reuters)—A thin, tough French officer, whose ancestor fought with Gen. Lafayette in the American Revolution, Sunday night was waging the supreme battle of his swashbuckling career.

The hopes of 40,000,000 Frenchmen and the entire free world rested on the weary shoulders of Col. Christian de Castries, commander of the rebel-besieged fortress of Dien Bien Phu in northwest Indo-China.

In five days of vicious combat the tall, eagle-faced 51-year-old colonel has become the symbol of the stonewall resistance to waves of screaming Vietminh Communist attackers.

He is France's modern musketeer—a d'Artagnan in muddy combat uniform—directing a desperate defence from a shell-broken dugout.

De Castries is no stranger to tough scrapes or spectacular exploits. He escaped four times from German captivity in the Second World War, and in a bold stroke later captured the crown prince of Germany, Kaiser Wilhelm's son.

Never Accept Defeat
Between the two world wars, cavalry horses proved his greatest enemy, but after many falls, he retained to the saddle and won the world horse-jumping championship.

This "never accept defeat" attitude—whether on the battlefield of Indo-China or in a peacetime saddle—is in the best tradition of the French Army and his own ancestors. The de Castries family gave France eight lieutenant-generals, a marshal and an admiral.

When Hitler's armies swept through France in the summer of 1940, the die-hard officer held out for three days and three nights at the head of 60 men against a battering from Nazi tanks and planes until he was taken prisoner.

After escaping and being recaptured three times, he got away to Marseille and reached Gen. Charles de Gaulle's forces in North Africa.

He participated in the invasion of Italy, the triumphant entry into Rome and the liberation of Siena.
After the invasion of southern France, he pushed through to Germany, captured Friedenstein in a bold advance and seized the former kaiser's son there.

plosion.

Trucking Industry In Chaos Over P.C. Ruling

AMHERST, N.S. (CP)—A Privy Council decision on highway transport has plunged Canada's trucking industry into chaos, the industry's chief spokesman said Saturday.

G. M. Parke of Toronto, president of Canadian Trucking Associations, said his organization has granted model legislation with a view to filling a "void" left in international and interprovincial highway jurisdiction by the decision.

Mr. Parke's address was prepared for delivery to the annual convention of the Maritime Motor Transport Association. This is a branch of the CTA, main voice of Canada's 20,000 "for hire" truckers.

Mr. Parke said the CTA's model legislation is to be submitted to provincial governments in the hope it will be presented to the federal-provincial conference on highway transport to be held at Ottawa starting April 26.

The conference was called by Transport Minister Chevrier after the Privy Council in February upheld a federal contention that the central government has control over the interprovincial and international operations of commercial highway operators.

Ottawa "Reluctant"
The federal government promptly said it would be "reluctant" to use this power and would like to give it to the provinces if a common understanding could be reached.

"The object of the conference," Mr. Parke said Saturday, "is certainly not to perpetuate the chaos into which the Privy Council's decision has plunged our industry. . .
It is not too much to say that the industry literally does not know whether it is coming or going at the present time."

The model act was aimed at filling the existing void in trans-border regulations. It has been written as a federal act.

However, Mr. Parke suggested it might be used as an example of uniform legislation for the provinces in the hope they would reach a general understanding on truck regulation with the federal government.

Two Principles Proposed He urged agreement on two principles of control embodied in the model act:

1. That licences be granted by a regulatory board after public hearings, only on the basis of public convenience and necessity.

2. That the regulatory board require trucking companies to open all its rates for public inspection.

While the CTA is opposed to straight federal control of trans-border trucking, Mr. Parke suggested a way to dispose of the federal government's newly established jurisdiction would be to hand it over to provincial truck regulatory boards acting as federal boards. There was legal precedent for this.

CTA favored an amendment to the British North America Act to transfer the jurisdiction, but was not hopeful of this.

Stellarton Woman
Killed In Accident

STELLARTON, N. S. (CP)—Mrs.
Paul Gerrior, 31, was killed Saturday night when the car in which she was driving rammed into a bridge near here.

Her husband received a broken leg and his nephew, James Gerrior, who was driving, multiple injuries. Mrs. Gerrior was the mother of four children.

An inquest was ordered.

off good sized splinters. But that antler wouldn't splinter. So the young porcupine gnawed and gnawed and gnawed. By and by he climbed a tree near at hand, and settled down to getting a real meal. He was in that tree for several days, but each day sometimes in daytime and sometimes in the night, he visited that antler to gnaw at it.

He found that he wasn't the only one who had that same liking for this queer thing he had found. One night he found Jumper the Hare gnawing at it. Every time he visited it he found mice gnawing at it. All of them had the same urge that he had. It was Mother Nature's way of making sure that these little folk had certain things they needed in their bodies, and which they might not easily get otherwise.

The next time Flatthorns came along that way he stopped to look at his antler. It was only half the size it had been. It was slowly disappearing.

several weeks with jaundice.
