MR. AND MRS. REGINALD MACDONALD

Winter Wedding Solemnized At Presbyterian Church

A very pretty wedding was held recently at Zion Presbyterian Church Study, Charlottetown, when Margaret Shiela, daughter of Mr. Murdock MacLeod and the late Mrs. MacLeod of Charlottetown was united in marriage to Reginald Ivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry MacDonald of O'Leary, P. E. I. Reverend Donald A. Campbell performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a white brocaded street length gown. Her tiara was of pearls and sequins, which held her shoulder length veil. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Mrs. William Chapman, was matron of honor, and wore a street length dress of red velvet with matching accessories, and carried a nosegay of yellow mums. Mr. William Chapman was best man.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the Queen Hotel, Charlottetown. The bride's table was centered with a three-tier wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. Mr. Campbell and responded to by the groom. Miss Dorothy Smith was in charge of the guest book.

Immediately following the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip through the Maritimes.

Prior to her marriage the bride was tendered several showers. Mrs. William Chapman was hostess at her home in Parkdale, communities of Hunter River and O'Leary, and the staff of R. T. Holman's Ltd., also entertained in her behalf.

The couple will reside in Charlottetown.

ELLEN'S DIARY

Ashes Of Gifted Poet Will Be Buried In Vermont

Surely one of the nicest items of our day so pleasant, was the much appreciated note and enclosed clipping received in this morning's mail. These came from a former Island girl, born and reared on a farm, only a few miles distant from Alderlea as the crow flies over the treetops and the narrower flow of the river between. Domiciled for some years there, we suspect she is now a naturalized daughter of the U.S.A. Nevertheless, like many of our own "abroad," we know her thoughts often wing over the distance between, back to the Island of her people. We fancy she will be picturing presently, the Spring shades washing over farmlands she knew.

The clipping from her local newspaper was an account of one of the Memorial services held for America's loved poet, the late Robert Frost. This was held in the Appleton Chapel of Memorial Church in Harvard Yard, and was attended by "a handful of family" including a daughter, and friends. Great names were there. . .And we down on this Island farm, having listened in to the inaugural ceremonies for President Kennedy with deep interest, have not forgotten that, for us, one of its highlights was to have heard verse. If, perhaps due to, for him, insufficient light, or maybe it was only the excitement of the memorable occasion, he was unable to complete his lines, it was a rare privilege for us to hear the ageing voice, and the freshness and strength of his verse.

This service was conducted by the Rev. Dr. Palfrey Perkins, Minister Emeritus of King's Chapel - a close friend for years of the poet.

The music chosen was interesting. It included, the slow movement from Beethoven's Trio, Opus 97; selections from Bach, Handel, and Purcell; the Horatian Ode, "Integer Vitae"; the 78th. Psalm; a setting for Mr. Frosts's "The Road Not Taken," and Haydn's Chorale, St. Anthony.

Dr. Perkins read from the Psalms: 121,90, and 139. The Text for his sermon was Romans VIII, 38-39. He also read two of Mr. Frost's poems: "The Road Not Taken" and "Stopping by Woods on a Snowy Evening," and the Christmas lines sent to friends by the poet during the last holiday season:

"The prophets rarely prophesy as mystics, the commentators by statistics." He read also W. E. Henley's "Margaritae Sorori," the first stanza of which is:

"A late lark twitters from the quiet skies;
And from the west,
Where the sun, his day's work
ended,
Lingers in content,
There falls on the old gray city,
An influence, luminous and serene,
A shining peace."

It is interesting to note that the ashes of the poet, will be buried some time in the spring, in the family plot of the cemetery at Old Bennington, Vermont.

So with we fancy "A shining peace," a gifted poet, a humble man but great, has passed from earth to his own "far ben."

Until tomorrow — — Diary—Good-night. . .

Guild Considers USC Request

Mrs. St. Clair Trainor presided at the recent monthly meeting of St. Veronica's Nurses Guild, held in the Nurses Residence. She welcomed several new members, and stated that it is most encouraging to see an increased attendance each month.

Miss Eileen MacDonald, secretary, read the minutes and correspondence. A request from U.S.C. for donations to help Greek nurses in obtaining uniforms, was discussed. Decison on this matter was left till next meeting. The chaplain, Monsignor P. McMahon was present, and spoke briefly.

Miss Patricia Gauthier, nursing arts instructor, read a paper, entitled, "Nursing-in Today's Complex Society." She made comparison between the role of nursing today and nursing twenty years ago and pointed out that hospitals, nursing, treatments and facilities have greatly changed over the years. With the intricate equipment therapies of different kinds, increased medications, etc., the Registered Nurse is spending most of her time in the administration of these, and does not have the time to give the bed-side nursing care that nurses gave some years ago.

With the advent of the team nursing system much of the care of the sick is now carried on by the student, nursing assistant, orderlies, volunteer and other auxiliary workers. However, the co-ordination and supervision of the team is still the responsibility of the professional nurse.

Miss Ganthier concluded her talk by stating that today's patients are receiving good nursing care, but the method by which it is given has changed to suit the needs of the present day.

Following the paper by Miss Gauthier, the members formed groups to discuss questions pertinent to the subject after which general discussion followed.

Mrs. Trainor, the president, was appointed to represent the guild and Alumnae, at the annual Red Cross meeting on February 21st.

Lunch was served by the sisters at the close of the meeting.
