Training of fishermen to be investigated

As a result of his observations of the fishing industry in Norway, Deputy Fisheries Minister Eugene Gorman, who has returned from attending a fisheries conference in Europe, said that plans for the training of the land fishermen will be investigated by the department.

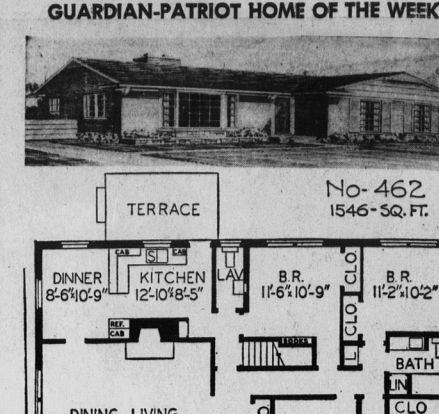

Mr. Gorman said that the Canadian worry about the competition in the North Atlantic, and with vessels from many nations coming in a great assessment must be made of the situation and steps taken to enable our industry to compete.

From this training, Mr. Gorman said "we hope to come up with all that is best and usable for inland fishermen, and I feel that it is the only way we are going to be able to compete with foreign fishermen on our shores."

He figured that to overcome the worry of being out-produced on the fishing grounds, we must find the best fishing methods and fish grounds to a low level so that it will not pay foreign fishermen to come to the near us.

During his trip, Mr. Gorman attended the World Fishing Congress in England, attended by some 40 delegates from every fishing nation in the world, and also made tours of the United Kingdom as well as Norway.

HOW TO OBTAIN DESIGN BOOK

The latest design book entitled "Canadian Guide to Home Planning and Design" is now available at the offices of The Guardian and The Evening Patriot for $1, tax free.

Quite often a 4 bedroom home becomes too large after the children are grown and away from home. Such is not the case here. You will notice that the rear bedroom can easily be converted into a TV room if three bedrooms all you require. Extra layout is conveniently located. Entry hall provides direct approach to all major areas of the home.
