—SEVEN MILE BAY.—Beginning Sunday, Aug. 2nd, Rev. Geo. Bradley, S.J., Montreal, will conduct a mission in St. Peter's Church, Seven Mile Bay. Father Bradley is at present conducting a mission in Tracadie. L-6296

—FOR SALE BY AUCTION on the David Roberts farm, Maple Plains, Saturday afternoon, July 26th, 3 p.m., 30 acres standing timothy hay, good quality. Terms cash. Hugh F. Morrison, auctioneer. L-6319

—SAD BEREAVEMENT.—Mrs. William Johnson of Elmfield has the sympathy of her friends in the death of her son Rankin Graham, aged 12 years, who passed away in the Prince County Hospital on Sunday evening. The remains were taken to his home for burial. S.

—RETURNED TO BORDEN.—The car ferry "Prince Edward Island" has returned to her usual berth at Borden, after being at Summerside for the last two weeks. While in port many citizens took the opportunity of looking her over. S.

—VISITING IN LOT 16.—Mrs. J. Boteman and Miss Boteman of Montreal were recent visitors to Lot 16. Accompanying them were Mrs. Harvey Manderson, Miss Janie Manderson and Health Manderson. Mrs. Boteman and her daughter leave for Montreal this week, stopping off on the Gaspe coast for a short visit. S.

—RECOVERING.—The young people who were in the regrettable accident at Augustine Cove on Sunday evening are reported as resting comfortably and are gradually recovering from their serious hurts. Miss Evelyn Noonan, who suffered most from shock and was not taken to the hospital, is still pleading to report, getting over the shock. Miss Noonan was in the car when it was overturned. She had been visiting friends in Borden on Sunday, when Miss Lowther called and asked her to go for a drive. Miss Noonan accepted little thinking of accidents, and it is a mercy that she did not share the fate of the other occupants of the car. The thing that is thought to have saved her from serious hurt was that the door of the car opened and she fell out into the road. S.

son spent his boyhood days at Lot 14.

The church at Lot 16 is connected with the early history of the Methodist Church. The first Presbyterian Church was thought to be a log church at Belmont. The church on the present site previous to the one now standing was built along the lines of the old style Presbyterian with a high pulpit and gallery, and was much larger. William MacGregor was one of the early presbyters died in 1850 and his grave is at the rear of the church. The first elders were Archibald Campbell, at whose house the first Presbytery of Prince Edward Island was held; John Ramsay, John MacKinnon and Robert Murray. Elders in 1853 were Hugh Carr, John MacGregor, Chas. Ramsay, R. W. MacLean; 1870, Anthony Creswell, George Linklater, Archibald Ramsay, G. W. Carr.

The present church was built in 1876 by Robert Milligan and the contractor David Kirk. They were, no doubt, elders of the church. Other elders of more recent date were Joseph Simmons, W. H. MacGregor and A. E. MacLean. The present elders are W. J. MacLean and J. G. MacLean.

Several people were present at Sunday's services who were present at the opening of the church and were Edward Ramsay, Arthur Ramsay, W. H. MacGregor, A. E. MacLean, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gardiner, Miss Nettie Lyle, Miss C. Beairso and W. J. MacLean.

As the church is now "United", Rev. Mr. Woodside gave a brief sketch of the former Methodist congregation of Richmond Bay. The first Circuit, called the Egmont Circuit, included Sheep River, Enmore River, and Lot 11. In 1880 there was a Bible Christian Church at Bideford. There was also a church at Fifteen Point. In 1884 there was a general union of the Methodist and Bible Churches. In 1887 Bideford obtained permission to build a new church. In 1888 the deed of the church at Wellington was granted. In 1873 Samuel Yevo gave land and material for the Methodist Church in Lot 16. This church blew down in 1874 but was rebuilt in 1881, and trustees were appointed. In 1882 the church was furnished and opened. The deed was procured about that time. This church was renovated in 1910.

History of the Church

Rev. R. E. Woodside, the present pastor, had spent a good deal of time collecting the early history of Lot 16 and at the morning service gave in detail those things of special interest connected with the parish.

Of particular interest was the fact that the seven presbyters who were there at the opening of the church building, there was also the old Communion set used in the original Presbyterian Church at Lot 16 and dating back to 1821; also a Bible belonging to Robert Milligan, one of the elders ordained at the first Presbytery in 1818, which had built the first church on the present site. Interesting photographs of the early pastors were on the walls.

Rev. Mr. Woodside first gave a graphic description of Prince Edward Island when the Scuri-guols Indians were in possession and whose descendants, the Mic Macs still reside very close to Lot 16. He then spoke of Jacques Cartier and John Cabot, early explorers, leading up from that until he came to that part of the island's history when it was first visited by a Presbyterian Minister, Dr. James MacGregor, in 1791, just 21 years after the first settlers had come out from Scotland. MacGregor visited Lot 16 in 1802.

From the time of Rev. Dr. Keir, 1810, there was almost an unbroken line of ministers to the present time. Only between 1847 and 1853 was the church at Lot 16 vacant. It formerly took in the whole of the Richmond Bay district. In 1853 Rev. J. MacLeod was ordained and inducted into the parish which extended from Lot 11 to Traveller's Rest. Services were often held in the Court House, St. Eleanors, and at Green's Shore, now Summerside. In 1873 they separated and Lot 16 joined with Richmond Bay west. A church was built on the site of the property now owned by Mrs. Howatt, but no church was ever built there and the site was recently sold.

Rev. Henry Crawford, whose son was the speaker on Sunday evening, held the pastorate in 1874, and his some of the occupants were crawling out of the car. He noticed that Charles Perry was fastened underneath the car, and he raised the car to release Perry's hands and arms. They found that a bar of iron had gone through his neck and cheek. They procured a hack saw and cut the bar between the car and the injured man. They then carried the man to the house where Dr. Kennedy treated the wound. Witness stated he considered Shea to be sober.

Harvey Jeffrey corroborated the previous witness as to the accident. He also thought Shea was sober. George Oliver, police officer for Alberton, gave evidence that he was called to the scene of the accident shortly after it happened and, together with Corp. Engles of the R. C. M. P. drove Shea into Alberton. While he was in the car with Shea he smelled liquor from Shea's breath.

Corp. Engles stated that he arrived at the accident shortly after it happened and talked with the accused and placed him under arrest. During his conversation with the accused he smelled a distinct odor of liquor off his breath. Later he took measurements showing how the car had crossed and re-crossed the road and landed in the left hand ditch. The measurements showed that he had been travelling in the ditch for 97 feet, then crossed the road for 47 feet, and re-crossed for 47 feet. The car had travelled 66 feet on the shoulder of the road before entering the ditch. He stated that the fender, head lights and windshield were badly damaged and two right tires were flat. The accused appeared to be quite steady, but seemed to be stupid. He admitted to Corp. Engles that he had had two drinks during the afternoon. That concluded the evidence for the Crown. The accused reserved his defence.—S.

Amalgamation of Churches

It is of interest to note that the Methodist and Presbyterian churches at Lot 16 and also at Inverness anticipated union and amalgamated in 1921. The reason for this was that the congregation of Methodists at Lot 16 was so small and entailed great hardship on the minister further west to hold services; and in Inverness there was only a handful of Presbyterians that it was decided to join hands. There was always the most cordial relationships between the two churches and the arrangement was a very happy one. The old Methodist Church is now the site of a Sunday School. In 1925 the Church at Lot 16 formally joined the "Union".

The parish now includes Central Lot 16, Belmont, Wellington and Union Corner.

Church from 1800 to 1936

In 1800 Rev. Mr. Urquhart of the Church of Scotland was the first minister to organize the Presbyterian churches on the Island. In 1802 to 1804 Dr. James MacGregor visited Lot 16. In 1806 to 1809 Peter Inverness of St. Peter's Bay visited the parish. In 1810 John Keir, minister to Richmond Bay parish.

In 1853 Rev. J. M. MacLeod was ordained and inducted into the Richmond Bay parish, which went from Lot 11 to Traveller's Rest.

In 1862 the congregation was divided. Ministers from that time on were: 1864, Charles Fraser; 1866 to 1868, Archibald Brown; 1869, J. K. Fraser; 1869, J. W. Logan; 1869, R. G. Vans, died at Lavigneville, B.C. in 1923; 1892, A. F. Fehand; 1892, A. J. MacNeill; 1893, T. D. Ross, died in South Carolina in 1934; 1894 to 1896, James R. MacKay, who afterwards went to Souris and later to Burnt Church, N. B. He died in Orkney Islands, Scotland; 1896, A. H. Foster, now at Brandon, Ont.; 1897, Wm. MacLeod and W. A. Ross; 1898, Wm. C. Murdoch; 1898, Ernest Forbes; 1901, Andrew Boyd; 1902, James Grant; 1903 to 1911, William Mason, Edmonton; 1911 to 1915, J. B. MacKay, who died at Truro in 1934; 1915 to 1922, Roland Davidson; 1922, Mr. Ritchie; 1923 to 1926, J. C. Martin; 1927 to 1932, W. E. Aitken, and from self-abnegation we obtain self-realization and attain Christian salvation. We owe this to Jesus Christ and his saints that we appropriate this blessing which has been handed down to us and to live so that those that come after us will profit by our example. Only as God dwells in you and possesses you will you become useful and happy and have an influence for good in the lives of others.

Evening Service

Rev. J. Wm. N. Crawford was the speaker at the evening service. He was assisted by Rev. Mr. Forbes and Rev. Mr. Woodside. As at the other services, the hymns and prayers were appropriate for the occasion. The choir from Lot 14 had charge of the music. The Male Quartette, James Phillips, Clarence Phillips, Will Phillips and Robert Yeo sang during the service. A duet chorus rendered "What the World Needs Most now is a Revival".

Rev. Mr. Crawford in his opening remarks made happy reference to his boyhood days at Lot 16. He chose for his text the last verse in the last chapter of Revelations, "The Grace of Our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all." From this simple text the speaker preached an eloquent sermon on the grace of Our Lord and the great influence it can have in our lives. He gave the many interpretations of grace and the influence they can have on the lives of God's people who will accept them and take them unto themselves.

He urged that all in their prayers ask for grace to be made willing to so live our lives that we may influence others in Christ. In conclusion he gave his blessing to the church and congregation that they may continue in a work so well begun.

Pastor Renders Thanks

At the conclusion of the services Rev. Mr. Woodside expressed his thanks to all those who had assisted in any way to make this memorial occasion such a success. To the organizers, Mrs. Edward Lockhart; to the choirs of the United, Presbyterian and Baptist parishes who had perfectly rendered the music for the day; to those who had supplied the photos of early pastors and information of the history of the church; and to others who had supplied flowers for the adornment of this sacred building, and in any way helped to lighten the burden of the pastor and elders on this occasion.—S.

—VISITING OLD HOME.—Mr. Donald C. MacKay returned to his home in Boston, Mass., on Saturday morning after a very pleasant two weeks' visit to the Island, his former home. Mr. MacKay had not been home for 30 years. On his homeward trip he was accompanied by Miss Ethel Tuttle and Mrs. Nellie Magaffrey of Somerville, Mass.—S.

—BOARD OF TRADE PICNIC.—The Summerside Board of Trade have arranged to have a picnic at Harrison MacFarlane's shore at Bedouque on Thursday evening. The ladies of South Bedouque Institute who catered to the members last year have promised to do so this year. It is expected that the president, Mr. W. E. MacDonnell, will have a guest speaker to address the gathering after supper. Members are privileged to bring their wives and guests. S.

—ORANGE PARADE.—The Orangemen of Kenmore Lodge, Elmfield, held a church parade on Sunday evening to the United Church at Bideford. J. J. Mathieson of Summerside was marshal of the parade. Members from O'Leary, Summerside, Kensington and Bedouque joined in the ceremonies. T. J. Inman, Grand Master of the province, also attended and addressed the gathering at a meeting held after the church service. Rev. J. W. A. Nicholson preached an inspiring sermon on things pertaining to the Order. S.

—INTERESTING VISITORS.—The B. S. Gaspeia arrived at Summerside on Sunday with 41 passengers, forty of them being women. Most of the ladies had travelled extensively and were charmed with the scenic beauty of the Island and with Summerside. They said the town was above the average for beauty and cleanliness. Most of the ladies were making the round trip. The steamer also brought ten cars of hay freight. S.

—SMITH-STAVERT.—At an early morning hour in the North Bedouque Manse, while the birds were still singing in the tree-tops on the lawn, Upton Laird Smith of Cavendish and Ella Blanche Stavert of North Bedouque, spoke their marriage vows each to the other, and were declared to be husband and wife. The many were well decorated with Canadian Maple, ferns, and many-hued delphiniums, and the carpets strewn with petals of roses. Amid the color and fragrance of flowers and foliage, the ceremony was performed by Rev. J. W. A. Nicholson, in the presence of the bride's mother and brother and Mrs. Nicholson. The bride wore travelling dress of delphinium blue with becoming felt hat to match her costume. After the wedding the couple took the morning ferry at Borden for a trip on the mainland. On their return they will reside at Bridge. Many many friends of both groom and bride in their respective home districts will follow their after career with cordial good wishes.

—ON HOLIDAY.—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Callaghan and their family are spending their vacation at Souris, the guests of Mr. Callaghan's brother, Mr. Urban L. P. Callaghan. S.

—New arrivals at Edgewater this week include Mrs. Earl MacLure, Mrs. Jennie Harding, Miss Evelyn MacLure, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schurman and family, Miss Ellen Hall, Mrs. John W. Harding, all of Summerside, Miss Hilda Bradley, Charlottetown.—S.

—Mrs. Olive Gaudet, who has recently returned from a visit to her home in Chester, N. S., is attending the girls' camp of the Church of England at Hamilton, P. E. I., and will give instruction to the girls on home nursing. S.

Afternoon Session

Rev. John K. Fraser, D.D., of Alberton, a former pastor, was the speaker in the afternoon. He was assisted by Rev. L. E. G. Davies of Trinity United Church, Summerside, and Rev. J. E. Wilson, B.D., of the United Baptist Church of Summerside and Belmont. These ministers brought greetings from their congregations. The Wellington and Union Corner choirs led the worship of song. A mixed quartette, Miss Laura Rix, Frank Gamble, Grace Barlow and Preston Barlow sang very effectively, "Peace, Perfect Peace", and a duet, "Haven of Rest" was sung by Mr. Gamble and Miss Gamble. The anthem, "Blessed Assurance" was sung during the offertory.

Rev. Dr. Keir congratulated the congregation on having attained their 60th anniversary. He remembered the senior elders, when he ministered in this church 47 years ago. He was glad that he had been asked to take part in this service, where they honored the Godly men who built this church and who were an inspiration to the congregation of today and those who will come after.

His sermon, which was a challenge to the people as to their loyalty to Christ as His purchased ones, was based on the text, 1st Corinthians, Chapter 6, 19th and 20th verses, "Ye are not your own, for ye have been bought with a price." He emphasized the point that we cannot live for ourselves. That in
