By Estrellita

For Tomorrow
ON this Sunday, outdoor activities should prove the best means of relaxation after the work week. Travel and entertainment plans should also work out well.

During the evening hours, the stellar influences presage exceptionally fine relationships with both friends and business associates, and there is a possibility, too, that achievement of your desires may be brought a little closer through the good will of one of them.

For the Birthday
If tomorrow is your birthday, you should find the months ahead exceptionally stimulating. Long-pending business and financial problems should be concluded satisfactorily between now and the end of the year and, during this same period, there is also a likelihood that some unexpected benefit may accrue through travel, a new invention or the favor of an influential person.

The fall months should find you in the midst of some glamorous experiences, either social or romantic, and there is also a likelihood that you will receive news of an inheritance or some other financial windfall.

A child born on this day will be shy, sensitive, retiring and highly intuitive.

The Day After Tomorrow
There may be a tendency toward irascibility on Monday so, in dealing with others, avoid controversial subjects, and go out of your way to promote harmonious relationships. Be careful if traveling, too.

If it is necessary for you to make an important decision and you are in doubt, ask advice of someone you trust. During the evening hours your own judgment will be better.

For the Birthday
If Monday is your birthday, the next four months promise much in the way of business and financial activity, and also stimulating aspects for social, domestic and romantic affairs, especially. Astrological influences forecast unexpected honors, promotion or some other sign of preferment from superiors. During the winter months, you will enter upon a cycle which will be exceedingly beneficial where self-development is concerned, and you should gain new light on how to handle difficult problems in the future. Avoid a tendency toward extravagance during November and December, however. A child born on this day will be a loyal and sincere friend, highly practical in business or professional ventures.
