Sixty-year-old Mr. Pearson, who took over the Liberal leadership only in mid-January after Louis St. Laurent resigned, won personal re-election in Ontario's Algoma East. But as early as 3 p.m. EST he conceded national victory to the 62-year-old Saskatchewan lawyer-politician, Mr. Diefenbaker.

"I think it's a good thing for the country to have one party in a majority," Mr. Pearson told reporters at Ottawa. He sent a telegram of congratulations to Mr. Diefenbaker at Prince Albert, Sask., and issued a statement promising "constructive, rather than negative to purely partisan consideration" to future Conservative legislation in the Commons.

All 14 Conservative cabinet ministers in Eastern Canada were returned in their home ridings. Early returns from the West made it clear Mr. Diefenbaker's six other cabinet colleagues would be personally elected in their Western ridings.

SOME WINNERS
Coast to coast the Liberals retained some of their prominent figures but lost others. Former Liberal immigration minister J. W. Pickersgill held Bonavista-Twillingate, and the other four Liberal-held ridings in Newfoundland also held firm.

Former health minister Paul Martin, who unsuccessfully sought the Liberal leadership last January, was re-elected in Ontario's Essex East riding. Quebec Liberals Jean Lesage, former resources minister, and Lionel Chevrier, former privy council president, were returned in Montmagy-Lislet and Montclair Laurier. But former Liberal transport minister George Martlet went down before Conservative A. Ross Webster in Montreal-St. Antoine-Westmount.

MANITOBA SWEEP
All 14 of Manitoba's seats went Conservative as five CCF-held seats and one held by a Liberal toppled. Among the CCF losers was Stanley Knowles, the party's deputy leader and major parliamentary spokesman on most matters, who lost his Winnipeg North Centre riding.

The Conservatives captured all 17 seats in Alberta and all but one of Saskatchewan's 17. Former Liberal agriculture minister James G. Gardiner, 74, went down in the Conservative rout on the Prairies—his first personal defeat in a string of federal and Saskatchewan elections going back to 1914. He lost his Melville, Sask., seat to Conservative James Ormiston.

Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, only living former Conservative prime minister, was one of the first public figures to recognize the development of a Conservative landslide.

THANKS FAIR SUPPORTERS

This smiling group of ladies held in the Community Centre last night. Starting early in the evening the party continued until almost 11:30. Party stalwarts from the Capital and many of the outlying districts of Queens, were on hand to cheer the nation-wide victory and pay their respects to their successful candidates, Hon. Angus MacLean, Minister of Fisheries, and his colleague, Mr. Macquarrie.

Voters In Maritimes Again Showed Way For Country

By Dal Warrington
HALIFAX. — (CP) — Maritime voters showed the way again in Monday's Federal election.

The sweep was complete when Inverness-Richmond fell to the Conservatives by a narrow margin after seasawing for hours. Conservatives stole two seats from the Liberals in New Brunswick. W. L. M. Creaghan defeated Henry J. Murphy in Westmorland and R. D. Caldwell Stewart downed A. Wesley Stuart in Charlotte. Both Liberals were members of the last House. The ridings had been Liberal for 23 years.

They won seven seats to the Liberals' three, the greatest Conservative victory in that Province since the 1930 Bennett victory.

There were no switches in Prince Edward Island. There the Diefenbaker forces re-elected a full slate of four.

In Newfoundland the situation also remained unchanged — Conservatives in the two St. John's seats, Liberals in the remaining five — but Liberal majorities were reduced.

All the Atlantic region's four Cabinet Ministers won easy re-election. Revenue Minister Nowlan, 59, was an early winner in Digby-Annapolis-Kings. Veterans Minister Brooks, 67, was returned in Saint John-Albert and Fisheries Minister MacLean, 43, in Queens.

Newfoundland's Minister without portfolio, William J. Browne, 60, was re-elected in St. John's West.

J. W. Pickersgill, former Liberal Immigration Minister, won with a reduced majority in Bonavista-Twillingate.

SURPRISED BY LARGE MAJORITIES

Fisheries Minister J. Angus MacLean and Mrs. MacLean examine the election results as they come over the wire at the Guardian news room last night. Mr. MacLean was naturally pleased with the results. He said however that he was surprised at the large majorities piled up by the island candidates. The Fisheries Minister noted that it was not unexpected that the electorate would return a minority Government "to give them a chance to see that they could do during the next four years."

Special Service Begins In Local Baptist Church

Special Holy Week Services commenced last evening in the Charlottetown Baptist Church with the Reverend Keith Hobson, pastor of the Summerside Baptist Church, as Guest Preacher.

In introducing Mr. Hobson, Rev. H. L. Mitton referred to him as a gifted expositor of the Scriptures and a capable exponent of great doctrines of the Christian Faith.

Mr. Hobson, a native of England, began his Lenten messages last evening by taking for his subject, "Christ, Our Mediator."

After setting forth man's apartness from God, and pointing out the necessity for mediation, Mr. Hobson extolled Jesus Christ as the only One who fully mediates God to man, and man to God.

The Senior Choir, under the direction of Mrs. V. L. Dingwall rendered the selection, "There Is A Green Hill Far Away."

The Holy Week Services continue this evening in the Charlottetown Baptist Church at 7:30 at which time Mr. Hobson will speak on the subject, "Christ, Our Sacrifice." The general public is welcomed.

Deputy C.C.F. Leader Loses

WINNIPEG (CP) — Stanley Knowles, deputy leader of the CCF, was defeated in Winnipeg North Centre Monday by Progressive Conservative John MacLean. Mr. Knowles had held the seat since 1942 when he won in a by-election.

Session In Mid-May Is Predicted

OTTAWA (CP)—Works Minister Howard Green said Monday night the Commons likely will be convened about mid-May.

MORE
Mr. Green noted that Parliament now is formally scheduled to meet May 5.

However, this date was set when Parliament was dissolved Feb. 1 and was only a tentative one.

Mr. Green, speaking on a live national CBC television broadcast from Vancouver, said it now appears Parliament will be called about the middle of May.

He said all government departments are behind in their work. He himself would leave for the capital today.

BIG POWERS
The five permanent members of the UN Security Council are the United States, Russia, Britain, France and China.

Most Spectacular

With half the country's polls reported, the Progressive Conservatives had amassed 53 per cent of the popular vote. The Liberals, whose share of the vote slightly exceeded the Conservatives' in 1957, had 39 per cent, the CCF 6 and others 2.

Mr. Diefenbaker, who called the national returns "stupefying," promised to call Parliament into session at the "earliest possible time," with unemployment the first major matter for consideration. He won personal victory in Prince Albert, Sask.

Unemployment was the major issue in the hard-fought seven-week campaign.

Mr. Diefenbaker's major election promise was to undertake a big program of national development aimed principally at opening the resources of the north through roads and railways.

For the 19th time since Confederation, Quebec was a dominant factor in the national picture. Almost from the start it seemed certain the Diefenbaker forces would capture a majority of the province's seats—for the first time since 1887.

They picked up two New Brunswick seats from Lester B. Pearson's Liberals and gained two more Liberal ridings in Nova Scotia for a clean sweep of that province's 12 seats.

In Ontario the Conservatives knocked off a half-dozen Liberals to continue the sweep that took place in the June 10, 1957, election.

Enthusiastic Reception For Dr. Phillips At Alberton

The successful Prince County Conservative Member, Dr. O. H. Phillips, was accorded an enthusiastic reception from an excited throng of over 500 supporters at the Alberton Institute Hall last night. The hall was jammed to capacity early in the evening as the crowd assembled to receive the election results on a television set installed for the occasion and to await the arrival of Dr. Phillips.

Dr. and Mrs. Phillips received a tremendous ovation from the crowd as they made their way into the hall about eleven o'clock.

In a short address the re-elected member blamed his late arrival on a traffic jam at a reception in his honour at Summerside. He extended sincere appreciation to the workers and electors for the largest majority given any member in Prince County.

Mrs. Graham Bennett presented a bouquet of roses to Mrs. Phillips on behalf of the Progressive Conservative Women's Association.

Following a short address of congratulations by Dr. George Dewar, M. L. A., the remainder of the evening was spent in music and dancing.
